'Check This' and Be Right There With the Big Boys

BY RUTH KORB.

In 1920, college slang took the rather grotesque forms of "23 Skidoo" and "I love my wife, but, oh you kid!" and, after consistent probing into the subject, the college students of 1944 have advanced slang to a much higher degree of perfection.

"Fella!" is a term used to denote anyone and anything within reach of the speaker's voice, and does not necessarily mean one of the male sex. "Hit the road" is slightly antiquated but still used, and means to get out, but fast. "Best you bring your car" is a shortened way of saying that it would be preferable if you brought your car. "Knock it off" is a more expressive way of telling someone to forget it. "Here's my five, now count 'em, now blow 'em, now stow 'em," simply means to shake a hand and then put your own in your own pocket (confusing, isn't it?).

"The Kid" is often used by the speaker to point the finger of attention to himself, perhaps to "mooch," or borrow, a match or a drink, or something. "Saroot" or "smeegie" is commonly and widely used in place of the more trite word "cigaret." When a male is on the hunt for a female, he often refers to it as "snipe" hunting, which may have a deeper meaning than meets the eye.

Slick Chick is Good.

"Chick" is used, evidently affectionately, for a fellow's girl, and a "slick chick" is even better. "Batting the breeze" or having a "bull session" is good old "blowing" or expounding on various subjects. And then we always have

"coming in on the noon balloon from Rangoon" which expresses the fact that someone has just arrived from somewhere. "Put the show on the road" is a vehement command to get things started. "Three beers for three dears" means that three charming people want three charming beers. "Smooth" is used to describe someone that's got it, which is the best way I can describe it. "Check this" or "type this" means to observe closely the subject the speaker is referring to. "Groceries" is often used by a fellow to describe a favorable piece of merchandise, or a good-looking girl.

Miss Mary Helen Farrar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Farrar of Hyannis, will marry Maj. Robert Marland of Danielson, Conn., tonight at Holy Trinity Episcopal church. Miss Joan Farrar, sister of the bride, will be attendant. First Lt. Joe Landis will serve as best man.

Miss Farrar is a member of Kappa Alpha Theta at the university. Major Marland is a graduate of Green Mountain college, Vermont, and attended Dartmouth.

The groom is stationed at the Fairmont Air Base and the couple will reside at York.

Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock the wedding of Miss Mary Lee Tomlinson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Tomlinson, to Lt. William T. Edwards, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Edwards, took place at the home of the bride's parents. Attending the bride was her sister, Mrs. Forrest Bachman, and best man was John Edwards, brother of the groom.

Mrs. Edwards is a member of Delta Gamma at the university. Lieutenant Edwards is a graduate of UN and a member of Beta Theta Pi.

Lieutenant Edwards is stationed at Camp Gruber, Okl., and the couple will make their home at Muskogee.

On Saturday afternoon at 5 o'clock, Miss Mary Louise Simpson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ward E. Simpson, became the bride of Lt. Charles John Conlin, son of Mrs. John Conlin of Cleveland. Mrs. Lowell Bruce Dwinell, sorority sister of the bride, served as matron of honor, and Miss Virginia Lewis attended as maid of honor. Lt. J. Higgins of Maine served as best man.

The bride, former student of the university, is a member of Pi Beta Phi. The groom, a graduate of Colgate, is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

The couple will live in McCook, where Lieutenant Conlin is stationed at the air base.

Betty Jane Dickerson is new president of Pi Beta Phi as of last Monday night when the election was held.

Kappa Alpha Theta has as new president, Marjorie Christensen.

ie, was, "Frankie, you send me!" which means just what I said. And we couldn't leave out the many expressions for being intoxicated—"Stiff," "tight," "loose as a goose," "potted like a plant," "inebriated," "high," "stinko" and "looped" are some of the more frequent ones.

As a finale, I present two "College Joes" having a little talk, which is simple, clear, and incoherent to anyone that isn't in, isn't one of the fella's.

"Hey, fella, what d'yuh know?" "A lot more than I'm telling." "Have a glove. Are you in with Flynn, or out with Stout?"

"To tell the truth, I'm tight with Stite. Best you have a weed."

"Neat. Have you checked the new glad rags? I've been walking thru the crossroads of the nation, shoplifting some awfully nice things."

"Aw, knock it off. It's all in your mind. You look like the saddest sack I have ever seen."

"Well, c'est la guerre." Hey! Catch that chick tripping down the sidewalk. Neat, with chrome!"

"And she isn't stacked bad, either." But enough of this love talk. Got to get the show on the road and hit the books. See ya' liquor. Alcohol ya."

Society . . . The Worm Turns—Brings Dirt to Light

Exam week was indeed too much—and we don't mean from exams. What's becoming of the campus when our more "prominent campus citizens" are found in fraternity houses without housemothers? Granted that it's fun but what a future.

These confusing triangles—Once upon a time one Delta Gamma Betty "Blitz" Lillibridge was wearing the DU pin of one Don Young. Then this combination was no more—"Blitz" gave the pin back and left town. Then a Ruth Ferguson entered the picture and there were some good times—but "Blitz" still gets the big rush when she "comes to town," and maybe she'll "come to time" yet. How about that, Ruth, and you with a diamond to begin with!

Dissipation Along "Lines". And with dissipation in mind, we might suggest that bottles of milk and other things be left alone before a big project as a serenade is undertaken—it makes people mighty sad to see (and hear) attempts and then failure.

Nice news here—Nina Scott, Delta Gamma, has been wearing the DU pin of Dave Andrews for ever so long. She hasn't been trying to hold out on us but we didn't find out till now. Alpha Phi Jean Nordstrom is another longtime pin-bearer—pinmate is Phi Delt Norrie Lehmer. ChiO Lois Metcalf is back in school with the Sigma Nu pin of Jack Kennedy, now in advanced air corps training at Deming, N. M.

Causes of Wonder. Wonder—how many coeds would give an arm for a date with Beta John Anderson (after strategic use of it on the date, of course)—what UN will be like as a girl's school, come the day—why it takes lieutenants to make life so interesting (am I kidding?)—what Gamma Phi Joy Laune will do now that Steve Cole, ATO "smooth boy" is gone to the army—why I don't call it quits and make a public plea for assistance, news or, better still, dirty old rumor on accounts cuz that's what's fun.
