

Huskers Ready For Jays

Byler, Bryant New Varsity Team Members After Change

Offensive sparkler Dale Bradley continued to perform at the varsity left halfback position yesterday as the Huskers went through their final heavy paces prior to the Saturday Big Six fracas with Kansas.

Pass defense again came in for consideration yesterday at Mentor Presnell sought to build a barricade capable of stopping the great Ray Evans. Evans ranks near the top in national passing performances with a percentage close to the .500 mark.

Kansans Busy.

Hip injuries to backs Harlan Altman and Gene Sherwood were the main concern in the Jayhawk camp yesterday. Neither reported for practice and apparently neither will be ready will be available Saturday.

Gwin Henry continued to stress the Jayhawk passing attack. "Our big hope against the stout Nebraska line is a flock of passes," he commented to nearby scribes. Two varsity teams scrimmaged on defense against Nebraska plays, employed by the frosh team.

Ray Evans and Kenny Adams held the first team halfback spots, Hoyt Baker was at quarterback, and Ed Linquist had the fullback call. Long and Musick, guards; Hodges and Johnson, tackles; Bacher and Hardman, ends; and Penny at center were Henry's line choices.

Bryant On Top.

Top Husker promotions brought Bill Bryant and Joe Byler into starting spots against the Jayhawks. Bryant's steady improvement since the opening of the season terminated yesterday when Presnell moved him up to the first string right guard spot over Wayne Stranathan. Bryant will captain the Huskers Saturday.

Huskers will travel on the Missouri Pacific Eagle instead of on the Burlington Zephyr, a change in favor of the war effort.

First team—Hazen and Thompson, ends; Schleich and Byler, tackles; Duda and Bryant, guards; Partington, center; McHenry, quarterback; Bradley and Athey, halfbacks; Eisenhart, fullback.

Second team—Nyden and Kathol, ends; Sinn and McNitt, tackles; Von Goetz and Stranathan, guards; Bachman, center; Cooper, quarterback; Debus and Zirkmund, halfbacks; Hopp, fullback.

Third team—Gewick and Clark, ends; C. Wright and M. Grubaugh, tackles; Hazard and Willins, guards; Hatfield, center; Long, quarterback; McKee and R. Thompson, halfbacks; Hungerford, fullback.

Fourth team—Hewitt and Peters, ends; Kindler and Domeler, tackles; Wilson and A. Grubaugh, guards; Buckley, center; Reichel and G. Wright working with Long and D. Thompson in the backfield.

Phi Gams and Betas Battle For I-M Grid Finals Spot

ATOs and Delta Sigs Will Meet Tonight Also

This evening at 5:30 on the freshman practice field, the four individual league champs will square off in the semi-finals of the 1942 touch football tournament.

Featuring tonight's playoffs will be the meeting of the two favorites, the Phi Gams and Betas. A wide open game is expected since both teams boast of high powered offensive machines. Both clubs ran over more than 100 points during the season.

The other game will bring together two dark horses in the form of the ATO's and Delta Sigs. Although the ATO's are the pregame favorites, much can be expected of the Delta Sigs if they play the same brand of ball they showed the Sig Eps last night.

Huskers View Grid Movies of Sooners

Nebraska's lack of a consistent offensive onslaught and a slightly ailing defense in the Oklahoma game was revealed in a two-hour Sooner-Husker movie shown last night to Husker footballers.

Bright spot of the movie was the amazing individual performances of linemen and their one lightning offensive attack, according to Glen Presnell.

Horse Sense

By Norris Anderson (Sports Editor)

Both pride and neck can be rescued if we announce that the radicalism printed here yesterday was a literary miscarriage from a pen haunted long ago by a passive verb and now pushed by Gene Bradley, curator of Chips.

If any spoiled garbage be tossed this way, kindly direct it instead to the page two pastures where lie the "Chips" of Bradley.

We'll take 'em one at a time—no pointing for Missouri." It's Glen Presnell outlining future Big Six plans for benefit of his charges.

Squad injuries, plus inability of the backfield to muster concerted offensive push, necessitates Presnell's outlook. Another motive is the overconfidence scourge, a disease which found ample cure in the 1916 Jayhawk fracas.

Nebraska rode into that World war 1st battle confidentially expecting to continue their touchdown march. Notre Dame loomed ahead, so did Iowa. Why worry about Kansas?

A press dispatch from the Husker coach to the home news after the game read thusly: "Overconfidence (and Kansas) beat us, 7-3." A 40-yard Husker field goal in the opening quarter gave the Huskers their three points. Ad Lindsey, later head Kansas mentor, kept the Scarlet trotting backwards with his prodigious punting.

Time trips up 26 years and again we have a Jayhawk-Husker mix before us. Kansas is pointing for this one with all the eagerness of a prize setter. But the Huskers also have their noses to the earth.

We have several grid performers who are guaranteed to be fat and sleek. A local cafe tenders free meal tickets for blocked punts, intercepted passes, and recovery of opponents' fumbles.

As alert as a prize English sparrow, Joe Partington has in his possession three healthy meal tickets—and he's a Lincoln man. You'll make that 200 pounds yet, Joe.

Scribe Glen Eckhart of the Kansas State sports sheet mentions Gwin Henry, Jayhawk coach, in his missive.

"Once again after the KU-KS fray, Gwin Henry, Jayhawk coach, throws a Wildeat scalp to the wolves that congregate around his door howling with the footballly ache. Letters from Lawrence say that these wolves won't be appeased this year unless they dine on a couple more victory steaks. Take Nebraska next week, fer instance."
