

Co. C Defeats Fighting 610 Easily 53 to 19

Traveling out to Ag College to take on the 610th Training Group from the Lincoln Air Base, Company C from the library returned with an easy 53 to 19 victory over the fliers. The game was played at four o'clock yesterday afternoon in the Ag gym, instead of in the coliseum as planned.

The Smithmen's starting team of Dobrer and Calkins at forward, Lind at center, and Burstein and Burdette in the guard spots, jumped right off into the lead, the winners ran the score to 16-0 before the airmen registered a field goal. Big Cliff Lind was the scoring sparkplug for the C men, dumping in 17 points in the little more than half of the game that he played. Everyone on the bench saw action against the out-classed but game Air Base team. At the half, the score stood at 28 to 10, with Mullenax and Boyd dropping in two field goals apiece for the 610th.

Second Five Works Well.

C Company's second five, composed of Maxwell and Lampshire in the forward slots, big George Bosma at center, with Stynes at one guard and Kling and Peterson alternating at the other, took over in the closing minutes of the first half, and started off the second stanza. Bosma showed promise in the pivot spot, tossing in four field goals.

The Air Corps crew also tossed their whole squad in late in the second period. The losers were handicapped by lack of practice time, though they're playing regularly in the league at the base. One of their regulars, Lieutenant Hungerford, was unable to play. They stayed in there all the way fighting, but just couldn't match the experience and conditioning of the AST quintet.

Lind Leads Scoring.

Besides Lind's 17 points, Milt Dobrer played a good floor game and added 9 counters to the total. Bosma had 8 and the rest was distributed quite evenly. Sergeant Mullenax led the airmen's offense with 6 points, while Boyd and Nommensen registered two field goals apiece.

STAR Men Defeat; Third Straight Win

Although handicapped by the loss of two of their players, the STAR quintet won a 29-10 victory over Company A on Friday night in the coliseum. It marks the third consecutive win for a greatly improved STAR team.

Company A also showed speed and a sparkling passing attack, which, however, was thoroughly throttled by the STARs' airtight defense.

STAR Notes

BY SGT. C. D. SHOKES.

The STAR unit lost probably the best public relations man it ever had last Thursday when Sergeant Shokes was assigned to Georgetown university. For the past three months Sergeant Shokes kept us informed on all the activities at the STAR unit, not only in the Daily Nebraskan, but also in the Lincoln newspapers. His articles became well recognized and were climaxed when Professor Wimberly asked him to write something for the Prairie Schooner. Perhaps readers of this popular literary magazine will soon see the article on Gullah, a Negro dialect, by Sergeant Shokes.

Survey STARs' Hobbies.

A survey of the STAR men's hobbies proved more interesting than a bunch of recruits. We found all sorts of characters, from demonologists to mental telepathists. These two were the most absorbing and their tales would even put to shame the radio program "Inner Sanctum." A number of men listed "Women" as their hobby.

Quintet Triumphs.

The STAR quintet really found its mark last Tuesday evening when it rolled to a score of 53-27 over a fighting Air Corps team at the Coliseum. The game was hard fought all the way in spite of the lop-sided figures. At times the Air Corps put up a brilliant defense, which momentarily stopped the STARs.

This is the second straight win for the STARs, after two previous defeats. They are no longer the "green" quintet which started playing three weeks ago. The boys are now a working unit and hope to erase their earlier setbacks. From the exhibition of play they displayed against the Air Corps they proved they are in the running for the basketball championship among the Army units stationed at the University of Nebraska. The STAR team is composed of Lewis Green, Dave Preuss, John Bottorf, Harry Brickman, Fred Cassidy, Kenny Elson, R. Long, and C. M. Stephens; all of whom played a decisive part last Tuesday in keeping 'em frying.

Union Plans Two Dances For Army; Eddie Garner Featured On Saturday

Two dances have been planned for the trainees on campus in December. The first dance, on Saturday, Dec. 11, will feature Eddie Garner and the smooth rhythm emanating from his 12-piece orchestra. The affair will be held in the coliseum from 9 till 12 and admission for GIs and their dates will consist of presenting a yellow Student Union military membership card at the door. Stags are also welcome and Lincolnettes and War Council hostesses will be on hand to entertain and dance with the soldiers.

The second dance will be held in the Union on Dec. 18 and will be in the form of a Christmas party for the soldiers. Eddie Sheffert and his orchestra will serve up the music, while free cokes and brown-

POETRY

August Derleth, literary editor of "The Capital Times" and author of thirty books, says: "It is indeed a fine magazine, and Dr. Wimberly's editorship has been truly inspirational in the material he has chosen to present. I think it beyond doubt not only one of the best magazines of its kind in the mid-west, but also in America."
