In US Navy . . . Insufficient Mathematics Cause 37 pc. Rejections

Among 8,000 college graduates applying for training as ensigns in the United States Navy (V-7), some 37½ percent had to be rejected because of insufficient college mathematics.

This statement was made by Admiral C. W. Nimmitz, commander of the Pacific Fleet and former Chief of the Bureau of Navigation at Washington in the February issue of "The Mathematics Teacher." Yesterday the and continue west on "O", past the reviewing stand in front of the city hall, and turn north on 9th and O streets, and continue back to Nebraska Hall. Companies and battalions will march in mass formation so as to establish a front of 12 files. The cadets will start off on time in proper formation co-ordinating the movement with the Air Corps Detachment which will precede it.

This is the first time that the university has participated in a parade other than those held in the spring and fall of each year, according to the military department. The celebration is in commemoration of the day in which we entered the last World war.

Daily presented the student's view in regard to college math. Today it presents the United States Navy's opinion.

Seventy-five percent of the failures in the Naval Reserve Officers' Training Program (V-7) must be attributed to lack of adequate knowledge of mathematics.

"Lack of fundamental education presented and continues to present a major obstacle in the selection and training of midshipmen for commissioning as ensigns," stated the commander.

Distribution Plays Part.

Geographical distribution seems to play an important part too. A study of grades on the Navy examinations given to candidates for enlistment showed that the lowest average mark in arithmetic east of the Mississippi was equal to the highest average mark west of the Mississippi.

In 27 leading universities and colleges in the United States there were 4,200 entering freshmen who wished to enter the Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps. Only 23 percent of this number or 966 men had taken more than a year and a half of high school mathematics.

'Dad' Elliott Completes Holy Services

Dr. A. J. Elliott of Chicago has been on the Nebraska campus this past week visiting the Westminster Presbyterian Student Foundation.

Dr. Elliott, who has been affectionately known as "Dad" Elliott since his university days at Northwestern, has been leading a series of morning meditations at the Presbyterian Student Center.

In his final Holy Week meditation Dr. Elliott stated that the fundamental truth is that men are created to live in harmony and oneness with God, and that the roots of this truth are to be found in the life, death and resurrection of Jesus Christ.

He declared that a person today must pass from intellectual devotion to the point of making an unconditional surrender to God. Man was created with a will to choose right from wrong, and he was placed in a world in which he might use that freedom of choice to grow into full harmony with his God.

"Dad" Elliott concluded a successful week on this campus with his address yesterday morning. During his stay, he has helped many students in their spiritual problems not only in these morning services, but also in personal conferences and discussions.

By the way, some long-due credit must at last fall to Jerry Todd. It seems he gave the university a beautiful metal meteorite 'way last year, and no one knows that it is, or was, his beautiful metal meteorite. Our appreciation, Jerry.

Working long and hard these days, too hard to suit some tastes, are Polly Petty, Alpha Phi, and Ronny Metz, Sigma Chi, who are no doubt fascinated by the excellency of the Student Foundation?

Last note today covers the proposed plan of two Kappas who are really serious about this physical fitness business. Not only are Jane Chambers and Kay Tunison seen exhaustedly coking at the drug every day after bicycling here and yon over the campus, but are thinking of peddling to Omaha, a neat little distance from here, even farther than the Turnpike. . . . Pooh, pooh, we're through. How about you?

It's ADVENTUROUSING! We mean of course, that socko action picture at the STUART, "TO THE SHORES OF TRIPOLI" starring John Payne, Maureen O'Hara and Randolph Scott. It's recommended for Easter weekend!—Adv.

the Engineer unit will be formed, with all four companies stationed closely behind each other.

Order of march will be the Brigade Colonel and staff, band, Junior Company, Pershing Rifles, Infantry Unit, Engineer Unit, and the Field Artillery Unit. All guidons and streamers won at the last annual competition will be carried in the parade.

Colors will be carried uncased if weather permits. Determination of whether they will be cased or uncased will be made by the Brigade Color Bearer. Other color bearers will conform with the Brigade Color Bearer.

The parade will start from the initial point at 16th and O streets

Arrives spring, picnics, and, last but not least, the annual Easter parade home to recupe from said spring, picnics, and campus Easter celebration. Leading the parade home in time as well as . . . is Kappa June Jamieson who is spending the weekend in Scottsbluff. . . . To see Phi Psi Selzer or to visit Bobby Stoops? And Theta M. A. Cochran is invited to one of those house parties at roommate Phyllis Yost's house in Grand Island. Also invited are their respective steadies, Duane Schmeckle and Jim Stillwell. The girls have agreed to exchange everything else during the holiday except their bf's.

Beta Dick Peters is happily cutting classes to journey home to Omaha where he will royally entertain Mary Ann Donahoe who ordinarily resides in Chicago. On a train that passed last night went Phi Psi Johnny Cook to Chicago to greet his DG sister of not so long ago, Jane Cook. About the other attraction, well . . .

Callaway calls Nancy Haycock, Pi Phi, home and it develops that tagging along to enjoy her home cooking will be her partner of pins, Delt Max Whittaker. Also deserting the campus for a weekend of fun in Omaha is Lu Stepiak, AOPi, who has been and will be seen with former UN-man, now coast guard-man, Don Rogers.

She's New Prexy.

Along the way home, incidentally, go congrats to Kay Hanley, new president of the AOPi house, and we were also mighty glad to hear that Jerry White had pledged DU. A spring bouquet to both.

Speaking of spring bouquets, Bill Meace gave Janet Curley of AWS and Carrie Belle fame, a fond remembrance indeed when he hung a sweetheart DeMolay pin last Wednesday night. To the dorm this week goes steady honors what with Marg Mattson finally settling down to exclusive
