

UN Library Releases List Of 11 New Books for May

Since the entrance of the United States into the war, books of all kinds have flooded the market. The UN library has released the following list of new books that are available at the library:

The Panama Canal in Peace and War, by Norman J. Padelford.

The canal is a focal point of national defense, a base of operations for the protection of the hemisphere, an instrument of national influence. This book brings together within convenient compass a store of facts and figures that might be obtained otherwise only by mining dreary government reports.

Inagua: which is the name of a very lonely and nearly forgotten island, by Gilbert C. Klingel.

The author, an American naturalist, was shipwrecked on this island on the outer fringes of the Bahamas and remained for a time to carry on scientific work. His account contains much interesting comment on the natives.

The Japanese enemy, his power and his vulnerability, by Hugh Byas.

The mind of Japan is the unknown country wherein the war for the Pacific was hatched. The author has studied this mind for years as a correspondent in Tokio.

Air Base, by Boone T. Guyton.

This is a description of what goes on at an air base, by a test pilot for Vought-Sikorsky Aircraft.

War in the Air, September 1939-May 1941, by David Garnett.

A critical survey of the development of the air war in all its branches from the time of the conquest of Poland to May 1941.

Ireland, past and present, by Tom Ireland.

This covers the Emerald Isle from the days of Saint Patrick to the present.

God's back pastures, by Arthur W. Hewitt.

This book is another testament of its author's love of the church in country places and his invincible faith that here the minister finds his greatest opportunity and the church its most promising field.

Let there be mercy. The Odyssey of a Red Cross Man, by John Maloney.

This gives the reader an idea of the hardships and suffering that the little people of Europe were forced to endure through the first eighteen months of Hitler's war.

What the citizen should know about the marines, by John H. Craigie.

Outlines the organization and duties of the United States Marine Corps. A mass of material is set before the reader in clear and stimulating detail.

Wings of Defense, by Burr W. Leyson.

With authority and clarity Captain Leyson here sets down the total picture of America's war planes and her growing system of aerial warfare.

All out on the road to Smolensk, by Erskine Caldwell.

An eye witness story of Russia at war with Germany.

Senior Musical Student Gives Recital May 7

The university school of fine arts will present Janet Steckelberg in a recital at the Temple theatre Thursday, May 7.

Other music events including the annual performance of student soloists with the university orchestra, the annual music scholarship contest and an All-State music course for high school students will be held at a later date in the Temple theatre and the Union.

Mount Holyoke's recent junior show spent three hours trying to prove that a tax on college girls' brains would net the government no revenue.

Snooping Around

News and Views from Other Colleges

Gus Stubbs, of the Loyola Maroon's exchange desk, seems to have a nose for news and stuff—especially stuff. For his column last Thursday, he nosed out the following.

Blues In Berlin.
My fuehrer done told me,
When I was in Munich,
My fuehrer done told me,
Hans . . .
A Russian will fall back,
And give you the east front,
But when the winter snows come,
A Russian's a two-face,
A worrisome thing, who leaves
you to sing,
The Blues in Berlin.

From Smolensk to Moscow,
From Kiev to Lubin,
Wherever the panzers go,
I've taken some big towns,
And made me some big talk,
But there's one thing I know,
A Russian's a two-face,
A worrisome thing, who leaves
you to sing,
The Blues in Berlin.

—From Daily Kansan.

Cornhusker Hits Campus On May 10

The date that everyone on the campus is waiting for will be here soon. No it's not the final day of school. It's the long awaited date for the presentation of the 1942 Cornhusker.

Shirley Russel, editor of the Cornhusker, announced Tuesday that the 1942 edition of the university annual will be off the press and in the hands of students, May 10. That is, if Uncle Sam's priorities do not hold up the productive line of the annual. Because of the numerous engravings that feature the 1942 edition of the Cornhusker printing and binding has been slowed up.

International Dancer Presents Program Here

Elizabeth Burchenal, internationally known performer in America at folk dancing, will be presented in a recital this week end by the Nebraska State Physical Education association.

Scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Friday in Grant Memorial hall and 9 a. m. Saturday in the Union ballroom, the program will cost $1 for both presentations or 50 cents for one. Elizabeth Burchenal is from the Folk Art Center of New York City.

Red Guidon Fetes Federal ROTC Officers

Red Guidon, field artillery military science society, entertained federal ROTC officers in Lincoln for the annual inspection at a dinner in the Union last night.

With Cadet Capt. Gerald Beatie as toastmaster, 75 advanced military students heard Col. Ray-

Don Lentz Heads Clinic On Music at Rapid City

Don A. Lentz, conductor of the University band, will go to Rapid City, South Dakota Saturday, May 2, to conduct a band and orchestra clinic.

mond W. Briggs, seventh corps area ROTC officer from Omaha, Col. Charles A. Thuis of the University of Nebraska, and Lieut-Col. J. A. Chase, field artillery instructor at the University of Missouri speak.

WHITE

Is Right For Ivy Day!

Doris Dodson
ORIGINALS FOR JUNIORS

"Rose O'Day"
There's a bit of Irish flattery in this frock of Dobby Tamiami charmingly accented with Irish crochet. Flattery, too, in its tiny set-in belt and deep convertible collar. White only. Sizes 11-17.

$6.50

"Cool Glamour"

Planned for flattery . . . this lace-edged dress of white waffle pique with the new moulded bodice above a flaring skirt that looks so cute on figures which slip into sizes 9-15. White only.

7.95

Kampus Korner
GOLD'S—Third Floor

LOCALLY OWNED • LOCALLY CONTROLLED
GOLD & CO.
WE GIVE S & H GREEN STAMPS

THE TOM-TOM MOC

It's 1942's version of the famous Indian Moccasin. Made of famous Timber Tanned Calf, it is soft, mellow and exceptionally comfortable. $7.95

Taylor-Made
SHOE

Exclusive with
MAGEE'S