Maybe it's the elections, maybe it's the weather, maybe it's the AST leaving, or maybe it's just the new tax on lipstick. Anyway strange things are happening.

Very strange indeed is the way UN coeds are running madly from Mortar Board to registrar's office, to professor's office, to registrar's office and back to Mortar Board—getting down slips removed we hear. Incompletes that have been wreaking their merry havoc for months are suddenly being cleaned up with a frenzy that ought to mean something. Elections are coming and these are the ways of activity women.

And how about the new sign we've seen around—TBK? Something new has definitely been added to the campus underground. Just what it means remains to be seen, as we no doubt shall in time.

Another item on the list of pre-election jitters, are the impromptu and secret MB meetings. No longer is Tuesday night the time for "big business." It's all the time now. We wonder when they find time for things like eating and sleeping.

Not an advertisement—The Crib has suddenly developed a nasty attitude about letting Nebraskan workers eat. No more food for the staff is the ultimatum. In case anyone is interested, we paid out $3 too.

with Rabbi Myer Marx of the South street synagog speaking on the "Jewish Religion." Jane Dalthrop will lead the devotion. The meeting will be followed by a 25c supper.

Hillel will sponsor a brunch following the 11:45 Sunday services at the synagog on 18th and L streets for the trainees and university students. Rabbi Harry Jolt will also hold services tonight at 8 p. m.

Communion Every Thursday.
Communion will be served at 7 and 11 a. m. every Thursday during Lent at the Episcopal church, 13th and R streets. Rev. L. W. McMillin will instruct confirmation classes every Tuesday at 7:30, and hold Sunday services at 8:30 and 11 a. m.

Lutheran chapel services for students and service men will be held at 11 a. m. Sunday in room 315 of the Union with Rev. Henry Erck, university pastor, delivering the sermon, "Jesus Fourth Words From the Cross: My God, My God, Why Hast Thou Forsaken Me."

Wesley Foundation Student Fellowship, which meets at 5:30 Sunday evening at the St. Paul church will have a discussion on the Postwar World with Ray Rice leading the group in the discussion.

get you there. "Nevermore" is a lovely land, all consisting of irregular shapes, which looks like some carpenter got carried away. This exhibit not only improves your mind, as you can easily see from my literary comments, but

Rev. Ray Kearns Addresses Home Ec Club Meeting

At the first of a series of home ec club meetings dealing with home ec professions, held last night, Rev. Ray Kearns spoke on Christian home life and the responsibilities of students toward the future. "Upon the quality of our homes rests the future of both our country and the world," he stated.

"The increasing amount of juvenile delinquency has brought the problem of home and what it should be into the minds of the people," he said, when dealing with the primary qualities of a home.

Rev. Mr. Kearns' talk followed group singing led by Julia Crom, and a business meeting. The president, Blanche Reid, presented the new members of the home ec council, and Gladys Bowman, program chairman, presented the program outline for the remainder of the year.

substitutes for any old broken mirrors. If you ever find yourself without the looking glass, flip over, and take a good look at the "Laughing Clown," a perfect specimen of manhood, with a look that no "campus Joe" could hope to perfect in a million years.

Looking around and finding myself alone, I again became frightened, and, with one parting look at "modern art," I ran, not walked to the nearest exit.

Two Massachusetts Institute of Technology hitch-hikers recently got a lift with a lady who surprised them with the following conversation:

We Point with Pride

. . . to the STAR unit, basic engineers and A&L servicemen leaving the campus, who are examples of the noteworthy effort of army and civilian population of the university to co-operate for scholastic progress, military excellence, social success.

And View with Alarm

. . . the Mortar Boards. Their earnestly-advanced theory of abandoning political activity has evidently lost to its running mate of traditional "bossism."

. . . the soldier vote bill, provisions of which are too much of a compromise to justify time lost in argument, better spent in state co-ordination of voting mechanism to prevent possible disfranchisement in the primaries, because of avoidable delay.

It Says Here . . . PiKA "Operators" Operate

Spring at last—we keep trying to tell ourselves as we get a glimpse of old Sol and continue to button our coats up at the neck. . . But it's not a good sign when postponements and postponements occur, as big dinner shin-digs and stuff. On the other hand, there's the Sig Ep Blue Party which is really coming off—prexy Gene Dixon will be with Alpha Chi Jean Larson which isn't a new combination by a long way—and neither is the one of Cap Thiesen and Pi Phi Patty Welch.

What's the matter—with Gamma Phi Harriett Gartner these days—most blind dates don't have the tremendous effect that aviation student Warren Keyes seems to have had on her—spring fever? Maybe, but we doubt it!

Castles Walk Eternal
Something has gotten into the PiKA's on this campus without a doubt—for Wednesday night Chuck Gleason, formerly a Boulder boy, lost his badge to dorm girl Kathy Schaecker which makes the "Castle Association" of war show fame something definite, but definitely. . .

Two more "deals" would give one the impression of being nicely sewed up as dorm's Vickie Chilquist receives a diamond from one George South, Flight Officer Bombardier, one girl who has stuck to her decision to "wait for" and "be good" since way last year. . . SDT Annette Mandelburg is out of circulation cuz of the Phi Sigma Delta pin of "Momo" Silverman of Boulder . . . and over at this house, who gets more mail from males, we wonder, than Evelyn Kuhn and Estelle Mozer from "Harry" and "Si", theirs "respectively"?

For things amusin' but confusin' ask Kappa Sig "Turk" Tangeman and Phi Delt Doug Nelson what's fun about going to the dorm and buzzing for fens that aren't even there—the other night, it was Lois Johnson and Theta Donna Leigh Brugh, we think—Donna was swimming so the story goes, we hear—but one can't be too sure of anything these days, huh?

Wings Replace Ring
It seems that recently Alpha

Phi Dorothy Huffman went down to Georgia to visit fiance, Lt. Aubrey Pettit, former Kappa Sig; big time was expected by all but instead the lady comes back without the diamond she had when she went down and what's this about the pair of Navy wings we hear she has already so soon? So speaking of deals and deals, what is the deal?

Big question mark of the week: now that Johnnie Bauermeister is gone again, will Pi Phi Mary Louise Goodwin be lonesome,—and if so, in what degree?—and we don't mean in Arts and Sciences. . .
