

Nebraska-Indiana Resume

(Continued from page 1.)

as they cleared the way for their fleet backs.

Play by Play.

Indiana started the game by taking a kickoff out-of-bounds on their own 40 yard line. Allerdice hit the line twice and picked up two yards on each try. Then Mangold went around end to the Nebraska 49. The Hoosiers pushed the ball down to the 13 yard line, where Buzz Hollins stole the ball, and Nebraska took over.

A six yard gain thru the line and a 15 yard penalty gave the Huskers a first down. After a try at the line, Trant was trapped behind the line of scrimmage and thrown back to the 30. Hollins kicked out to his own 46, but the punt was nullified for Indiana's offside. However, after another try at the line, Nebraska was forced to punt again, and this time Indiana took over on their own 38 yard line.

First Touchdown.

Hoernschemeyer then started a 62 yard touchdown drive by going over his own tackle for six. He then ripped thru center to the Husker 47. Mangold then slid thru tackle to the 34; three more line plunges put the ball on the 14 yard line. Hoernschemeyer then went on a reverse to the 2, where Ted Kenfield stopped him. Two tries at the line gained nothing, but on the third Allerdice, big Hoosier fullback, went over his own right tackle for the touchdown. Capt. John Tavener, center, converted and the score stood at 7 to 0.

From here on out for the remainder of the first half, things turned into a rout. Hoernschemeyer started passing for a series of first downs and touchdowns. Mangold started flanking the ends and Allerdice started to hit the middle. Indiana just couldn't be stopped. Shortly after kicking off to Nebraska, the Hoosiers got a hold of the ball, and in a lot less time that it takes to pronounce his name, Hoernschemeyer had flipped a 33 yard touchdown pass to the other end of that combination, fleet Mr. Mangold. Tavener then added the conversion. The score: Indiana 14, Nebraska 0.

Resume Passing.

Both teams scrimmaged back and forth, with Hansen and Ewin both standing out on the defense for Nebraska. Indiana's running attack seemed to bog down, and after failing to make yardage thru the line, Hoernschemeyer again repeated by passing from the 39 yard line to Schienbein on the 5. Schienbein then turned and ran the remaining five yards for the third marker. However, he was hit and injured as he crossed the goal and had to be removed. Tavener made his third straight conversion and the score stood 21 to 0 at the start of the second quarter.

Second Quarter.

For the remainder of the second quarter, the Bomen of Indiana ran wild thru the Husker line and the halftime score stood as a marker of that fact—27 to 0, Indiana breezing.

At the opening of the second half, a rejuvenated Nebraska team came back with determination, and sparkled by Ted Kenfield and Bill Miller got back into the ball game. Swanson took the Indiana kickoff on his own goal line and was run out of bounds on the 8. Buzz Hollins then ran the ball to the 11, going over his own right tackle. Kenfield then reeled off another ten for a first down and ten to the 21. Allen Trant, a fourth string sub the week before, then went for nine more yards and Kenfield made it a first down to the 32 yard marker. Trant hit the center of the line for five more, but was injured on the play and had to leave the game. Bill Miller, third string halfback, replaced him in the lineup.

Huskers Score.

Kenfield then shot a pass to Bert Gissler, which was good down to the Indiana 25 yard line. A few tries at the line failed, and Nebraska lost a few yards. Kenfield then called a pass on the fourth down and passed it into the waiting arms of Miller, who scampered the remaining distance to the goal. Hill converted and the score read: Nebraska 7, Indiana 27.

Indiana came roaring back, and Mangold and Hoernschemeyer hit the line and went thru the air for plenty of yardage. After driving down field to the Nebraska 5, the Hoosiers' ground attack again bogged down and it took another pass to score—Hoernschemeyer to Torak in the flat and into the end zone this time. Tavener missed the conversion, his first and only miss of the afternoon. The score: 27 to 7.

Score via Air.

Again Indiana surged back, and it took "Bullet" Bob and company but little time to punch over a second touchdown thru the air. This one again went to Torak, good for ten yards and a touchdown standing up in the end zone. Tavener converted. 34 to 7. Much to the crowd's surprise, the Huskers too began to surge on their own and a 58 yard touchdown drive was born as Ewin returned the Hoosier kickoff to his own 42. Miller and Kenfield again teamed up and drove for two first downs, then Kenfield chucked one to Miller over the middle and the little sub ducked and twisted his way down to pay dirt for his second touchdown. The attempted conversion bounced off the cross-bars, and the score stood 34 to 13.

The remainder of the game was but a repeat of what had happened before. When "Bullet" Bob Hoernschemeyer and company got thru passing the ball around, the final score totaled up to: Indiana 54, Nebraska 13.

Lineup:
INDIANA	NEBRASKA
L.E. Hoppe	(GC) Gissler
L.T. McCune	Hill
L.G. Coffey	Means
C. Tavener (C)	Salisbury
R.G. Cioli	Hazard
R.T. Sowinski	Jacupke
R.E. Pinos	Schneider
Q.B. Cannady	Kenfield
L.H. Hoernschemeyer	Trant
R.H. Mangold	Swanson
F.B. Allerdice	Hollins

Muddling Through

With
John C. Bentley

Some guy (I can't remember who right now) wrote a book called Victory Through Air Power. He must have had the right idea, and I know a couple of guys who must have had the same one, because they certainly seemed to win a lot of football games through the air. Today I watched Bo McMillin, through a nice hunk of football man named Hoernschemeyer (this is no typographical error), prove that it is wholly and totally possible to win "victory through air power."

This Bob Hoernschemeyer is about the sweetest football tosser that I have ever seen. If he can't thread a needle at 50 feet, neither can grandma, and grandma can. "Bullet" Bob (that name is much easier to say) could throw the ball in anybody's league, and will probably be the top rate man this year of all leagues for pitching that old apple. Unless, of course, you happen to bring up Angelo

Bartelli, or a couple of Texans who aren't doing so bad at passin' the ball around.

Bartelli, of the "Fightin' Irish," threw a lot of football for the green the other day against Michigan. He and Frank Leahy could probably tell that guy a few facts about "Victory Through Air Power" that he doesn't know about.

The main essential is, if you can't go through or around 'em, why bother, go over them.

Education . . .

(Continued from page 1.)

The National Association of Childhood. Pat Purdham is new president of the organization and the board members are Kay Detweiler, Joyce Adcock and Sally White.

The club was organized for all students specializing in education. There will be a general meeting in the near future.

BEN SIMON & SONS

Ladies Fashions,
fourth floor

JUMPERS

Just for Juniors

Just-right for campus wear . . . with a neat look which appeals to service men. Aqua, blue, dusty rose, natural and green rayon gabardine with gay colored felt trimmings.

$7.95

The blouse is a smart, trim model of rayon poplin. Maize, natural and blue with contrasting saddle stitching. A classic favorite!

$3.95

DATE TIME

calls for a suit dress

This rayon crepe is designed for informal dates . . . perfect for after football game wear. Colors are blue, green, brown and black trimmed with interesting trapunto stitched leaves. Sizes 12 to 20.

$14.95

Visit the College Gang, Young Towner Shop

Last Names

beginning with

F, G, and H

have pictures taken for '44

Cornhusker

Oct. 4 to Oct. 9

SUNDAY SPECIAL CHICKEN DINNERS

Open Sunday

The Nook

1131 R

FRANK KUCERA YOUR CAMPUS BARBER

14th and S

1/2 Block East of Library

FREE VARIETY SHOW

A Revival of

"Catherine the Great"

With Elizabeth Bergner and

Douglas Fairbanks, Jr.

and a Technicolor Cartoon

4:00 P. M., Sunday, Oct. 10

Union Ballroom

Open to Students and Military Trainees