

Uni Theatre Play to Deal With Attempts of Mother To Marry Off Daughters

University coeds will be particularly interested in the new University Theatre play, "Seven Sisters." It is the story of a Mrs. Gyerkovics, mother of seven beautiful daughters, and her attempts to marry each of the daughters to an eligible man.

The setting for the play is Hungary and the country's tradition that the oldest daughters must have had at least a proposal before their younger sisters may marry, complicates the plot. The story is built around the tricks which the mother uses to get things accomplished in the proper way.

Many amusing situations arise as the mother and younger daughters attempt to find eligible men to play for their unfortunate older sisters. The military costumes add a colorful atmosphere to the comedy.

The following is a tentative cast for "Seven Sisters."

Jo Weaver Mrs. Gyerkovics
Betty Cox Katinka
Carlene Hohensee Ella
Martha Anne Bengston Sari
Jean Racine Liza
Rosemary Owen Klara
Maribel Hitchcock Mitzi
Bernard Swartz Gido
Terry Fuller Horkoy
Dale Burleigh Sandorffy
Harold Margulies Janko
Jack Donley Tony

WSSF Heads Name Drive Chairmen

Committee chairmen for the World Student Service Fund have been announced by Jean Christie and Hugh Wilkins, co-chairmen. Many of the committees have been functioning and the others will begin their work immediately.

Sponsors of the drive are Miss Mary Lockett, YWCA secretary, and Gerald Kendall. Faculty sponsors are Dr. Dean Worchester, Miss Levey Hill and Dr. C. A. Forbes.

Committee chairmen are: Frances Keefer, sororities; Dave Walcott, fraternities; Flavia Sharp, women's activities; Walt Rundin, men's activities; Janet Curley, women's residence halls; Dorothy Anderson and John Soutter, ag; Agnes Bergstrom, church organizations; Arthur Garbers, unaffiliated men; Helen Kelley, publicity; Virginia Stuermer, secretary; Dick Johnson, liaison.

Organizations which have been contacted so far in the drive have responded very well. Tassels has given $50 and WAA $25.

Induction Center Contributions Due in Today

Any contributions for the new induction center at Fort Crook which have not been turned in to the Student Defense Council should be in by noon today at the very latest.

Contributions should be taken to the Union and money left at the main desk. All the contributions will be trucked to Omaha Saturday where they will be taken out to the camp to furnish the new induction center.

On Ag Campus... Ag Sheep Barn, Poultry Farm Open Easter Day

If you are going to stay here in Lincoln over Easter, an interesting hour could be spent Easter afternoon watching the young lambs and baby chicks at the ag college. For the fifth year, the sheep barn and the poultry farm have been open to the public on Easter afternoon.

Guides will be there to answer the questions that arise. M. A. Alexander, assistant professor of animal husbandry, said that there would be about 175 lambs, including many sets of twins on exhibition at the sheep barn. Five breeds will be shown. Provisions have been made for old lady weather in case she decides to dampen the ground a bit... signs will be posted warning drivers of muddy roads near the sheep barn.

The poultry exhibits will include hundreds of baby chicks, some turkey poults and rabbits. There will also be a special bunch of colored Easter chicks. Poultry production and management exhibits will include an incubator, an egg display, battery brooding, several types of brooder houses, and dressed poultry. The poultry exhibits will fill eleven houses and pens on the farm, it was reported.

Alexander stated that everyone is invited to see the exhibits. Time for open house will be 1 p. m. to 4:30. To give you an idea of the popularity of the showings... last year several hundred in fact, 2,500 people jammed the grounds to the lambs and chicks... it's a good way to spend Easter afternoon.

ROTC Corps Participates In Army Parade Monday

With first call at 3:50 p. m., the university ROTC corps will march in collaboration with the Army Air Corps and the local post of the American Legion through the business section of Lincoln on Army Day, Monday, April 6, 1942.

Sponsored by the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, the parade will include all three regiments of the university ROTC, who will report for first call at 3:50, be assembled by 4:00, and be ready to move forward on signal. All cadets are asked to report in their present uniform, except Pershing Rifles who will wear white shirts. All cadet officers will wear yellow gloves. No weapons, including rifles, sabers or automotive vehicles, will be carried or used in the parade.

General assembly will be on the quadrangle between the Teachers college and Andrews Hall, under the direction of Lieutenant Colonel L. D. Zech, infantry. The corps of cadets will form in the assembly area and will move by marching to the initial point at 16th and O streets, where the parade will begin at 4:30. The brigade colonel and his staff will form at the southeast corner of the quadrangle, directly behind which will be the regimental band.

Junior Company Forms.

Behind the band, the Junior company will be formed with the Pershing Rifle company, and following these two units will be the first battalion of infantry companies. In the northeast corner of the quadrangle, the second battalion of infantry companies will be formed, with the third battalion directly behind it.

Directly north of the second infantry battalion, between the drive and Andrews Hall, the Field Artillery unit will be formed, with the second battalion of artillery closely stationed behind the first. Directly south of the junior company and the first infantry battalion, between the drive and the new library,

(See ROTC, page 4)

War Lecture Date Moved To Tuesday

Dean Bengston.

Lecturing on Latin-American Hemisphere Defense in the World War II series Tuesday will be Neils A. Bengston, dean of the junior division and professor of geography.

The usual Monday meeting has been postponed to Tuesday at 5 p. m. in the Union ballroom, due to the military parade on that day.

Wahlstrom Wins Judging Contest at Ag

Freshman Cops Places In Three Breeds; 36 Compete in Annual Test

Richard Wahlstrom, freshman animal husbandry student, became the 1942 champion of the annual student dairy cattle judging contest when he topped places in three of the four breeds represented. Results were announced yesterday.

Thirty-six competed in the event, which was open to any student without experience in intercollegiate dairy cattle judging contest. Wahlstrom scored 1,097 out of a possible 1,200 points. Henry Epp was second with 1,070 points and Duane Hunter third.

Summary of results:

Judging all breeds: First, Richard Wahlstrom; second, Henry Epp; third, Duane Hunter; fourth, LaVerne Curry; fifth, Robert Meade; sixth, Don Roth; seventh, Farris Hubbert; eighth, William Smith; ninth, Millard Eckes; tenth, Eldon Root; Holmesville.

(See CONTEST, page 2)

Seniors Order Within 5 Days

Only five days remain in which seniors may file orders for their announcements, according to Jack Stewart, senior class president. Orders for the announcements must be placed at the Co-op or the Nebraska book stores by Thursday, April 7.

Klub Revises Cast For '42 Spring Show

Having announced "Pott Shots" as the new name of the Kosmet Klub spring show yesterday, Walt Rundin, president of the Klub, revealed today a revised cast resulting in four major changes.

The part of Millie, the Mata Hari-type campus oomph girl, will be taken by University Theatre veteran, Max Whittaker; Fred Voigt will be "Scarface" Rasputin, the football coach at Wallop university who loses his wallop; Millard Cluck, a PBK and a former member of the UN track team, will be one of the loony professors; and Robert Black another Uni Theater vet, will act as President Updike.

Prof. L. A. Martin, director of the play, reported yesterday that rehearsals were progressing satisfactorily with one of the "best and most spirited" cast ever collected for a Kosmet Klub spring show.

Have Good Songs.

The prize offered for the best song written for the show has not been given yet although half a dozen unusually good songs have been turned in, Rundin said.

Bert Smith, business manager of the Klub, announced that tickets will probably go on sale early next week. Sales will be handled by workers and their staffs.

Workers are Bob Miller, Bob Henderson, Jack Higgins, Tom Drummond, Paul Toren, Leonard Lewis, Dan Schmitt, Alan Jacobs, Charles Drake, Bill Schaumburg, Cliff Bloom and Wendell Snocker.

Originally named "Football Crazy," this year's Kosmet Klub production is written by Bob Aldrich and contains, besides the re-cast characters, a complete pony chorus.

Union Schedule Changes Sunday

In order that employees may attend church and meal schedules still be kept as usual there will be a change in the Student Union schedule Easter Sunday. The cafeteria will maintain regular hours all day Sunday, opening at 11:45 as usual. The Corn Crib will open at 3 p. m. instead of 10 a. m. and will remain open until 10:30 p. m. However, the building will open at 10 a. m. as usual.

The regular schedule will be followed all day Saturday.

Debate Team Ends Season Tomorrow

UN debaters will meet the College of Pacific debate team in the final public debate of the season Friday evening at 7:30 in Temple room 201.

Question for debate is: "Resolved: that the democracies should form a federation to establish and maintain the eight Church-Roosevelt principals."

On its way to attend a national debate tournament, the College of Pacific recently won third place honors in the Pacific Coast Forensic League which includes the University of Southern California, Stanford, University of California at Los Angeles and several other large universities.

Nebraska's team will consist of Bill Rist, sophomore, who has won several honors in extemporaneous speaking this year and Bert Smith, senior, who received a superior rating in discussion at the Rocky Mountain Speech Conference.

Lasting only one hour, the debate will begin at 7:30 promptly. The public is invited.

Union Opens Brainstormers' Quiz Series to All Students

For the first time all restrictions as to entrants in the annual Brainstormers' Quiz, sponsored by the Student Union competitive games committee, have been lifted. The series of contests, after the style of "Information Please," are opened to all students.

To take place during the month of April, the quiz will cover questions on current events, art, geography, and general knowledge. Three students will constitute a team, and teams may register at the Union checkstand until April 8, after which registration will be closed.

Quizzes will be conducted round-robin fashion, the final two teams to compete Sunday, April 26. Members of the winning team will each receive $5 in defense stamps, while the runner-ups will be given $2.50 apiece by the Union.

Team members will be allowed to consult with each other before agreeing on the correct answer, tripling each team's chances. In addition to the grand prizes to the winning teams, the Union offers $2 in defense stamps for the best question submitted to the Union office.