

Jr. Division Registration Increases

Applications in the first two days of registration for junior division jumped to 450, as compared to 345 for the same period last year, according to Dean Nels A. Bengston.

Further applications are to be left with the dean of each student's college or with the dean of the junior division before Saturday, closing date for registration. Registration will not be complete until fees have been paid in Memorial hall Jan. 26, to Jan. 28.

All upperclassmen must see their advisors between Jan. 10-15, and ag college students confer Jan. 10-12.

Changes in registration and assignment can be made after Monday, Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, director of admissions said. Information regarding closed sections can be obtained from the assignment committee.

Henry Scott, Pianist, Gives Union Recital

Henry Scott, hilarious virtuoso of the piano, will make his second appearance of the campus Sunday, January 23, in a recital of concert and entertainment selections, beginning at 4 p. m.

"Henry Scott brought down the house and broke the curtain call record with one of the greatest if not the greatest programs ever to invade the famous New York Town Hall," wrote Edward H. Dunkum, music critic for the Metronome magazine.

Second Recital.

Scott's performance last year proved to be one of the best-attended programs of the year. He specializes in mimicing various pianists and has arranged several speciality numbers himself.

Scott graduated from Syracuse university's school of music, and at the present time is booked by an agency to tour throughout the United States. He has given con-

(See SCOTT, page 2.)

Romeo Joe Wins Hearts With Butter

The night echoed with the ringing voices of Frank Sinatra hopefuls; the moon shone down in all its glory, and the stars glistened in the sky. It was the night for losing hearts, but all that was lost was an insignificant pound of butter.

The Sig Eps were singing with great enthusiasm, and the girls in the residence halls were leaning on their elbows, with greasy faces and straggly hair hanging out of the windows. Suddenly, a pound of golden beauty slipped from its place on the window sill, and fell in the midst of the group of serenaders. After the Sig Eps picked themselves off the ground, they indulged in a short game of football with the butter. After succeeding in finally losing it, the fellows went gaily on their way, leaving two screaming owners in the lurch.

Ah, Romeo!

Enter the hero, Joe, the campus cop, was making his rounds, when he noticed the frantic females in the window, and offered to help them. So Joe searched, and looked, and poked into every nook and cranny for what seemed hours to the girls.

There stood Joe, a smile on his face, a song in his heart, and a pound of butter in his arms, playing the perfect Romeo beneath the balcony of the perfect audience. If Joe needed a date badly, it is certain he would have had little trouble securing one then.

Correction . . .

An error in the Cornhusker's ad in Sunday's Rag stated that there are only 35 Cornhuskers available. The amount is supposed to be 135. The Nebraskan is sorry.

From Lincoln Journal.
COLONEL H. R. TURNER
... "With fraternity spirit, we will win."

Turner Tells Panhel 'Spirit To Win War'

By maintaining a true sorority and fraternity spirit, we cannot fail to win the war and peace, Colonel H. R. Turner told Panhellenic representatives at their January meeting held Monday.

Col. Turner, chairman of the inter-fraternity advisory council which was organized last year to keep fraternities on the Nebraska campus, outlined the difficulties in maintaining fraternities during war times.

Consolidate Houses

"The advisory council discarded the old interfraternity rules and drew up some new ones with the purpose of consolidating several groups into one house," Col. Turner said. "We auctioned furniture from some houses and the money was put into war bonds."

"We should think seriously today. If we conserve on luxuries, tires, gas, etc., the boys will be able to come back to fraternities which have been maintained by alumni groups and by the fraternity charters," Col. Turner said.

C. Y. Thompson Heads UN Board of Regents

C. Y. Thompson of West Point has been elected president of the Nebraska board of regents, succeeding Stanley Long of Grand Island, it was announced following the annual meeting of the board Monday. Marion A. Shaw of David City is the new vice-president. The board's representative of the University Foundation, organization for the handling of gifts and bequests, is Robert W. Devoe of Lincoln.

A gift of $400 from the American Foundation of pharmaceutical education to be used in the college of pharmacy was accepted by the board.

Med School Changes.

Business at the meeting included recognition of changes in the college of medicine staff at Omaha. The changes are as follows:

Resignations: Isabel Blain, instructor in surgical technique in nursing and supervisor of operating rooms; Fannie Rosenberg, assistant professor of obstetrical nursing service.

Appointments: Elizabeth C. Blair, acting supervisor of obstetrical nursing service and instructor.

(See THOMPSON, page 2.)

Lt. Col. Foster, Grad, Receives Military Praise

Lt. Col. Edward T. Foster, graduate of the university college of architectural engineering in 1926, now at field artillery headquarters with the Fifth army, has been commended for the excellent work he is doing in North Africa.

He wrote to Lincoln friends, recently, describing the Pasha's dinner for the General Staff and a reception of the American Counsel at Casablanca.

The Nebraskan

Vol. 85, No. 76

LINCOLN, NEBRASKA,

Wednesday, January 12, 1944

War Council Sets Stamp Drive Goal of $2,000

Setting the goal at $2,000, the War Council decided, in a meeting yesterday, to hold a special university drive in connection with the national fourth war loan drive, to be launched January 18.

Over $4,000 in war stamps and bonds were sold on the university campus during the second semester of last year, according to a report by Mary Russel, Tassel representative. This year the Posters and slogans, concerning the drive, will be displayed in buildings and houses on the campus to serve as constant reminders that the students have $2,000 in bonds and stamps to buy.

$287.50 Highest Sale.

In order to reach last year's total sale of stamps, students will have to buy over $3,000 worth.

The highest sales for one day last year was $287.50, while the most stamps bought on one day this year totaled only $173.15.

The War Council is still working on plans for the campaign which will resume after exam week. Further information concerning this will be disclosed in later editions of the Nebraskan.

SPECIAL NOTICE!!

All students, who signed up for Rag Tags, Stamp sales, and Emergency relief are to meet with Natalie Neumann Thursday at 5:00 in the Union, room 315, to make arrangements for selling stamps for this drive. They will work Tuesday, Thursday and Friday, and Tassels will take booths Wednesday.

Drive Starts Tuesday.

The campus drive will begin next Tuesday with Tassels and special-committee students selling stamps in Andrews, Soch, and the Union. The stamp sales will continue every day until January 24th, when exams start.

total sales, to date, have been $935.75—a decline of over $3,000. The problem of bringing up the present figure to a par with last year's sales, was discussed by the council.

Hey, Boys -- Round One Coming Up

"A man in the theater is worth two in the chorus."

Competition between the University Theater and Dr. A. E. Westbrook's chorus, in the race for civilian men, may bring said subjects into the limelight in the near future.

Yes, the situation is getting truly desperate! To enable the theater to put on the kind of plays everyone wants to see they must have civilian men to play the parts. Although tryouts are tonight in Temple 154 at 7, Berne Enslin, director of the theater, cannot even choose a play until he knows the man situation.

With the next play scheduled for Feb. 16, 17 and 18, tryouts will be held for two tentative plays: "Little Foxes," by Lillian Hellman and "Heart of a City," by Leslie Storm. The first play, requiring six men and four women, will probably be given if enough men show up for castings.

Otherwise, the second play, requiring three men, and 13 women, might take the stage, and theater members believe there are too many women on the campus already to have to go to a play and just see a lot more.

With 915 civilian men enrolled in the university, according to the November 29 census, there should be enough to go around in both the chorus and the theater.

Engineering Grad Receives Talbot Martin Award

The Talbot G. Martin award for the year 1943 for outstanding contributions has been given to Dr. Arthur Bessey Smith, university college of engineering graduate of 1901.

Dr. Smith's contributions have been in the field of research and development and include many improvements and inventions. The award is presented annually by the Automatic Electric company of Chicago and its affiliated companies.

Freshmen Coeds Attend YWCA Frosh Frolics

All freshmen are invited to attend the YWCA Frosh Frolics Wednesday at 4 p. m. in Ellen Smith.

This is the second Frolics given this year and no regular freshman commission group meetings will be held this week. Everyone is asked to bring 5c for refreshments.

Hicks Leads City Taxation Committee

Clifford Hicks, professor of economics, has been named chairman of a special tax committee of seven appointed by Mayor Lloyd Marti. Others in the group are

From Lincoln Journal.
Professor Hicks.

O. R. Martin, also of the department of economics; Clarence Miles, W. A. Robbins, R. E. Harrington, C. E. Swanson and Wheaton Battey.

The committee will function, without pay, for the purpose of assisting the city council in reaching conclusions as to better taxation methods and results. They will make a comprehensive study of sources of tax money, methods of assessment and system of collection.

They are to make recommendations as to possible additional sources of revenue and possible changes in the city charter or statutes.

The first meeting will be held Tuesday, Jan. 18.

'44 Yearbook Orders More Book Covers

All 1944 Cornhusker yearbooks will have the same cover, contrary to a previous statement that not over 1,800 similar covers could be guaranteed. Bob Henderson, business manager, announced that it was possible to put in an order for the 150 additional covers on Jan. 8. They are made by the David J. Mallory company which has supplied covers for the yearbook for 18 years.

A total of 1950 books will be printed, only 1900 of which are available for sale. The Cornhusker will be 320 pages long. All the pages have been filled and arranged.

Layouts and engravings for the military section have been completed. Layouts for the class section have been sent to the engraver. The first three sections are well on their way to the printer. The Cornhusker goes to press March 15.

Correction . . .

Judges for the Prairie Schooner contest, announced in Sunday's Rag as Miss Louise Pound, Kenneth Forward and Orin Stepanek, are incorrect. The third judge is Martin Peterson, assistant professor of English, not Mr. Stepanek. The Nebraskan is sorry.

From Lincoln Journal.
C. Y. THOMPSON
... elected president of board of regents.

Students Give Ag Leap Year Dance Saturday

Second student-sponsored dance on the ag campus will be a Leap Year dance next Saturday night. The dance will be held from 8 to 11 p. m. in the college activities building and will be open to all civilian and military students on the campus.

Gladys Bowman and Frances Jane Howell are co-chairmen of the dance.

"College English" Prints Article by Miss Pound

"The Future of Poetry," an article by Professor Louise Pound of the Department of English, appears in the January issue of College English.