Comment . . .

Congratulations to the nine new PBK's, who just received the highest honor possible for high scholarship . . . to Lois Crozer for getting people excited in the WSSF drive on American campuses and making us see what the money given really goes for . . . to all people who didn't get down slips for the first six weeks.

Classes Deserve Some Attention

In answer to the following letter, we emphasize the fact that students are supposed to go to school to learn, not entirely for honors of another sort. The statement, "we get out of our classes what we put into them" deserves to be underlined.

Dear Editor:

Since it seems to be a time of asking questions, may I interject a few?

Why all this fuss about politics and personalities on the campus? It would seem from the attention it has been getting that it was a matter of life and death with a great number of people. I may be laboring under false delusions, but I always have thought that college was supposed to be an opportunity for preparing for the future and for making oneself more able to cope with the world later on . . . an opportunity to develop something within ourselves that may add to society as a whole. If such is the case and I haven't been wrong, then where is the justification for all this todoo about whether one person or another with certain backing gets an office or an honor? If college is a preparation and proving ground, what difference does it make who gets the position as long as they deserve it?

In 1960 what difference will it make who was Nebraska Sweetheart in 1946? Those titles of "queen of this or that" are so numerous it is doubtful there is any honor to them at all. If the sororities feel they must have so many queens to show the new rushees to prove how good a gang they are, perhaps the sororities should do a little introspection and rediscover what their original purpose was instead of what they have developed into.

How about trying just for once letting someone run for an office on his own merits, i. e., neither one or the other party backing him. That's when you'll find out what a person has that deserves election. Then you'll get rid of all the questions about whether those people who get high honors are deserving of them.

And if this is a preparatory round for future reference, how about our studying a little more and knowing what the professor is talking about in class? If such as that were to happen, just possibly classes would get into subjects a little deeper and Nebraska graduates, as has happened so many times, wouldn't feel so dumb when talking to other college graduates. It's about time we stopped giving the professor all the blame for classes being dull and realize that we get out of them what we put into them.

All in all, why don't we all stop a minute and ask ourselves why we're here going to school instead of helping directly with the war effort? If after that this political hauble can continue, I agree I've had the wrong idea. . . . Gertrude Lyon.

BY SHIRLEY KEITH.

Another weekend calls hither, and it looks like we're in for many a fine time.

The Alpha Chi's are house partying Saturday night, and if we jaunt over there, we'll be seen! Shirley Staats with Boz Buxton ATO. Joyce Stuve will be with Tommy Dworak ATO. ASTP cadet Johnny Bartholomew will be jivin' with Betty Ed Strain and Barbara Emerson with Mickey Allen. Another couple we've seen together frequently is Martha Whitehead and John Edwards, Beta.

Speaking of Betas, Bob Smith intends to be with Betty Mahan, and Bush Gallagher with Peggy Shelley.

Tri Delt Trippings.

Let's trip over to the Tri Delt house for a bit: Looks like Peggy Peters is with Jack Trenchard DU, former NU student, home now on furlough from New York. A regular weekend visitor to see Jeanne Coffeen is Dick Henninger from the Harvard Air Base. And incidentally Marian White is hitting it off with ASTP Peter Daniels just here from England, while Mary Eilan Stuart dates ASTP Tony Barnabee.

Alpha Xi's to Seward.

The Alpha Xi Deltas are jaunting to Seward this weekend to attend the wedding of Mary Eilan Berger. Lucky fellow is Bob Hill. Quentin Pearson is visiting Helen West Thursday while waiting for his call into the Air Corps.

Pi Phi Barbara Sturgess's heart has been sorta taken over by the army, namely one Bill Jennings. You should see her cute wooly dog.

More Pins.

Here's another pinned lass. Chi O Dorothy Black has the Sigma Nu pin of Dick Batchelder. Then as we go on to diamonds we find one Madeline Hecker with said diamond from Bill Chescheir. After the diamond there comes, of course, that golden band, and the Nebraska coed this time is Delores Blair, Chi O. The wedding took place about two weeks ago, and the lucky fellow was Harry Stearns, former Sig Alph pledge.

Well, here we go over to Gamma Phi Beta house where Clarice Marshall is looking for the return of Dale Wolf, Farm House innocent of last year, who will be back any day from Camp Roberts. People tell me that there is some kind or other of a friendly feud going on between them at present. Joan Lehman will be swinging out at the Kappa Sig barn dance this Saturday with Bob Harris. One Jean Frescoln is devoting her time

We Present Polly Petty

The girl who "central" will say is at the Student Foundation, who the Student Foundation will suggest may be at the Alpha Phi house, who the Alpha Phi's will say may be at Ellen Smith Hall, who Ellen Smith Hall will suggest may be at the Panhellenic Office, the girl who without a doubt is the hardest girl on the campus to find, is Polly Petty.

Maybe this senior finds herself a little preoccupied because she's a member of the Student Union board, president of Student Foundation, president of Alpha Phi and chairman of Pan-Hellenic week.

As the Pep Queen for '43, good-natured Polly braved the storm at the Homecoming game when she was presented at the half. Luckily for her, she likes to swim. She's not too good at tennis, she says; but that wasn't

From Lincoln Journal a very good day for tennis anyway.

Getting philosophical, Polly says she loves people—and particularly art, with a capital "A." She likes to make friends and dance. If there's any connection between friends and dance and poor Art, with a capital "A."

If she's accused of being a little busy, Polly's blue eyes just twinkle. She knows there's still one get-away—Student Foundation "literature" to be mailed at the downtown post office. Never too big for a job, Polly will probably lick the stamps along with little freshmen workers.

Meanwhile seven other little freshmen, sent by seven different organizations, will be tramping the campus frantically searching for a dark haired, slender, well-known senior who answers to the name of Polly Petty.

Council . . .

to Don Wenzloff who is here on furlough from Penn U.

There will be a battle figuratively speaking, this weekend between the army and navy when Virginia Buckingham speeds up to Omaha to date Dick Hawes (representing army) on Friday and Logan Haycraft navy on Saturday. Say, which will it be Sunday?

On their way to Omaha this weekend will be Janet Krause and Kay Detweiler Delta Gammass, to see Nat Kline and Vern Deyke (respectively) who are Phi Rho's in Nebraska Med School.

Bill McBride, Beta, recently returned to be stationed at NU and also returned to visit Alpha Phi House, namely Betty Jerner. Could it be a flame still burns?—Jean Potalle, Chi O, went to Ames last weekend to see Pinnacle, Emmitt Pfeifer, Phi Gam of last year.

No doubt, chillun, you'll be seein' these couples and dozens more this weekend.

So long!

on the Council in proportion to votes received, was introduced by Bob Henderson. Prof. Lantz explained that each party was duly represented according to count of votes cast; so action would be unnecessary.

Confirm Appointments.

Janet Krause, Polly Petty, Marjorie Holmes and Milford Epp were officially recognized by the Council as permanent members of the Union Board. Heretofore, they had been named guest members, until the Council could pass on the question.

According to Prof. Lantz, the AUF is not yet an organization, as was erroneously reported in the Nebraskan, and cannot hold that status until the Council has approved it. Bob Henderson expressed intention of presenting the plan for a united fund drive as soon as it has been organized.

A DURATION DO!

Your shirts are valuable items these days and appreciate special handling.

Turn up your shirt collar before sending it to the laundry. A collar washed flat doesn't fray so easily at the crease.

Have your shirts laundered frequently. A too-soiled shirt requires more scrubbing and consequently wears out more quickly.

Go easy on the starch. Starching stiffens fabric, so that it breaks instead of bending.

When you buy, buy Arrow. Arrow shirts are longer-lasting, better-fitting, and carry the Sanforized label (fabric shrinkage less than 1%).
