Big Day Coming

Thirty days hath April, so in four weeks it will be May 1. Ivy day is on May 1 which is also the day when Mortar Boards will choose their successors.

Now everybody knows that few of the new Innocents will be around the campus next fall, and it has become quite obvious that the gals are taking over. That is why the election of new Mortar Boards increases in importance this year.

With only four weeks remaining, the junior activity women, although pretty sure that leading senior women have already chosen new members of the honorary, are beginning to get worried.

You can note their apprehension every time they see a Mortar Board. And of late, they have really begun to work—in every possible activity. A last minute rise to recognition in extra-curricular activities might be enough to force the M-B's to change their minds. The lights of the exalted chamber of the senior coed big-shots might shine.

Meanwhile, the wearers of the Black Masque say nothing; their every action is to add to the concern of activity minded juniors. Every effort is made to keep the selection of the Mortar Boards an absolute secret until the making on Ivy Day.

So for 28 days more, junior activity women will worry; sorority sisters will offer encouragement; and the Mortar Boards will draw upon all of their fortitude to keep their mouths shut.

And in the meantime, the few men on the campus who are at all interested in the proceedings will look on with enjoyment. They will laugh, but they are seeing the leaders of tomorrow's campus, for the women are taking over.

National collegiate pole vault co-champ, Harry Hunt reports at Northwestern March 7 in accordance with his V-7 orders. Hunt consistently cleared 14 feet, and ranked as the greatest vaulter in Cornhusker history.

HAROLD HUNT

Here is a letter of thanks from "the boys at Jefferson Barracks" who wrote asking the Daily to send them a subscription to the campus paper. We don't know who sent them the paper, but we salute the person or persons who did.

"We of J. B. want to thank you kindly for the Daily Nebraskan we have been receiving. All of us gather around and one man reads it to us, but we have just as much fun listening to it as we did reading the ones we got on the campus.

"We're sorry about your paper shortage, but as you see, we're short too.

Thanx,
The Boys at J. B."

Quotable Quotes

"In 1950 the liberal arts college must have maintained the right to keep the word 'liberal' in its designation. This means the right to toss away what may have become useless and to add meanwhile whatever else has become 'liberalizing' in the education of the youth for a democracy after the end of the war."

W. Prewitt Ewing, national president of the William Jewell College Alumni association, takes a peek into education's future.

"The colleges must and will do their part to win the war, but they also have a part in the larger strategy of war and peace which they alone can play. They must conserve knowledge, teach the truth in more than contemporary perspective, promote the development of the individuals who comprise society and will shape its decisions." President Paul Swain Havens of Wilson college calls upon American colleges and universities to maintain their faith in liberal education.

Army Sergeant In New Guinea Writes Coed

(ACP).—A torn scrap of newspaper has resulted in a correspondence between Anne Bolivar, Westminster college co-ed, and a United States army sergeant 6,000 miles away in New Guinea.

It all started when the sergeant found Anne's picture on a piece of old American newspaper in the steaming, rain-soaked jungle. Since he hadn't seen a woman in a long time, the sergeant decided to write to the pretty co-ed.

The picture had been distributed last October by a national newspaper syndicate. It showed Miss Bolivar up in a tree picking apples to help offset the Pennsylvania farm-labor shortage at harvest time.

WAR BOND QUIZ

Q. How many coowners of a Bond can there be?

A. War Bonds may be issued in the names of only two individuals as coowners, and the registration must be in the alternative, such as "John X. Smith or Mrs. Mary Smith," without any qualifying words or phrases.

Q. If a person who already holds War Savings Bonds up to the limit for the current year should inherit additional Bonds, could they be registered in his name?

A. Yes.

Q. How can I be sure that I can get my money back if I buy a War Savings Bond?

By Gib Crockett

A. The full faith and credit of the United States Government are pledged for payment of both principal and interest. Your Bond is just as sound as the Government itself.

Q. If the owner of a War Savings Bond dies, how is collection made?

A. In the absence of a co-owner or beneficiary in the registration, the bond will form a part of the registered owner's estate, and will be paid to persons entitled to share in the estate under local laws as provided in the regulations.

Remember—the longer you keep War Bonds, up to 10 years, the more valuable they become.
