“KRASHIN” “BI”

AW GEE, COACH CAN I PLAY?

SORRY BUD, WE NEED THIS ONE!

KI IS A FAST AND AGGRESSIVE FULLBACK WHO IS DOING A FINE JOB AS A SOPHOMORE. HE WAS OUT FOR PART OF THE SEASON BECAUSE OF INJURIES.

HIS LINE-BACKING AND LINE-PLUNGING IS COMPARED WITH THE BEST. KI CAN ALWAYS BE COUNTED ON FOR A FEW YARDS WHEN THE GOING GETS TOUGH!

Horse Sense

By Norris Anderson
(Sports Editor)

Our cigar whittles gradually from a big black creature to a moth-eaten snipe. We are at the end of our rope. So isn't Jack Eckhart, sports editor of the Kansas State Collegian.

From Jack's Corona comes this bit of subsidized mayhem: "Speaking of financial situations we'd like to offer a suggestion for post-war Kansas State football. . . . Offer $50 per month athletic scholarships for good football players.

"Disregard the player's home state, find brilliant backs and hard-charging linemen who play football for something besides fun. Make K-State football a business proposition. A good football team is one of the best advertising projects that a college can have.

"They give long-haired fiddle players scholarships to continue their study of good farming methods. If these things are beneficial to the welfare of a college, why wouldn't the football plan work? Four votes for subsidization legally!"

Just like displacing Kansas 3.2 beer with Kentucky rum is Senor Eckhart's proposal.

Press gentry collected verbal momentum in a pre-game hotel session yesterday morning. Momentum of chatter gathered, smoke clouds thickened with the atmosphere. Best story aired concerned Mizzou's grid tutor, Don Faurot.

Matters were growing worse every moment during the Mizzou-Great Lakes battle. Mizzou was undergoing a thorough overhauling and Faurot was fodder for a nervous breakdown. He sat on the bench, muttering dire things about all his players. One player's name was mentioned time and again. Pretty soon he felt a touch on his arm. "Listen coach," said the player. "You've been giving me the devil and I'm not even on the field. I've been right here all along."

"What's the difference?" Faurot barked. "If you had been in there things would have been much worse."

Amidst the clamor and jangle of the bid for the league title comes a business date on the Husker calendar which produces gross retrospect.

Said date deals with the trek to Pittsburg next Saturday for battle with the "de-emphasized" Panthers. Retrospect helps us recall vividly the Panther-Husker game at Lincoln one year ago. Nebraska played its heart out thruout only to see Special Delivery Jones deliver the mail for a winning Pitt last-second touchdown.

and then tallied the same touchdown himself with a 3 yard blast. McCarthy's 75 yard run with seconds to go accounted for the finale.

Eastern Team Tops Cyclones

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 6.—Villanova's offensive-minded gridiron combine spearheaded by fireballer, Al Postus soundly thrashed Iowa State's Cyclones 32 to 6 at Shibe park, Friday night. Eleven thousand spectators watched Al Postus heave two touchdown passes and blast across for two other scores to submerge the Cyclones, who never had a chance after the opening quarter. Postus ignited the scoring by hurling a 38-yard aerial to Steve Pritko but the Iowans spured by Royal Lohry and Paul Darling crashed right back being held for downs on the Villanova 3-yard stripe. A play gone Lohry setup a Darling touchdown with a 48-yard punt return. Minutes later Postus tossed to Bill Sullivan in the end zone and followed in the second quarter with a 12 yard gallop into goal dust. Again it was Mr. Postus who set up another touchdown with a brilliant third quarter punt return

Tippee Tops Team Totals

AMES, Ia., Nov. 6.—Howard Tippee, Des Moines left halfback, is the Iowa State "average" leader according to the latest figures released by the American Football Statistical bureau.

Tippee has the best punting average, 39.7 yards; the best rushing average, 4.6 yards; the best pass average, 13.1 yards per completion, and the best total average, 4.4 yards. Tippee's defensive weaknesses have permitted only infrequent usage so his totals have not been big in spite of his high average.
