

Victory Bell Summons Students To First Rally of Year Tonight

The Daily

Nebraskan

UNIVERSITY OF NEBR.
LIBRARY

OCT 2 1942

PERIODICAL
ROOM

Vol. 42, No. 10

Lincoln, Nebraska.

Friday, October 2, 1942

Nine Greek Women Compete For Husker Pep Queen Title

Nine affiliated women have filed as candidates for Pep Queen elected by party-goers at the Homecoming dance in the Coliseum, Oct. 10.

In former years, the pep queen battle was divided between affiliated and unaffiliated girls, but this year only sorority women will run for the honor. Filings closed at 5 p. m. yesterday with an unusually large number appearing.

The Homecoming dance is sponsored by a joint committee of Tassels and Corn Cobs, headed by Janet Hemphill, last year's pep queen, and Jack Hogan. Plans indicate that the party will be different from dances of other years, with the usual "unusual" presentation planned for the winner of the competition.

Coeds filing for pep queen are Natalie Newman, Gamma Phi Beta; Pollyann Petty, Alpha Phi; Connie McCauley, Chi Omega; Flora Heck, Alpha Xi Delta; Barbara True, Delta Delta Delta; Helen Johnson, Delta Gamma; Peggy Lemon, Kappa Alpha Theta; Jeanne Browne, Kappa Kappa Gamma, and Betty Bonebright, Alpha Omicron Pi.

Directory Release Set For October 21

... Douglass Edits Guide

Student Directory, annual publication of the university Y. M. C. A., containing the names, addresses and telephone numbers of each student and member of the faculty, will be released the third week in October, according to John J. Douglass, editor and publisher.

Each person listed in the directory

Daily Publishes Complete List Of Activities

Inside today's Nebraskan, on pages 4 and 5, will be found a complete calendar for the school year of 1942-43. This was compiled from the calendar sent out by the Dean of Women and school administration.

Included on the calendar are a list of the entire school's activities as nearly correct as is now known. Daily editor Bob Schlater has suggested that this calendar would be useful to keep track of all events thruout the year.

Foreign Students Now Register Here

... For Graduate Work

Altho registration for the UN graduate college will not be completed until Saturday, already several graduate students from foreign countries have enrolled for the coming semester.

Approximately a half dozen American-Japanese have transferred their graduate work to this university. Registration will continue until Saturday noon; college officials declined to comment until the registering is completed.

The students from foreign countries are somewhat fewer than in prior years. Francisco Milla, a graduate of the University of Honduras, is here to study diplomacy. From the University of Puerto Rico comes Ovido Garcia-Mollinaria, who will continue his study of botany.

Kenneth Thompson, who has worked as a missionary in India, is a graduate assistant this year in teachers college. Margaret Blue, who attended high school in India, is taking graduate work. Harold Fugli, an evacuee of Japanese extraction from Hawaii, is enrolled here this semester.

Assisting Douglass on the publication is George Blackstone.

Daily Introduces Women's Section

Newly established to inform coeds of women's activities on the campus, is the Women's Page, edited by Helen Goodwin, assisted by June Jamieson, make-up editor, and Pat Chamberlin and Pat Catlin, copy editors.

Band Prepares For Cyclone-Husker Game

With only 54 former members back out of 120, the university band is hard at work preparing for their first appearance this Saturday at the Husker-Cyclone game.

There will be no particular theme this time, according to Don Lentz, just the basic military maneuvers and a special novelty concert number, "Maria, Mari!" written by Eduardo di Capua.

Huskers Assemble In Front of Union

All set to give the 1942 Cornhusker football team an exhibit of loyal school spirit and enthusiasm is the entire student body as it anxiously awaits the first rally of the year.

That old Husker victory bell will start ringing promptly at 7 o'clock tonight in front of the Union to summon students together for the start of the rally. From that point the rally will assume the same route of march as in previous years, proceeding down R to 16th, then north to Vine, and then to the stadium.

Christeansen Gives Lecture Today at 4:30

Students, faculty, and the general public are invited to hear a lecture by Dr. Leo M. Christeansen, director of the state chemistry project, this afternoon at 4:30 in room 118, Bessey hall.

The lecture, which was scheduled for the department of bacteriology seminar course, was opened to the public because of the wide interest in Dr. Christeansen's field. He will discuss historical aspects of industrial microbiology, which is the production of chemicals and enzymes by yeasts, molds and bacteria.

The seminar will be devoted to this subject thruout the semester.

Busy for the last week on plans for this first rally of the season, Corn Cobs and Tassels, men and women's pep organizations will make a pre-rally tour of all organized houses at dinner time tonight, announced Frank White, president of Corn Cobs. Leading the parade will be the varsity band and Jack Hogan, yell king, with his corps of cheer leaders will lead the parade to the stadium.

Speak for Team.

Coaches Glen Presnell and Elmer Holm and game captain Vic Schliech will represent the team in addressing the crowd at the stadium tonight.

In charge of the rally activities are Franklin White and Jean Christie, respective presidents of Corn Cobs and Tassels.

In order to end the rally before all-university church night begins, organized houses are urged to start dinner early tonight.

Old Linden Tree Guards Plaque Dedicated To Poet-Thinker Schiller

BY BILL PALMER.

In the north of the old library grows a Linden tree which has perhaps as colorful a background as any landmark on the campus. Around the tree is an iron fence with a plaque on which is inscribed in German: "To the Great Poet and Thinker Friedrich Johann Schiller, Dedicated on May 9, 1905. Planted by Prof. Lawrence Fossler, Head of the department of Germanic Languages."

Several members of the faculty state that the original plaque was stolen by a student during the first World war when feeling ran high against all that was Germanic and that the present plaque was put up several years after the war by Dr. Fred Morrow Fling, former professor of European history who died in 1934. Fling, a long time friend of Fossler's, made the plaque in commemoration of Fossler's work at the university as well as that of Schiller, it is said.

Several years ago, an alumnus of the school said that he knew where the stolen plaque was and thought he could obtain it. However, the dean of the college in which the alleged thief was a student asserts that the plaque by the tree is the original; so the alumnus was never contacted concerning the supposedly stolen one.

Without doubt the Linden tree within the fence is not the one originally planted. Brought from the famous Unter Den Linden Avenue in Berlin the first planting died as it was not adaptable to the Nebraska climate and was replaced by a native Linden tree.

Schiller, whom Fossler admired and quoted extensively in his classes, was a German poet, dramatist and philosopher who lived from 1759 until 1805. He neither wrote nor spoke on international politics or Germanic expansion. Anti-German feeling was so high among students during the World war, however, that elsewhere in the state German professors' of-

(See SCHILLER, page 2)

University Theatre Group... Martha Bengston, Bernard Swartz Head New Board

The student governing board for the extra-curricular theater activities was chosen at a meeting in the Temple building yesterday. Martha Bengston, student business manager and Bernard Schwartz, student technical director, will head the board. The other members are as follows: Helen Kiesselback, Bill Palmer, Romulo Soldevilla, Bob Black and Mabel Jean Schmeer.

Mr. Zimmerman outlined the activities for the coming year and explained eligibility requirements. The activities were divided into three groups: university series, studio series and Union series.

The university series requires at least a sophomore standing to be eligible and commercial plays will be produced, among which "Arsenic and Old Lace" is named. Tryouts for this series will be held on Tuesday and Wednesday evenings of next week.

Produces Classics.

The studio theater will produce four classical plays, thruout the year, which will be open to the public free of charge. The leads will be chosen mainly from the acting classes. However, freshmen and sophomores who are seriously interested will be given an opportunity to try out. For this series there will be no eligibility requirements. Studio theater tryouts, open to all, will be held week after next. The exact times will be posted on the bulletin board in (See THEATRE, page 2)

Nebraska Student Foundation Seeks Service Workers

Wanted: Men and women for the Nebraska student foundation.

Pay: Only the realization that you are aiding the university.

Apply: In person by interview on appointment within the next week at room 309 in the

Fuel Shortage Will Not Affect UN Students

Fuel shortages due to the war will not affect the comfort of students in UN buildings this winter, reports L. F. Seaton, operating superintendent of the university.

Coal shipments since April have been continually filling up all available storage bins. If the coal contracts continue to be filled, UN lovers of warm classrooms have nothing to worry about—this year anyway.

More fuel was purchased this year because of the new buildings. Heating for the new library, field-house, Foods and Nutrition building, and the numerous other campus edifices will begin as soon as cold weather sets in.

At present university officials plan to keep the temperature of buildings the same as past years. However if the federal government puts temperature regulations in effect, university students, profs, and officials may have to wear coats in classes this winter.