

Xi Psi Phi Awards First Scholarship

Dental Fraternity Honors James Burlington, Senior Student, at Union Dinner

James Burlington, senior in the college of dentistry, was awarded the first scholarship to be offered by the local chapter of the Xi Psi Phi dental fraternity at a dinner Tuesday night at the Union.

To be presented annually from now on, the $25 scholarship is given by Dr. L. T. Hunt of Lincoln. Dr. Ralph Ireland, chairman of the department of dentistry, acted as toastmaster at the meeting.

DR. F. A. PIERSON

Guest speaker of the evening was Dr. F. A. Pierson, president of the state dental association, whose topic was "dentistry in World War II."

That all students owe it to their country to prepare and equip themselves to the very best of their ability in order that their deferment may be justified was asserted by Dr. Pierson.

"It is expected that all students who can qualify physically will enter the armed forces upon graduation. Those who are physically disqualified for service in the armed forces will be expected to locate in communities where their services will be of the most benefit," added the speaker.

Challenge . . .

On a football field would be a formidable thing indeed. And it would!

Just one more thing, Becker—this annual gridiron classic—if you sniveling, wishy-washy, willy-nilly, excuse-finding Yearbookies accept, will reveal, for the first time, our Masked Marvel, none other than . . . yes, Carton Broderick!

Yours for more sportsmanlike conduct,

THE DAILY STAFF.

Rifles Select All Non-coms For Semester

All non-commissioned officers for the local company of Pershing Rifles have been selected for the coming semester according to an announcement of the executive staff of the company. Men for the positions were selected on a competitive basis and are subject to change at any time, announced Captain Francis Cox, commander of the company.

Positions of first platoon have been announced as Karl Otto, platoon sergeant; Bill Burr; Addis Ward, Harold Fenner, and Bill Milliken squad sergeants of the first, second, and third squads; Bob Barton, Bill Orr, and B. Tangeman corporals of the first, second and third squads.

Second Platoon . . .

Positions of the second platoon have been announced as Gilbert Gillett, platoon sergeant; guide, John Goe; Bob Jo Johnston, sergeant; and John Plentikow, Don Holker, and Casper Theisen, corporals.

Positions for the third platoon have been announced as Bob Robison, platoon sergeant; Victor Michel, guide; Don Lingenfelder, Les Sheihase, and Jack Granger, sergeants; and Madison Burkman, Leonard Finnegan, and John Slothower, corporals.

There will be a meeting tonight at 5 p. m.

Cyclones Search For Added Speed

AMES, Ia., Iowa State, refreshed by a complete football vacation Monday, ran through Tuesday workouts designed to boost Cyclone speed and drive in preparation for the Missouri game Saturday.

Mike Michalske raced the backs and ends in regular sprints, and with a heavy session of punt and pass play. Meanwhile the linemen worked against the charging machine. The entire squad closed the 75-minute workout in a series of sprints.

Missouri offense and defense will occupy the attention of the Cyclones Wednesday as Michalske gives the squad its first taste of scrimmage in a week.

gram could be put into practice on the campus, even if the war committee were not waiting for government action, it would need to be passed first by that committee, then by the administrative council, by the faculty senate, and lastly, by the board of regents. This order of procedure is the usual one for any such proposals affecting the university as a whole, as interpreted by the chancellor, C. S. Boucher, in a recent interview.

That the expression of student opinion for or against the four-year proposal would have great influence on the university's final decision was expressed by the chancellor, Miss Lee, and Dean Clark. However, due to governmental uncertainty on the adoption of an all-around war program, action on any such far-reaching proposals will be postponed until recommendation from Washington.

Casting of Union Series Program Begins in Temple

Castings for the first play in the Union series will start tonight at 7:30 in Temple 201, and will be continued Friday at 3:30. There are no eligibility requirements for the Union series so freshmen as well as upperclassmen are urged to try out.

The play to be presented is a charming sentimental comedy, "Brief Music" by Emmet Lavery. The play carries seven girls through three years of college life at a women's college and each of the roles provides a chance for excellent acting. No men are included in the cast.

WPB Asks 25% Of Typewriters For Government

Requisition of 25 percent of the university's typewriters in accordance with requests of the War Production Board has begun on the campus. L. F. Seaton, purchasing agent, has notified the deans and directors of the various colleges and divisions that such action must be taken.

According to Seaton, there will be 125 fewer typewriters on the city and ag campuses if the requisition quota is filled. Consequently he is asking the deans to see how many typewriters can be spared. No typewriters older than the 1935 models will be taken.

Student War Council Opens All-University Stamp Drive

. . . On Two Campuses

Putting the student war council's latest brainchild into action, members of various UN organizations will begin selling war stamps this morning in four different places on both the city and ag campuses.

The plan is to have a "War Thursday" from today on for the duration and on this day, university students can purchase stamps at booths in the Union, social sciences, mechanical arts and ag hall. The stamps will be in 10c and 25c denominations.

The council's manpower commission with Jacqueline Woodhouse at the head is in charge of supplying salesmen to man the various booths. There will be salesmen on duty from 9 a. m. until 3:40 p. m. with time off between 12:40 and 1:15.

Ag and sosh booths will be under the direction of Rachael Ann Lock, representative from AWS, while the Ma and Union stands will be managed by Morton Zuber, Corn Cob member.

A plan is being formulated to compute percentages based on the number of students buying stamps on each Thursday and the results will be published in the Daily.

Library Display Unravels Origin Of ABC Alphabet

The history of the origin of the alphabet is now shown in the display occupying the showcase in the hall of the third floor of the library building.

The modern alphabet is derived directly from the Latin alphabet which in turn was taken from the Greek alphabet introduced into Greece by the Phoenicians. It is presumed that the Phoenicians copied most of their characters from the Egyptian hieroglyphics.

The showcase also contains illustrations of some of the most prominent early alphabets including the Assyro-Babylonian Cuneiform writing, Egyptian hieroglyphics and other alphabets used by the nations of that period.

Students Hold Matinee Dance at Ag Today

A matinee dance for ag students, sponsored by the Union, will be held today from 5:30 until 6:30 p. m. in the Ag Activities building. Admission is by ident cards. Students may come in couples or stag.
