

Nebraskan Prints Interpretation of Regulations Governing Procedures During Council Election

Rules governing students elections, as interpreted in 1941 by the judiciary committee of the Student Council, must be strictly adhered to by candidates in the spring election to be held April 19. The rules are as follows:

From Article IV of the constitution:

No vote shall be solicited at the polls or in the building in which the election is being held during election day. No money shall be spent in behalf of any candidate. No printed, mimeographed, typed or otherwise printed material in behalf of any candidate shall be permitted except in impartial announcements of the candidates appearing in the press. Any candidate violating these rules either in person or through his supporters shall thereby become ineligible.

The interpretation as handed down by the judiciary committee agrees on the following definitions and interpretations of Article IV of the rules for student elections. This is done at the request of the faculty committee on student organizations and social functions.

"No vote shall be solicited" shall mean: no person eligible to vote for any candidate shall be influenced in any way by means of the spoken or written word or any other means to cast his ballot for any particular candidate; nor shall any such person be influenced in any way to vote at all.

"At the polls or within the building in which the election is being held" shall mean: any place within said building or on the steps, walks or drives leading from the adjoining public streets or streets up to the building. It shall also include the lawn adjoining the building. The phrase "at the polls" shall mean: at the place or places where passing out of ballots, marking of ballots, and placing of ballots in the ballot-boxes is taking place.

"During election day" shall mean any time from 12 o'clock midnight of the day preceding the election to the time that the polls are officially closed.

"No money" shall mean: no cash, checks, mail order drafts, stamps or credit.

"Shall be spent" shall mean: shall be exchanged, traded or given away in any manner.

"In behalf of any candidate" shall mean: in any manner which would in any way influence the results of the election. This would include any manner which would in any way influence a voter to cast his vote for any particular candidate, or candidates, whose name, or names, appear on the ballots. The term candidate shall include persons whose names appear on the ballots, and also the political parties with which they may be affiliated.

This definition of "candidate" shall be followed wherever the term appears in this article. A person whose name is to appear on the ballot shall be considered as a candidate any time within the two weeks' period directly prior to the election and including election day, irrespective of whether the person has been officially or unofficially announced as a nominee.

"No printed, mimeographed, typed, or otherwise published material" shall mean: no handbills, posters, papers, newspapers or any other type of materials or advertising on which appears any other type of pictorial representation of thought which material is transmitted by any voter by any means whatever or is posted in any place except the inside of a private home, boarding house, rooming house, fraternity house or sorority house. Any such material posted in the university residence halls for women will be considered "published materials."

"Shall be permitted" shall mean: shall be legal and in accord with this article.

"Impartial announcements" shall mean: a list of all candidates for all offices to be filled by the election, in which list the candidates' names must all appear correctly spelled, in the same kind of type, in the same shade and color of ink and with no extra markings, of any sort beneath, over, around, or beside any particular names which marking does not appear in the same way by all names in the list. Such lists may contain the political affiliations of all candidates but no other information about them unless such information is officially authorized by the Student Council.

The "press" shall mean: any publication which has the approval of the university publications board. In all cases the editors of such publications shall be responsible for what appears in the publication.

"Violating these rules" shall mean: in any way causing the rules of this article to be broken.

"Either in person or through his supporters" shall mean: either by a personal action or by the action of any one of his supporters or by any member of his political faction, no matter whether or not he knows that such action has been taken, is being taken, or will be taken.

In considering the definition of the term "candidate" the pen-

The election slate, as printed in the Nebraskan today, includes only the names of candidates who have been checked and approved by the Council election committee.

Students who go to the polls in the Union basement or at Ag hall will vote for the representatives to the Council from their respective colleges. Publications and an executive board ballots will be cast according to class status. Only men may vote for Ivy Day orator and juniors and seniors elect the seniors-at-large. All students must present student identification cards at the polls.

alty of violation of a rule shall apply to the individual with whom the violation is concerned. If the violation is concerned with a political party, then the penalty shall apply to all nominees affiliated with that party.

Ignorance of this article and its interpretation shall not be considered a valid excuse for the violation of rules either by an individual, group of individuals or a political faction.

Regular news items appearing in the "press" and concerning any candidate shall not be considered as violations of this article unless they contain editorial comment about the candidate or unless they are not impartial.
