Jeanne Rowe Tells Of Life in WAVES

Women today are playing a vital part in the war work and among those women are many that are graduates, and even students, of the University of Nebraska. Some are in the WAVES, others in the WAACs, and so on for the various organizations. The important thing is that they are giving their services to our country and helping Uncle Sam in every way they can.

Letters have been sent to several alumnae requesting them to write and tell us about the various organizations. Recently we received a letter from Jeanne Rowe, who is a WAVE and in officers training school.

Quoting Jeanne, "I am in the first class of V-9s of the WAVES and will graduate January 8th with a commission of ensign (I hope). There isn't much I can tell you as my classes are restricted. I believe I am the only graduate of Nebraska here, altho there was another girl in the first WVP class (Women's Volunteer Probationary), you undoubtedly know that.

Concerning my college history, I graduated in 1938 (June) with a B S degree. I am affiliated with Kappa Kappa Gamma and Pi Lambda Theta on your campus."

Nebraska may be proud of her students who are contributing so much to the war program. Jeanne is but one of the many who are in the armed services from the University of Nebraska.
