

Phi Betas Name Nine Undergrads To Membership

Nine undergraduate students were announced as fall electees to Phi Beta Kappa, national arts and science scholastic honorary, at the first meeting of the group last night in Ellen Smith hall.

New members are Roger Wright Boom, Robert Rood Chambers, Arthur Udell Rivin, Elaine Rosenbloom, Irma Rose Tingelhoff, Josephine Sterling Welch, Sheila Ann Wheeler and Lillian Jane Wind. Each received a special delivery letter yesterday morning telling of his election.

Dr. J. O. Hertzler, president of the UN chapter, presided at the meeting. Dr. Gerald Kennedy of St. Paul's Methodist church addressed members and their families on "The Educated Heart."

"The ancients always associated the emotions with certain physical organs of the body, and the deepest emotions were thought to be in the heart," said Dr. Kennedy. "In

AWS Talks On Vocations Start Monday

Opening the AWS sponsored series of vocational talks Monday at 5 p. m. in Ellen Smith hall will be Mrs. Bernice Huffman, executive secretary of the Missouri State Nursing Council for War Service. She will speak on "Forecasting Tomorrow's Job Requirements."

The talk will be open to all university students. Before and after the talk Mrs. Huffman will confer with students interested in nursing and the wartime nursing program by appointments thru the dean of women's office.

Mrs. Huffman is a representative of the national nursing council and the United States cadet nurse corps, the new government plan which offers a free professional education in nursing to qualified students. She will explain the various aspects of the nursing field and the cadet corps to students.

Change Panhell Meeting to 5 In Ellen Smith

Friday evening's meeting of the Panhellenic wartime workshop will be held at 5 p. m. in the southeast room in Ellen Smith hall, instead of at 7 p. m. as originally scheduled. Rachael Ann Lock, president of Mortar Board, will speak on "What Should Wartime Campus Activities Be?" This meeting is open to all university women. Gwen Kelly, student, will act as chairman.

At the same time, 5 p. m., in the drawing room of Ellen Smith hall, there will be a meeting especially for social chairmen. "What Should Wartime Social Activities Be?" will be discussed by Mrs. James Stuart, alumnae, and Betsy Wright will be student leader.

The program for Friday and Saturday is as follows:

Saturday, Nov. 6: 11 a. m., Ellen Smith hall, Panhellenic informal coffee, for all campus presidents, Panhellenic delegates, pledge captains, Panhellenic advisory board members and their guests. Ghita Hill, chairman. Carol Chapman, student. 2:30 p. m., Panhellenic address, "Fraternity Service in the Preservation of Democracy." Student Union ballroom, Dean Marie Leonard, University of Illinois, speaker. (Open to all.)
Sunday, Nov. 7: Go to Church day for all Panhellenic women.

Next meeting of the fraternity will be held December 2. Dr. David Fellman will speak on "Civil Liberties in Wartime."

AST Assigns Dakota Men To Campus

In addition to the 116 ex-Nebraska ROTCs who are returning to the campus this month, there will be 20 first year advanced ROTC men from colleges in North and South Dakota assigned to the Nebraska ROTC-AST unit, according to word received by Col. J. P. Murphy, commandant.

The men will arrive here in the next few weeks. They are now at Grinnell college, Grinnell, Iowa where they are being classified by a STAR unit.

Complete Basic.

All have completed their basic training in infantry units and have the same status as the Nebraska men returning to the campus.

Two contingents of Nebraskans, infantry and engineers, have already returned and other groups are expected next week. Other men will filter in singly and in groups between now and Thanksgiving time.

Parley-Vous Francais . . .

French Soldiers Invade UN Campus

. . . Voulez-Vous Dancee?

BY PAT CHAMBERLIN.
"Parlez-vous francais, made-moiselle? Et voulez-vous dancier?" Well maybe UN coeds don't parler francais but they would like to dance with that snappy blue uniform and the polite from-the-waist bow.

Which is to say that a group of French students now stationed at the Lincoln Air Base have moved in on the campus, and the Love Library detachments had best look to their laurels and their dates.

Sorority Row Trottings.

There's Henri who speaks six languages with ease, Raoul, and Armand who visits the Gamma Phi house every Sunday. And Josef, Jeana, and Manuel trek to the Kappa domicile, while their Sergeant Robert dates there. Jean and Manuel are dividing their time equally between the Kappas and the Thetas. # Army, Navy Give Tests November 9

Second college training qualification test for ASTP and Navy V-12 is scheduled for November 9, from 9 a. m. to 11 a. m. in room 101, Law building, according to Dr. T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs.

A pamphlet of general information containing an admission-identification form may be obtained in room 104, administration building. Properly filled out, this form will admit test students between the ages of 17 and 21 inclusive, who are recent high school graduates, or who will be graduated by March 1, 1944. Anyone wishing to take the test should contact Dean Thompson or assistant dean W. C. Harper, as soon as possible.

The exam, which is identical for both army and navy, tests general aptitude and knowledge. Those who successfully pass this test and later instruction, may receive college training followed by entrance into officer candidate schools.

Faculty Gives Fourth Recital Sunday at 3

Fourth faculty recital of the year will be held this Sunday in the Union ballroom at 3 p. m.

Marjorie DeLange, cellist, Earnest Harrison, pianist and the string quintette whose members are Miles Dresskell, violin; Johnson Beam, viola; Mary Alice Ziegler, violin; Marjorie DeLange and Earnest Harrison will be presented by the school of fine arts.

The program:
Sonata—G major for cello and piano, Beval. Allegro brillante, Adagio molto cantabile, Rondo, Miss DeLange, Mr. Harrison.
Rhapsody No. 15, Liszt.
General Lavine—eccentric, Debussy.
Tarantelle, Liszt, Mr. Harrison.
Quintette—E flat major, Op. 44, R. Schumann. Allegro brillante, quintette.

as members elected Lois Christie, Jean Cowden, Jane Fenton and Dave Simonson to posts of president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, respectively. Bob Henderson was named chairman of the judiciary committee.

Congregating in the Council rooms on third floor of the Union Wednesday night, members had to introduce themselves several times before the voting began, after Prof. L. A. Lantz, Council advisor, announced that officers could be elected from holdover members only.

The holdover rule is contained in the by-laws of the Council constitution, according to Lantz, and provides that only members who have been on the Council previously can be nominated for office. It was suggested that the office of treasurer be held by a man, since he would be better able to negotiate with the finance committee of the university.

Opposition Slight.

Virtually no opposition was offered to any candidate, and nominations were either unanimous, or between two candidates. Eighteen members were present.

The coin-flipping to settle a tie in the fall polling for representatives of graduate and dental college resulted in the "election" of Don Young, Union, graduate college, and Earl Lamphire, Barb, dental college.

'Kalico-Khaki' Take Over Ag War Council Dance

Inaugurating a duration-tradition, newly-organized ag war council will begin its program with a "kalico and khaki" dance November 13 in Ag Activities building.

Open to civilian and soldier students, the party will be similar to Farmer's Formal, annual ag dance abolished this year, and will feature cornstalk decorations, kalico dresses and blue jeans. It will be the first large social event of the year on ag.

Ag and city campus students, STARS, ASTP students and Air Corps men are invited. Dancing, with stag line permissible, will begin at 8:30 p. m. and last until 11:30 p. m., with a floor show at intermission.

Admission is 15 cents per person. The canteen in Home Ec building will be open during the evening. Chairman of the dance committee is Marjorie Claney. Phyllis Dodge and Peggy Larson are in charge of decorations and publicity.

School of Music Opens Tryouts For 'Messiah'

Tryouts for solo parts in Handel's "Messiah" will be held Nov. 10, immediately following the school of music weekly recital in Temple theater.

The Messiah has become an annual feature here, and it will be sung for the 48th consecutive time on this campus just before Christmas vacation.

The oratorio will, as usual, be under the direction of Dr. A. E. Westbrook and will be presented in the Coliseum by the school of fine arts, the school of music, and singers from the various university choral organizations.

Foundation Issues First Publication

"Nebraska Today", the first bulletin of its kind, was issued yesterday to 200 Nebraska high schools by the student foundation, according to Pollyann Petty, president. The bulletin is designed to publicize the university in the various high schools and to acquaint potential students with the facilities offered by the university.

Published Monthly.

Published once a month, "Nebraska Today" advertises to high schools what the university is doing in the way of war and campus activities. In return, high schools are requested to send in articles of interest from their school to the student foundation. These articles will then be printed in the next issue.

Typing, stenciling, and all other work is done within the student foundation thru the direction of Mary Alice Lehr, editor. Evelyn Leamer was associate editor for this edition.

Kappa Phi Holds Annual Sister Dinner, Pledging

New members of Kappa Phi, Methodist women's association, were pledged at St. Paul church, last week.

They are Isadore Brown, La Rue Courtney, Helen Fricke, Betsy Kavanda, Jean Neff, Alice Rife, Harriett Fenler, June Spleenan and Zelma Waldo. Pledging was followed by the annual Sister dinner.

The Marie Davis pin, awarded each year to an outstanding student in Kappa Phi, was received by Miss Margaret Iwata, junior in Arts and Science.

visitor to the Delta Gammas, while the Phi Phis, Alpha Phis, Alpha Chis and every other house have regular English-French-and-dancing lesson sessions.

Another favorite haunt of the Frenchmen are the downtown Lincolnette dances, where many a belle of the ball has been duly impressed by their prowess in waltzing.

Some of the facts gleaned from Vigilant French observation are that American girls smoke too much, that steaks are nothing but a mirage, and that ice cream is the dream of any hungry little boy come true.

Study Mechanics

This group of Frenchmen have come to the states to study the mechanics of American aircraft. Most of them will be instructors in the French army upon completion of the course. They came here by way of Casablanca, which they describe as the best place not to be unless it is necessary.

About the Base, and Lincoln, and the campus, they are all most enthusiastic. "The base for us is a paradise. We eat too much that it is not good for us. For we cannot eat so much, because our stomachs have contracted as a result of shortened French rations."

Don Olive Drabs.

These French soldiers will be dressed as American soldiers in olive drab except the tricolor insignia on their left arm, and they will retain their French insignia of rank. For dress they may or may not wear the French uniform of dark blue. The French non-commissioned officer wears gold epaulets, while a commissioned officer bears gold epaulets with rope braid.
