

Party Line

"Whew, what a weekend. Faction picnic, Kosmet Klub initiation and T party. All of that on top of coed follies. We'll try to give you sort of a worm's eye view of the past.

How Do You Explain:

Why Jan Hoover, Jean Moyer, and Rosanne Steinauer play bridge so much on week-ends. Don't they realize that this only adds to the problem of date rationing. Or is there more to bridge than meets the eye?

Why Tom Drummond had Maurine Reese keep his pin a week while he made up his mind whether he wanted her to wear it.

The renewal of relations between Mortar Board Newman and PBK Blackstone after such a long absence.

What the Phi Psis will do if they lose a few more men from the house.

What it will be like around here without Dave Marvin and Elmer Sprague to hold up the barb cause.

Why more girls don't follow the example of Prez Janet Curley and join the armed services offered to women. Congrats to the red head. Things You Didn't Know

About the Pink Rag:

That this was not only the first but the last issue according to a regulation set down by the O. D. M.

That Bill Palmer (the editor) got his information all mixed up as to the identity of Carton Broderick. I have had three requests to deny his statements. By the way, Palmer was the boy that spent many hours last fall calling the phone number listed in the Student Directory to contact Broderick.

That we don't blame Jim Nicola for keeping Connie Cathcart of 1739 Harwood under wraps especially with the wolves howling as they do.

That if the bill for printing the sheet is paid, it will be the first time.

Things I Enjoyed About the Coed Follies:

The way the assembled crowd hissed when Editor Jacobs and Managing Ed. Abbott strolled in to take their seats in the front row.

The bathing suit that Dorothy Jean Browne wore in the Style Show. As announcer Newman said it offered the most possible exposure to the rays of the sun.

All those beautiful Theta pledges dressed as they were on the stage at one time.

The way the revolving stage jumped everytime it started. More than one of the models were a little jittery as they took the ride.

The torrid songs by Betty Krause. Those should be for an all male show as well. WOW!

The costumes worn by those lovely coeds Bill Munson, Bob Former Beauty Queen Weds...

Mrs. Rollin Morgan Batten, jr., was Miss Suzanne Woodruff prior to her marriage Thursday evening, March 11. Ensign Batten is with the naval air corps, stationed in San Francisco where the couple will live.

Mrs. Batten is a graduate of the university where she was a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma. She was a Cornhusker beauty queen and served as president of Panhellenic.

Buxton, Fig Flagg, and Jim Critchfield. They were deceivine. All the gals were trying to get a hold of them. Incidentally they were so good that the Tau boys walked right into the girls dressing room and the doorman (girl) didn't stop them.

The new TNC. Congrats Helen. It is fine she won as she was beginning to tire of so many races. Apologies to the Readers:

For not putting in more scandal but that isn't nice.

For not asking what Reece and Casey did while P. A. Petty was doing USO work for the navy this week.

For allowing a certain campus business man to write most of Friday's column.

For not saying goodbye to Randy Pratt and 340 other boys going off to war.

For telling you that Herb Hopkins parks his car in front of the Phi Psi house when he is taking a dorm girls in. ???????

For not announcing that Sadie the Lady is back in school.

That must be enough drivel for today so we shall hope that the poor guy who actually read down this far at least found it more interesting than the lecture.

Approve Nebraska In Six Fields Of Nation's Manpower Education

Administrative officials announced yesterday that a naval recruiting board will visit the University of Nebraska March 23 to 26, inclusive, to enlist students who signify naval intent in the naval reserve's V-1 program.

All those students who are interested and who should like to be interviewed, should bring the following papers before the board to support their application for enlistment, emphasized T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs. The following material is needed.

Three letters of recommendation from responsible citizens, one being from a faculty member.

Birth certificate bearing the state seal and place of birth.

Fifty-word resume of student's occupational and military experience written in their own hand writing.

Two photographs (head and shoulder only) one full face and one profile, size 2 1/2 x 2 1/2.

At the time the recruiting board is at the university an opportunity will be provided for students of junior and senior standing in engineering to enlist in V-7.

acceptable to the colleges or universities.

Of the 479 institutions now being selected for the war training programs, slightly more than one-third are small colleges with normal enrollments of under five hundred students. A complete survey of the schools selected revealed those with an enrollment under 500 to number 161; those between 500-1,000 to number 134; those between 1,000-2,000 to number 85; and those over 2,000 to number 99.

Training Class In Leadership Opens Tuesday ... At Ellen Smith

An upperclass leadership training class open to the students and the public will be conducted by the YWCA Tuesday at 4:30 p. m. in Ellen Smith. This class is being held because of its worth to young women both during and after the war.

Breta Peterson, former Mortar Board, will conduct a mock meeting with members of this year's Mortar Board assisting in the demonstration. Miss Peterson and the Mortar Boards will show the rights and wrongs of conducting meetings.

Mrs. F. D. Coleman, former national Mortar Board president, will give a talk on the qualities of leadership.

Coeds Solve Problem, Join Police Force

Washington. (ACP). The first coeds—five of them—have appeared to take police science work out of 300 who have enrolled since this field was introduced a year ago.

Prof. V. A. Leonard reports the manpower problem in the police fields is becoming critical and that a number of posts in police organizations can be handled by trained women, while, of course, they are indispensable in handling cases involving women and children.
