Husker Team Views Panther Plays Monday

There were several mummurs of "wait until Saturday" as the last-minute winning Pitt touchdown run of "Special Delivery" Jones was shown.

After gaining their offensive punch against the Mizzou Tigers Saturday, the Huskers seemed to still lack scoring fire. If that scoring fire is plied with the offensive punch against Pitt, the Huskers should hit a seasonal Roy Long's great surge and Dale Bradley's return to full repair from his injury siege should enable the Husker offense to hit full momentum. Al Zikmund, a necessary "speed" ingredient to the backfield, is another injured member who is recovering.

Rose Bowl Tilt Will Be Played Despite Battle

PASADENA. Cal.—Football's oldest and most colorful post season game—Southern California's famous Rose Bowl classic will roll underway on the Pasadena greensward again next New Year's day the Associated Press learned from an unimpeachable source today.

The Associted Press release re-vealed that while the formal application for permission to play has not yet been acted upon by army officials there was no objection to the 29th renewal of the Durham, N. C., was the scene of last year's contest due to the huge military preparations on the west coast. And this year's game, as is every other civilian activity, is subject to cancellation at the army's discreation.

Bachelors Club, Huskers Meet

Paced by passer Clark Rice, the club will meet Cornhusker Co-op tonight in the decisive game of the Barb Intramural touch football championship. Each team has been defeated once, the Bachelors by the Zephyers, 7 to 0 and the Huskers by the Bachelors 7 to 0 last week's fray.

The two met last Thursday in a game which was to have decided the championship if the Cornhuskers won, since they had previously been undefeated. But with their star Joe Noble sitting on the sidelines with a back injury, the Co-op was defeated by a passing attack led by Clark Rice.

Noble Star.

Outstanding for the Cornhusker team thus far this year besides Noble, who probably won't be able to play in tonight's game, have been diminutive Dwight Davis, 135 pounds, back who has pushed across for several touchdowns, and Dick Beckwith. Ace Paul Taylor broke his hand in last week's game against the Bachelor club.

The Bachelor's have as their spark-plugs Francis Rolfes, who made the lone touchdown in last week's game, Emanuel Smolik, an excellent blocker and punter, and the pass-tossing Clark Rice. Center Harold Tichy, who has previously played some good football, has now gone to the army, and his place will be taken by former guard Hugh Renard.

Comparative weights of the two teams show the Bachelors' club at 180 pounds and the Cornhuskers at a light 150 pounds.

Prior to their defeat by the Tigers, the Husker eleven topped the loop with three wins. Despite a great individual show by Roy Long, the Huskers couldn't match Mizzou's scoring punch and consequently became favored for second place in the league race.

Main obstacle left for the Missourians to hurdle is Oklahoma. Oklahoma presented evidence of vast power Saturday in burying Kansas State, 76-0. It will be Sooner aerial power against the Steuber-powered Mizzou ground attack, Iowa State will tangle with Kansas in the only other league contest.

Kansas State is slated for migration to Evansville, Ind., for battle with the Hocsiers. Nebraska invades Pittsburgh to complete the outconference schedule.

Blindly, bewildering did we grasp for Mr. Webster's dictionary when we returned to this desk for our account of the Tiger-Husker fracas. We wanted to know what "crippled"

Complete disability of a limb" is friend Webster's definition of a crippled condition. We turned back our memory clock an hour to the game. Twisting his way through the Nebraska line for 54 yards and a touchdown we see Mizzou's "hopeless" cripple, Bob Steuber.

Word drifted here via press dispatches, Mizzou student newspaper, and over the wires about the "poor injured Tigers." Even if the arch moaner, Bo McMillin, had been personally dispatching the dirge items about his team, we'd have been touched.

Master Steuber was credited with lame shoulder, a bad hip, and a "terribly wrenched" knee. Master Fred Bouldin was listed as simply an all-round physical wreck. His power plunging and off-tackle gallops during the fray offset this

A murmur wound its way through the press box when Missouri first trotted onto the greensward. Leading the goldenclad array was a tall wiry fellow who bounced onto the field in the pink of health. A glance at our program assured us that some tall propaganda had drifted down our way.

Once again we tender our press box consensus and once again Roy Long features the opinion of the scribes. Scribes watched Mizzou triumph, then scribbled their gaumlet of mate-

1. That Roy Long is that "invisible spark" which former Husker great, Guy Chamberlin, said the Huskers lacked. Even cynical Fred Ware saw in the Blair blond that offensive ingredient which has been missing.

2. That Hank Reichel, Rohrig-proportioned Lincoln high product, can be counted on as a definite asset. Lack of backfield speed, a big defect in both Husker offense and defense, can be improved by employing hasty little Reichel, a split-second starter who knows how to scrap for extra yardage.

3. That Missouri's offense outranked any previous Husker foe's attack for sheer versatility. Those wide flanker laterals especially made the mouths of every true gridiron lover water.

4. That the Husker pass offensive, hitherto a hit-miss proposition can be counted as a dangerous weapon. Pitt's scout who sat near us filled his charts largely with accounts of Roy Long's tosses. Fifteen completions in a game features something different in the scheme of the traditional groundminded "power" clubs which perenially wear the Scarlet.

A hearty hand-clasp and appropriate bouquets are herewith extended to Glen Presnell, new Nebraska athletic director. Effective Monday, amiable "Pres" officially assumed that position.

"That's the happy greeting heard today when a new supply of Coke arrives at a cooler. Folks wait for it...wait because the only thing like Coca-Cola is Coca-Cola itself, Customers smile and start moving up to pause and be refreshed.

"There's a cheerful spirit about this way of accepting wartime restrictions. Morale is high."
