

Party Line

BY ROBERTA BURGESS.

Spring . . . when a young man turns fancy—Spring . . . technical synonym for picnic . . . and picnics we have! The junior fellows of the SAM are having quite a spread with Becky Silver and Walt Greenburg, Rosie Goldstein and Bernie Goldware, Ghita Hill and Phil Eisenstaat leading mob. Fred Kroll arrives Saturday enroute to a California naval base, but stopping in Lincoln long enough for a picnic with fiancée Ella Mae Oberlander, Gamma Phi, accompanied by pinmates Jeanne Vovard and Pickles Hines, Kappa Sig, and Truly Thompson and Rudy Scienar, Zip.

Another big arrival—big for Evelyn Leamer, Alpha Chi, is that of Chuck Pierce, Sigma Nu, from of course, Fort Leavenworth.

But even picnics can't push Jack Teagarden out of the picture. Dates include AOP's Mary Allen and Kay Hanley with Bob White, Kappa Sig, and Bob Gillespie, Phi Delt. Another Phi Delt, Les Buckley is taking Ruth Lund, Alpha Chi, and sorority sister, Betty Moore will attend with Pete Peterson, Delta Sig. Joyce Junge, Pi Beta Phi, will sail out with Earl Grady, and Helen Johnson, DG, with Ki Eisenhart, Phi Gam.

Jane Emery, Delta Gamma, was surprised (and possibly honored) to hear of her engagement to "Joe," an officer at the Lincoln Air Base.

Guess she was the toast of the officer's club!

The Alpha Chi Omega "Hell" party (house party to you) ought to prove quite a success with Agnes Fox and Demmy Cole, Phi Delt, Betty Moore and Pete Peterson, Delta Sig, all the "regular ole steadies," and the devil attending.

The Pioneer Cornhusker Co-op's dance at the Cornhusker Friday night will be attended in full glory by Pioneer men Less Messenger and Lois Walker, Jim Walford (Golden Gloves champ) and Mary Peterson, Warren Steele and Mabelle Osenbaugh. Miles Sabolik will take high school flame Charlotte Ann Bachlund.

Now as all good (hope, I hope) columns must meet their fate, I'll conclude with a paraphrase or if you must get nasty, a steal, from Noel Coward:

When I am dead
I hope it may be said,
"My sins were as scarlet,
But my column was read."

And we want to know: Why do George Abbott, Norrie Anderson, Bill McBride and all these campus males make a bee-line for Omaha, Stephens or Des Moines every week end?

Alcove Book Notes

BY BOB WILKINS.

"The Skin of Our Teeth," a new play in three acts by Thornton Wilder, is the story of the extraordinary adventures of the Antrobus family. The action of the play starts in Excelsior, N. J., and then jumps to Atlantic City. A thousand years later the scene switches back to Excelsior and the story continues from that point.

George Antrobus and his wife are a typically average couple and their servant, Sabina, who begins and ends her career in the kitchen, is the voice of the people.

Unusual Play.

"Skin of Our Teeth" is an unusual play as presented on the stage and is as delightful to read as any of Thornton Wilder's novels.

The Navajo country near the Grand Canyon is the scene of "Arrows Into the Sun" by Jon-reed Lauritzen. The plot of the story revolves around Sigor, the son of a white father and a part Navajo mother.

After Sigor's mother died, his father, realizing that the redman's cause is a lost one, took the boy to the white settlement. Sigor's

Miss Ferguson Sings, Junior Music Recital

Ruth Ferguson will give a junior recital, sponsored by the school of fine arts, Monday, April 21, at 4 p. m. in Temple theater.

Miss Ferguson will sing "Una Voce Poco Fa" from the Barber of Seville by Rossini, and, with Jack Rokahr, "Nay, Bid Me Not Resign, Love" from Don Giovanni, act one, by Mozart.

Betty Stanton, pianist, will play "Nocturne" by Chopin and "Valse" by Chopin. Margaret Lindgren, accompanist, will play "Solvejg's Lied" by Grieg, "Une Trabatiere a Musique" by Liadoff, "Adele's Laughing Song" from the Bat, by Strauss and "Let All My Life Be Music" by Spross.

struggle between the two ways of life and his decision to leave the strange way to shoot "arrows into the sun" make an interesting and thrilling story.

"Red Hills and Cotton" is the story of the south written by a native of South Carolina, Ben Robertson. His book tells the legend of his ancestors, the farmers who for two hundred years have been tilling the valleys of the Carolina piedmont.

Here is a picture of these people and the country in which they live with its fields of white cotton and the red hills beyond.

Dance . . .

residence halls for women are asked to provide 52 co-eds for the dance. Both co-eds and soldiers will be admitted by door list.

Girls are asked to give their names to their house presidents as soon as possible, as all lists are to be in the hands of Janet Krause, War Council notifications chairman, by Friday afternoon at the latest. The names must be in at this time so that the numbers of soldiers to girls may be approximately the same.

Soldier Dance Committee.

Since there are as yet no funds available to finance such dances, the soldiers have agreed each to pay 25c to provide the band. That the fellows at the library are willing to do this was O. K'ed by the air crew committee who met with Pat Chamberlin, president of the War Council, to plan for the dance.

Members of the soldier committee include Privates Malone, Dougherty, and Ferris. Lt. W. F. Marshall of the college detachment training staff is working with Mrs. Boyles on dance plans.

Entertainment for intermission will be provided by the soldier committee, as well as special dances during the evening.

Chaperones for the evening are Mr. and Mrs. Steven McCarthy and Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Doyle.

Dr. Arthur H. Compton of the University of Chicago is retiring president of the American Association for the Advancement of Science.

Home Ec Group Holds Annual Honors Tea

An annual spring tea, honoring senior home economics students and sponsored by the home ec association, was held yesterday on ag campus from 3 until 5 p. m.

Betty Brown and Carol Garver were in charge of the tea.

Decorations were carried out in yellow, white, and green flowers in a theme of spring.

dinner, and their preference as to the type of speakers and patriotic topic.

He recorded all of this material on an index card plus the name and the address of the caller. He then informed the caller that he would call back by Monday and tell him who the speaker would be, and his exact topic.

Then Dr. Laase turned back to this reporter and declared, "That is the service we're here to render—to supply interesting speakers when requested to give entertaining and informative talks of a patriotic nature. Thus we of the Speakers Bureau serve our country, by giving out true information that should be given out, and clearing up any confusing points in the minds of the general populace."
