Don Faurot's Tiger men have tallied 150 points to the enemy's 39 in five starts for an average victory of 30 to 8 per game. Bob Steuber, stellar Tiger halfback, has counted 63 points to head both Big Six and national scorers.

Horse Sense

By Norris Anderson (Sports Editor)

Walter Winchell's continued advice to sports editors provokes the ambition to scribble a column in Broadway columnist style. Take it with a clothespin on the nose.

As printed exclusively three weeks ago in this pillar, and swiped later by you know who, Glen Presnell has switched the Husker lineup drastically last few days. Bouncing Joe Byler, Jivin' Jerry Kathol and Ki-Yi-Yi Eisenhart are up 'mongst 'em once more. Bobby McNutt, another bouncing Husker tackle, was spied last night with a quart (of milk) under his left arm. Really it was milk.

Thingamabobs: The object that covers Jack Hazen's head of late is... a hat. You know who uncovered this three days ago, one hour after Uncle Walt got it. Professor Stork is hovering over the love nest of Slugs McGillicuddy. (He was noted in the ring for looking like Tony Galento's second cousin; his wife was with the 1916 Follies as the rear section of a horse act.)

9 a. m. until 4 p. m.—Zzzzzzz.

5 p. m.—Breakfast (?) and the sweetest letters from Rita Hayworth, Toony Galento, Herbie Hoover, Rita Hayworth, Man Mountain Dean, Rita Hayworth, and Jawn Pesek. All of these interesting folk penned that they simply loved this column and didn't believe a word you-know-who said about you-know-what.

Mr. Winchell is the man who picked the Giants to win the recent National League chase, who tabbed U. C. L. A. as prospective national grid champ, and finally the mug who said all sport scribes were "mugs."

We have full answer to the rah-rah boy's query about the whereabouts of yesterday's intramural story.

Deadline for sports news at the Journal is 8 o'clock, nothing accepted thereafter. Frays last night ran too late for the intramural editor to beat the deadline. A little less time-wasting getting frays under way would insure full day-by-day intramural coverage.

Sooner addenda: Sports editor of the Norman town news organ writes to this corner in warning tones.

"There once was a coach. And that coach was wise. He consistently used a particularly nasty type of psychology to its best advantage. He made the opponents of his football team believe that his team was so easy that the opponents would not prepare themselves, and would not take his team so lightly that the other team would not play its best game. Hye, Snorter."

If the Sooner mentor is publicly depleting his club's chances, he may rest assured that the Huskers won't exploit an air of overconfidence. Shakeup of the squad yesterday by Tutor Presnell only seconded the serious undertone which has enveloped the camp this week.

There's a strong "win or else" theme floating through the Scarlet dressing room.

Sig Alf Team Tips Zips, 7-0 For First Win

BY GENE SHERMAN.

Playing their finest ball of the season, a determined SAE team finally rose to the occasion yesterday by upsetting the previously undefeated Xi Psi Phi nine 7-0.

A pass, Neil McLuhan to Warren Ludi, brought the touchdown for the winner. Jack Wunderlich place kicked the extra point.

In order to stay in the running for the championship in League Four, the Zips must upset the Betas in their coming battle this week.

For 31 minutes it was a scoreless ball game. But during the last minute Voight connected on a pass to Woerth for a touchdown that gave the AGR's a 6-0 decision over the Phi Psi's.

Student Rally Sends Huskers Off To Battle

Off to the races again tonight will be the Nebraska Cornhuskers, with Mentor Glen Presnell in the driver's seat, as they entrain for Norman, Okla.—home of the Sooners.

A gridiron grudge that's been pending on the Cornhusker sports docket since the spat and handle bar mustache regime received part payment last fall when Biff's Boys edged the high-trickety lads. Saturday, the Presnell men contemplate the second vengeful measure.

Rally Sendoff.

Cornhusker fire and spirit, which has survived three defeats by Big Ten clubs, surged last night during a rally. "Lam Luster's Lads" was the theme of the evening and Elmer Holm, line mentor, expressed hope that the Oklahomans be properly "lammed."

Husker game captain, Jerry Kathol, expressed in typical Kathol style, his hope for victory and concluded with a promise to bring back the bacon.

To back their victory claims, the Sooners will field a victory-hungry team that exploded against Kansas last week for its first victory. Top Husker problem is to stop Huel Hamm, who tossed and ran Kansas dizzy last week. All Hamm did was to toss five passes for 137 yards and lead the Sooner ground attack. Ray Evans, the celebrated Jayhawker flipper, could muster only six completions in 22 attempts for 49 yards.

Lamb Stands Out.

Two of the top ends in Big Six territory spark the Sooner line play. Dub Lamb and Jim Tyree are both top defensive wingmen beside being able to field Hamm's flips.

Presnell evidently intends to start Howard Debus instead of Dale Bradley Saturday, so Sooner aerial defenders can count on a busy day. Debus, a bullet passer de lux, hit his stride against Minnesota with three completions in six attempts.

Huskers went thru "brush up" drills on plays yesterday with heavy-duty scrimmage at a minimum. Only too vivid in Presnell's memory is the shortage injuries caused at the outset of the season.

Starting Husker lineup will have Gerry akthol (game captain) and Jack Hazen, ends; Joe Byler and Vic Schleich, tackles; Charlie Duda and Wayne Stranathan, guards; Joe Partington, center; Fred Metheny, quarterback; Al Zikmund and Howard Debus, halfbacks; and Ki Eisenhart, fullback.

Jayhawk Meet Rival Kansans In Annual Fray

LAWRENCE.—In what well might turn out to be the "Victory for the Duration," the University of Kansas Jayhawkers will once more attempt to gain their initial win of the season when they face their traditional rivals, the Kansas State Wildcats, in Manhattan's Memorial stadium Saturday.

This will mark the 40th contest between these two schools. The intra-state struggles were started in 1902 and have been consecutive since that date except for the year 1910. During that time the Jayhawkers have gained a decided edge by copping 23 victories to 13 for the Wildcats with three games being tied.

This margin of the Jayhawkers, however, was gleaned in the first 20 years of the rivalry. Since that time the neighboring Manhattanites have turned the tables and emerged victorious 12 out of 20 times with two contests ending in deadlocks.

Saturday's game will undoubtedly bring back memories of last year's classic struggle which was won by Kansas, 20 to 16. Neither team had an imposing record at game-time and the Wildcats were decided favorites in the betting. But once the game was underway neither the records nor the odds meant a thing. It was a battle-royal from start to finish and probably furnished more excitement than any game in the Valley last year.
