Kansas Governor Speaks To Huskers

Andrew "Andy" Shoepel, new governor-elect of Kansas, will be the guest speaker at the University of Nebraska gridiron banquet tonight.

Honoring the Cornhuskers, the banquet will be held at the University club. Bo McMillin, colorful mentor of the Indiana Hoosiers, spoke at the annual banquet last year.

Assisting Shoepel at the speakers table will be former Husker governor, Sam McKelvie, and Dwight Griswold, present Husker governor.

Sponsors May Get Caps Today In Nebraska Hall

All sponsors of the military department may obtain their sponsor's caps today on the second floor of Nebraska hall between 2:30 and 4 p.m., according to Cadet Maj. J. H. Stuart.

Hold Vespers Tonight

Dr. Charles Patterson, associate professor of philosophy, will speak tonight at vespers at 5:30 in Ellen Smith. Vesper choir will sing Christmas carols.

Louisiana State university has a Red Head club—and it's just what the name implies.

Husker Cagers Prep For S.D.

Six major letter-winners are reporting to assistant Husker court mentor, "Chili" Armstrong. Work-outs are going into the second week as the Huskers continue preparations for the season inaugural on the South Dakota State rink.

Lettermen reporting are John Thompson, regular guard last year; John Botorff, a scrappy all-round handyman; Max Young, a varsity guard; John Fitzgibbon, forward sparkplug; Kenny Elson, a strong late-season courtster; and Bob Heinzelman, former all-stater from Falls City. Minor letterman Al Artman concludes the list of seasoned performers.

South Dakota State opener is slated for Dec. 7, followed by the tilt on the Illinois U. maples Dec. 12.

Miller . . .

(Continued From Page 1.) Seventh Service command, to which Miller is assigned, that the former orchestra leader would be present. His duties at the occasion will be to lead the band in the "Star Spangled Banner" and "Praise the Lord and Pass the Ammunition" during the ceremonial part of the affair.

The last selection is particularly appropriate since it is the one that in Captain Miller's estimation is the "outstanding musical selection" of World War II.

Month of Training. Since he entered the specialists corps of the army of the United States this fall, Captain Miller has had a month's training at Fort George Meade in duties he assumed. He is in charge of all military bands in the Seventh Service command, being stationed in Omaha.

The university band, 140 members strong, will play under the direction of Don Lentz, director, for a quarter hour before the beginning of the Ball at 9 p.m. It will be during the Grand March ceremonies when Captain Miller will take over.

It will be Johnny "Scat" Davis and his men of music furnishing the music for the dance itself, Colonel Gardner pointed out. "Miller is coming here in his official capacity and not as an orchestra leader alone," he emphasized.

Tickets are now on sale in the Union office for the Ball. The prices are: 55 cents a person for spectator seats; $1.10 for cadets in uniform with a date; $1.65 for regular dancer's tickets per couple.

Football along the national grid front drew to a startling semi-conclusion Saturday. We viewed the day's startling results, gasped for air, then decided history was merely repeating itself.

Once again, as in 1917, the kick-off whistle shrilled through a deep-toned murmur of guns. As the United States made ready by land and sea, the war drums beat the tempo for 1942 gridiron play.

Powerhouse service clubs, plus general havoc dealt with Uncle Sam's stock of manpower, gave the country a grid season which will rank in future years as the screwiest in history.

Upsets were the order of the day and by far the most popular order on the menu. Such notable upsets as the Boston College loss to Holy Cross, the Georgia loss to Auburn, and the Nebraska loss to K-State kept the bookmakers tearing their hair.

Time has arrived for America's ten million sports scribes to each select (individually) an All-American grid eleven. One of the initial All-American teams comes from the American Collegiate Sports Weekly, house organ of collegiate sports.

Three performers were selected by Capt. Stan W. Carlson, originator of the "three deep" system, for each position on the honor club. One of the three left tackle performers named was Vic Schleich, Husker bulwark. Vic was named with Derrell Palmer of Texas Christian and Al Wistert of Michigan to fill the position.

Only other Big Six performer to gain a spot on the "33" was Mizzou's Bob Stenber, named with Bertelli, Notre Dame, and Governali, Columbia, for the right halfback post.

We've heard every imaginable "alibi" or "motive" behind the disastrous 1942 Cornhusker grid campaign. Too many injuries, not enough spirit, no scoring punch—every reason in the books has been excluded and thoroughly aired.

Our reason may not be the will of the majority, but we're willing to stand behind it. Nebraska trotted onto the Iowa Hawkeye field in the seasonal opener confidentially expecting to initiate the campaign in victorious style. Those Huskers trotted from the field with red faces and a 27-0 Tawkeye victory in the wake.

Not since that season opener could the Huskers recover that composure and spirit which marked the pre-campaign practice sessions. We still believe that Nebraska's fire was left on the windswept Hawkeye field that day. A persistent injury epidemic throughout the campaign did little toward reviving that lost spirit.

There can be only one nominee for the top team of our weekly "top ten" grid clubs. After trimming the strongest of the service clubs—the Seahawks—Ohio simply couldn't be omitted from top recognition.

Cyclones Open Cage Season

AMES, Ia., Nov. 28.—Iowa State will open its first wartime basketball season in a quarter of a century on a decidedly sophomore note.

The Cyclones play host to Simpson college, the Iowa conference champion, Dec. 2.

Six of the eight possible starters for Coach Louis Menze's 15th Cyclone cage team will be in their first year of collegiate competition. Rollin Kuebler of Carroll and Reuben Mickelson of Thief River Falls, Minn., both juniors, are the only experienced players likely to be in the opening lineup against the Redmen next month.

Registration for Ping Pong Meet Ends Tomorrow

Registration deadline for the Union's ping pong tournament has been set for tomorrow night. Students may register for any of the divisions in which they are interested at the Union office.

Divisions of the tournament include men's and women's singles with duffer and advanced sections, and men's and women's doubles with both duffer and advanced sections also. A division for mixed doubles will be entered if enough students register for the tournament.

Missouri Wins Big Six Title

Big Six grid play swept to a hapless conclusion Saturday as Kansas State topped Nebraska, 19-0, in the top upset of the day.

Missouri officially cinched the title Thanksgiving day with a 42-13 win over Kansas U. Nebraska, by virtue of the K-State loss, closed the campaign in third position.

Gophers Open Cage Workouts

MINNEAPOLIS, Nov. 22—Now that the 1942 football season is history, Dr. Carl Nordly's basketball team will get the spot light in Minnesota's athletic program.

Dr. Nordly, who replaced Dave MacMillan as head coach this year, is being assisted by Verl (Gas) Young, former Carleton man. Nordly, who is also a Carleton graduate, will send his new cagers out on the Field house floor in their opener against his alma mater on December 5.

Both ineligibility and lack of good reserves vex the Gopher coaches at the present time but they are hoping that three or four of the new sophomores will come through and prove that they are of Big Ten ability.

The loss of veterans Don Smith, Hal Thune, Tony Jaros, Don Carlson and Warren Ajax will hurt the Gophers considerably. Smith and Thune have played their three years of college basketball; Carlson and Jaros have been called into the army and Ajax is employed in defense work.

Returning from the 1941-42 squad, however, are Bill Lind, Kenny Exel, Don Mattson and Dick Burk. Burk, who has been out for football, is expected to report this week along with grid-ers Ed Trumper, Jerry Mulready, Jerry Carle and Bernie Nelson.

Pershing Rifles Meets

There will be a regular meeting of Pershing Rifles at 5:30 tonight in Nebraska Hall because of general inspection by regimental headquarters Saturday.

Military Ball Committee Heads Meet Tonight

Committee chairmen and their military faculty sponsors for the Military Ball will meet at 5:30 p. m. this afternoon in room 210 of Nebraska hall, according to an announcement by Cadet Col. Richard Arnold. Final coordination of plans for the Friday night event will be accomplished at that time.
