Nebraskan Receives 'All-American' Rating

Scoring 950 points in a critical judgment of college newspapers sponsored by Associated Collegiate Press, the Daily Nebraskan has been awarded an All-American rating for first semester, 1942-43.

Judged on news values and sources, news writing and editing, headlines, typography and makeup and department pages and special features, the Nebraskan was rated by a board of the 28th critical service offered by the college newspaper organization.

In a special supplement to the score sheet, the Daily was commended upon its promotion of the scrap drive, held in October, as a contribution to the war effort.

The newspaper scored "excellent" points in news coverage and balance; originality, treatment, content of news stories, organizations, style leads, features, copy and proof reading, headlines and photography.

Give Point Ratings.

ACP judges college papers on a basis of classification determined by frequency of publication, circulation and size of university. Points are given for each rating, and are totaled to give the final rating.

All-American is the highest rating given to college papers. Ten newspapers received the Pace-maker award for outstanding achievement in the field of journalism.

Basics Turn In Uniforms During Week

ROTC basic course uniforms will be turned in to the military property custodian, basement Nebraska hall, starting at 8:30 a. m. Friday, May 14, according to the following alphabetical schedule:

Friday, May 14—Students' last name A to E, inclusive.

Saturday, May 15—Students' last name F to L, inclusive.

Monday, May 17—Students' last name M to R, inclusive.

Tuesday, May 18—Students' last name S to A, inclusive.

Only articles of clothing of government issue will be accepted. Missing items should not be replaced with commercial items because these will not be accepted, and the loss will still be charged against the student's deposit.

Band uniforms and government band instruments will not be turned in until commencement exercises are over May 24, unless an earlier date is authorized by Mr. Lantz.

School Year Nears End This Week

Completing the second semester of school year 1942-43, final examinations will be held at the university beginning Saturday, May 15 and continuing thru Saturday, May 22.

Term papers and projects will be due at this time, or at a time designated by the instructor. Registration for the fall semester will not be held in the spring this year, but will be held during the first week of school in September.

Students wishing to have second semester grades mailed to them should leave a self-addressed, stamped envelope at the office of admissions, Administration 103, before the close of school. Grades will be available around June 25, and students wishing to do so may call for them at that office.

Ensign Ann Dorsey Speaks on WAVES

... Today in Ellen Smith

Ensign Ann Dorsey of the WAVES will discuss the work of the WAVES and SPARS today at 5 p. m. in Ellen Smith hall, under the sponsorship of the AWS as a continuance of its vocational program.

This talk will be Ensign Dorsey's main speech on the campus. She will lead a panel discussion after the address and will answer any questions girls wish to ask about the WAVES or SPARS.

Yesterday afternoon she was introduced at the Panhellenic meeting, and last night she was a guest for dinner at the women's residence halls. Following the dinner she was in the knotty pine room and talked to various girls who were interested in her branch of the service.

Tomorrow morning and afternoon from 10 to 12 p. m. and from 1 to 5 p. m., Ensign Dorsey and Lt. Betty Seeley of the WAAC will be in Ellen Smith hall for conferences for those who would be interested in further information. Appointments may be made for a conference with either of these women by calling the dean of women's office.

Haney Heads New Ft. Warren Branch; Former UN Prof.

Lt. Col. J. W. Haney, university engineering professor on leave of absence for the duration, has been placed in charge of a new branch of the quartermaster replacement training center at Fort Warren, Wyo., according to word received here.

Ten Women, Men Approve Abolishment of Point System ... Or Revision

Complete approval of the abolishment of the point system was expressed by ten students interviewed today. While the girls approved because they thought the system was poorly managed, the boys agreed because they thought the girls would not participate in more activities than they were capable of handling.

Margaret Fowler, Chi O—"I'm glad they abolished it. No check was ever made. I do think they should have a point system, but it should be revised, with strict enforcing of the rules."

Norman Milton, Sig Alph—"Yes, I'm in favor of it definitely. I don't see why girls shouldn't be in as many activities as they wish. If they can take care of them, it's O. K."

Marydean Lawler, Kappa Delta—"I think perhaps I agree with the editorial in the Rag. The plan should be revised. Don't think membership in an activity should carry a point—just the officers, and perhaps Tassels."

Bruce Morrison, ATO—"As long as the girls make their averages and aren't down I don't see why they shouldn't have fun. But the girls shouldn't run around if they are getting poor grades. That

Filings for Staff Posts Due Today

Filings for positions on the Daily Nebraskan and the Cornhusker must be turned in at the office of the school of journalism today at 5 p. m.

Publications board will meet tomorrow at 2 p. m. in U hall to elect publications staff members for next semester. Applicants are required to appear before the board unless they have been excused.

isn't what college is for."

Sy Bernstein, SDT—"I think the abolishment is a good idea. If girls who are active want to be more active, they shouldn't be held back."

Rod Smith, Phi Delt—"It's up to the girls to do what they want to. If they're capable, let them go ahead."

Jean Buckley, Theta—"I'm not an activities woman. I just have one activity I'm interested in and I never had to worry about points. I'm neutral."

Jim Alexander, Sigma Nu—"It has it's points. They shouldn't put any ropes around the women—let them do what they want."

Dorothy Thornburg, DG—"I think the abolishment is a good idea. The girls who wanted to go out for an activity did anyway. They seemed to get in as many as they wished."

Some Sing, Some Dream, Some Play, But We Study ... And Forget Morpheus

BY JEAN GLOTFELTY.

Squirrels and chickadees frolic over the Nebraska campus. Ca the rest of the campus is devoid of life. Only now and then does a furtive, harassed looking student with circles under his eyes scamper into the drug for a "quickie."

It is dead week; finals are on their merry way, and you and me and the rest of God's chilluna have at least 4 labs, 8 themes, det's sing from class to class. The ROTC boys shine their buttons and dream of happier days. But 2 term papers, and 26 chapters of history to take care of. It continues to be a psychological wonder why college students try to cram nine months of tuition, board and room into 5 days of hitting the books. But don't we all!

Morpheus Forgotten.

Morpheus is the forgotten man. Dreams are things of the past. By the time most of us get to sleep, we sleep so hard that there is no time for extra-curricular activities like dreaming. Every time I put my pajamas on, my books sneer audibly from the dark recesses of the bookcase. They know that I don't know. The professors know that I don't know. I know that I don't know. Yet twice a year I have to go thru the futile procedure of trying to convince everyone I do know. College is amazing.

Light Dawns.

But all is not so dark. Somewhere in the dim distant future there is a small ray of sunshine. Thoughts of vacation strike a spark of life, bolster up failing morale, give a promise of happiness.

Vacation is like an obstacle race. It can be attained only after wrecking one's self getting past the insurmountable barriers. And then when you get there, what have you got? Work! The vicious circle of depression and prosperity is nothing compared to the vicious circle of me. And who ever heard of prosperity in college anyway!
