

AUF Drive on UN Campus Opens With $2,400 Goal

All University Fund celebrates its first birthday on the campus next Monday with the opening of a drive for $2,400 to be divided between Nebraskans for Servicemen, the World Student Service Fund and the National War Fund.

Organized last year by Bob Henderson, student council member, and Jim Howe, first director of the group, AUF has decreased the number of campus drives for both on and off campus charitable organizations from two or three to one each semester.

Margaret Beede, present AUF

director, announced yesterday that every university student will be contacted and asked to contribute two dollars. Miss Beede pointed out that under the new system, students are not asked to give nearly as much as would be requested if each of the three organizations were conducting individual campaigns.

She further stated that one of the AUF aims is to contact all members of the university so that no one group will be forced to carry the weight of the drive. Nebraskans for Servicemen, the special weekly issue of The Nebraskan compiled for and mailed to former university students now in service, will receive $400 of the $2,400. The World Student Service Fund, an organization supplying text books and study materials for students who are now prisoners of war, will receive $1,000. The remaining $1,000 goes to the National War Fund.

Advisory Boards Function.

Staff members of AUF include, beside Miss Beede, divisional directors, a student advisory coun-

Jan Engle is treasurer, Alice Abel, head solicitor; Pat Garton, director of clerical work; and Betty Huston, publicity chairman.

Dorothy Carnahan, Ghita Hill, Harold Andersen, Blanche Reid and Nelda Oltman make up the student advisory board. Prof. C. M. Elliott is a hold-over member of the faculty and two more members will be chosen at the next meeting of the staff.

Students living in organized houses will be contacted by the solicitor for that house as soon and a faculty advisory board, as the drive opens Monday. The remainder of the student body will be contacted personally during the first few days of the drive. Names of group solicitors will be announced in Friday's Nebraskan.

In announcing the drive, Miss Beede stated "We're expecting every student to contribute to this semester's AUF drive. We are the luckiest people in the world to be here in school at a time like this, and surely everyone of us can give up one of our usual luxuries to give to such a worthwhile cause."

War Council Elects Van Sant Vice-President; Gains Members

Robert Van Sant was elected vice president of the Student War Council last night at the regular meeting held in the Student Union.

In response to the appeal of last week for more men on the Council, representatives from nearly all fraternities and men's organizations were present. In the discussion following the nominations, including three girls and Van Sant, it was pointed out that university men would feel more definitely a part of the council if there were a man elected to the office. He will assume the responsibilities of the office of vice president and chairman of the "On the Beam" committee immediately, with Marilyn Behm as his assistant.

Victory speaking tours were conducted Monday night in an effort to solicit girls' participation in war work. All houses except Wilson hall, Rosa Bouton hall, and the women's dormitory were contacted. These girls may sign

Union Features Thriller Movie, Dance, Pianist

A dance, a variety show, and a church service, all at the Union, offers a well rounded week-end for students, according to Pat Lahr, Union social director.

The variety show on Sunday afternoon includes a movie, "The Fallen Sparrow," starring John Garfield and Maureen O'Hara. It is a thriller spy story, filled with drama and suspense. A comedy will follow.

A dance for civilians and AST's is planned for Saturday night from 9 to 12 p. m. Admission is by ident card only.

Lutheran chapel services are scheduled for 10:45 a. m. Sunday in room 315.

On Sunday afternoon there is Music As You Like It with Peggy Shelley at the piano in the lounge from 5 to 6 p. m.

Lincoln Symphony Concert Stars Lawrence Tibbett of Metropolitan

Lawrence Tibbett, famous baritone of the Metropolitan Opera association, appears as the opening artist of the Lincoln Symphony concert series, Thursday, Oct. 5, at 8 p. m. Although student season tickets were sold only until last Tuesday, adult season tickets may still be obtained. Single admissions may be purchased at the door.

Born in Bakersfield, Calif., Mr. Tibbett made his concert debut in Los Angeles in 1917. His operatic debut took place in 1923 when he appeared in Hollywood Bowl as Amonasro in Verdi's "Aida."

Debut at Metropolitan.

A Metropolitan opera career began when he made his debut up at booths which will be placed in the Student Union, Sosh, the girls' dorm, and ag campus Thursday and Friday.

There are several different types of war work offered this year, including Nebraskan for See War Council, Page 2.

Missionary Is Guest Speaker For Lutherans

Missionary Ress Boettcher, recently returned from the Lutheran mission field at Madang, New Guinea, will be guest speaker at the first meeting of the Lutheran Student Association, to be held Thursday, Oct. 5, at 7:30 p. m. in room 315 of the Union.

Going to the New Guinea mission field in 1937, Mr. Boettcher was evacuated from there at the time of the Japanese invasion of that territory, and is now making his temporary home in Lincoln.

The meeting is open to the public.

Ag Campus Plans Picnic For Friday

Ag campus students and faculty will get together at 6:15 Friday in the activities building for an all-ag campus picnic. Replacing the faculty-student mixer and reception of former years, the picnic is sponsored by ag exec board as a means of helping to make new and old students feel at home on the campus.

In pre-war years, the ag faculty annually held a reception soon after the beginning of school, officially opened the year's social events for the campus. The last reception was held in 1942; due to the small number of men on the campus, no party was held last year.

Board Takes Over.

The exec board, in a meeting Thursday night, decided to take over sponsorship of the affair for this year and named Helen Mortensen as general chairman.

Peggy Larson, president of the board, announced that tickets will be on sale today through Friday noon for 40c. They may be obtained from any member of the ag executive board and will be sold at the war stamp booth in Ag hall on Wednesday.

Following the picnic supper, the evening will be spent in informal games and entertainment under the direction of Julia Crom. Geraldine Gowan is chairman of food and Carol Bridenbaugh is in charge of publicity.

'Prairie Schooner,' Fall Issue, Introduces New Writers

The fall issue of the "Prairie Schooner," quarterly magazine published by the university, came out last week.

The Schooner, which is recognized as being one of the ten best literary magazines in ten countries, is edited by Professor Lowery Charles Wimberly, who founded the publication 17 years ago.

The Schooner contains short stories, poems and essays which are submitted not only by local writers, but by people from all over the country.

Altho the schooner is strictly amateur in the sense that it doesn't pay for the accepted articles, has served largely by introducing numerous writers who later attained national recognition.

Many "Prairie Schooner" stories have been republished in such magazines as Readers Digest, Time and Atlantic Monthly.

The latest issue introduces eight new writers, that is, new to the Schooner. Katharine Buxbaum,

YWCA Begins Membership Drive for Upperclassmen

Opening its annual membership drive tomorrow, the YWCA will solicit both new members and finances.

According to Ann Wellensiek, president of YW, the budget has been increased approximately $1,000 this year. This money will have to come from student contributions and membership of upperclassmen. All membership during this drive will be restricted to upperclassmen as the freshman membership drive will not be opened until six weeks has ended.

Names Committees.

Each organized house has a central committee to encourage membership and Monday evening members of the committees will make a general speaking tour at each house.

Chairman of the drive is Midge Holtzschler. She is also membership chairman of the YW.

UN Coeds Begin Red Cross War Work Saturday

Surgical dressings will meet for the first time this year at the Red Cross office located in the Lincoln Telephone building Saturday from 9 to 5 p. m.

Alice Abel, chairman of Surgical Dressings, announces that for the past two years, surgical dressings have been an important war activity. Last year UN coeds made 19,000 bandages.

The Alpha Chis and AO Pis are scheduled to roll bandages Saturday morning. No group has been asked to help in the afternoon because of the football game but all volunteers will be appreciated. The football game will be broadcast at the surgical dressing room.

White dresses or long white shirts and a white covering for the hair are required. For the ones who are not able to provide these, a small supply is available at surgical dressing headquarters.

Boy cheerleaders are needed!
After tryouts last night it was decided by the judges to hold further tryouts tonight for boys only, in order to even up the score. Freshmen boys are eligible.

Panhel Names Committees, Makes Ruling

The Panhellenic council started their activities on the campus at their first regular meeting Monday, October 2, by passing a rule forbidding sorority women to go out after dark alone, by appointing committees, and by discussing other matters referred to it.

The "after dark" rule was passed, after a brief discussion, to protect coeds from molestation.

Committees appointed are: Constitution: Alpha Chi Omega, Alpha Xi Delta, Sigma Kappa. Publicity committee: Alpha Phi, Alpha Omicron Pi. Rushing committee: The rush chairman from each house. Social committee: Chi Omega, Delta Gamma, Sigma Delta Tau. Scholarship committee: Kappa Alpha Theta, Pi Beta Phi. Chapter planning: Kappa Kappa Gamma, Gamma Phi Beta. University relations: Tri Delta. Judiciary committee: Tri Delt, Pi Phi.

Taken under advisement was the request from the Lincoln Air Base that each sorority furnish one hour's entertainment once a month, and the participation of all sororities in an open house after the football game Saturday. Members were asked to refer See Pan-Hel, Page 2.

Tassels Launch War Stamp Sale For Year Today

"Have you bought your war stamps?" is Wednesday's Tassel cry as this year's stamp drive is launched today in the Union, Andrews, Sosh and Ag halls.

The goal of $2 in stamps each month per student has been set by the Tassels altho each student is asked to fix his own quota and buy regularly. Last year's sales on the campus totaled only $4,826.15 for 3,349 students enrolled.

Tassel president, Mary Russel, urges everyone to "Buy stamps today and every Wednesday."
