

Council Backs Dandelion Day

With the dandelion situation and the campus shortage of men, the Student Council has decided to hold a dandelion drive. According to Mary Jo Gish, they have resolved to organize the students and hope to hold a general clean-up day. Several persons when asked their opinion of the proposed drive commented:

Pat Lahr: I think it's very worthy! If the students would do it, they could combine a good suntan with a little constructive work.

Alice Abel: I think it's a wonderful idea, and we all ought to give it our full support, and really make a big thing of it.

E. F. DuTeau: This would be a wonderful project for the student body, subject to the chancellor's approval. It would be a great step toward the beautification of the campus. With the shortage of manpower, it would be appreciated by all.

Mary Dye: The campus could certainly stand it!

Miss Mabel Lee: The idea is very good, and the campus would benefit by it. I also suggest that the students might do a little reseeding and planting, too. In a few years, the campus could be truly beautiful with the addition of a few shrubs, trees and lots of turf. We could plant trees (which is certainly in keeping with the coming of Arbor Day) along with the general clean-up project. As illustrated by the new Field House, a little turf grows and adds much to the beauty of the landscape in just a few years.

Dorm President Ruth Ann O'Hannon: It would indeed be an excellent idea, if the students would work on it.

Marcia Moekett: It sounds like a wonderful idea and loads of fun if everyone would co-operate.

Merrill Shutt: Definitely, it would be a good idea, and if it is too late now, there would still be time this fall.

Aikane Sponsors Friendship Picnic At Pioneer Park

Aikane, inter-racial friendship club on the campus, is sponsoring a picnic next Saturday, April 28, at Pioneer park at 2 p. m., according to Barbara Griswold, leader.

The program for the afternoon and evening will include games and other recreation, a picnic lunch, discussion, entertainment and vespers.

Tickets, which may be purchased from any Aikane member or at Ellen Smith hall, are 35 cents. Tickets must be purchased by Thursday evening.

Persons who wish to attend the picnic will meet either in the Union lobby at 1:15 Saturday or at the bus stop at the Post Office, to take the South 10th bus, which runs at 1:40.

accentuates areas of action on the stage.

Murderous Intent?

Lighting crews just love to drop heavy objects down on the actors, two stories beneath. Jeff Gass forever loosed wrenches, hammers and light bulbs from the lighting bridge in "The Skin of Our Teeth," in Moor Born Otis Evans lets loose sockets and light bulbs that plummet like stones to smash on the stage below.

Temple beavers have also built a rain machine. The contraption is a barrel which revolves, stirring up dried navy beans inside and sounds like pelting rain as the beans roll and tumble over the wire sides of the barrel. The theater folk also built a wind machine, and recorded the sounds themselves. Sound-effects man Avrum Bondarin plays them on two victrolas off-stage. Peggy Kirshman cut records of herself at the ancient organ, with weird, macabre music to ring down the curtain on Part III.

Jean Kinney is property chief, and has rented a grandfather clock vintage 1776; a "beautiful love seat from Townsends," and a secretary "solid walnut and very old." Miss Kinnie has made an especial trip to the art department "for a 19th century broom and dustpan." The beautiful silver tea service is not the Brontes, but comes thru the courtesy of Margaret Hunter's home in Hastings.

Art, Too!

In his "extensive research" on interiors of 1850, Duke Ganzel found that a portrait of the three Brontes, painted by their brother, Branwell, hung over the fireplace. So the Brontes—Lucy Ann Hapeman, Gloria Beaumont and Margaret Hunter—caught a trolley out to the home of Peggy Kirshman's for a "sitting." Mrs. Kirshman, no novice with a brush, is painting the three girls' faces into costumes of 1850.

It's quite a play, this Moor Born, and it opens Thursday. Curtain's at 8.

Dean Burr Addresses Ag Seniors at Curtiss School

Dean W. W. Burr will deliver the commencement address before the graduating class of the Nebraska School of Agriculture at Curtis, Thursday, April 26. Presenting diplomas to the 80 graduating senior will be Superintendent H. K. Douthit.

Vespers Honor Conference At Early Services

A sunrise service has been planned for this week's vespers service on Wednesday at 7:15 a. m. in the Union parlors XYZ. The service will be held on Wednesday at the request of the Federal Council of Churches in America.

Because the San Francisco conference will open on Wednesday, the council has requested that all churches and religious groups hold meetings in respect to the conference.

Student speaker at the sunrise service will be Betty Lou Horton who will discuss "Peace Planning and Youth." Pat Winter and Joyce Crosie will lead the meeting. Gladys Grothe will present a musical number to complete the program.

Ozzie Nelson, popular orchestra leader, forsakes his baton for the first time on the screen when he appears as a featured comedian in Pine-Thomas' big-budgeted picturization of the radio hit show, "People Are Funny."

Cornhusker Pics

Cornhusker pictures will be on sale Tuesday, and not before, according to Editor Myra Colberg. Pictures include individual poses, formal and informal shots and groups, and are priced from 10 to 75 cents.

Special Program Honors Outstanding Barb Coeds

The outstanding unaffiliated woman of each class will be given recognition at a special program on Monday, April 23 in room 315 of the Union. New members of BABW will also be installed at this time, according to Hazel Stearn, BABW president, who urged all unaffiliated women to attend.

CLASSIFIED
10¢ a line per day.
Payable in advance only.

LOST—Gray and gold Parker pencil. Reward. Dorothy Fraser. 3-4754.

Dramatic Club...

(Continued from Page 1)

Packard, Dorothea Duxbury and Margaret Huff.

Charter members of the organization are Don Kline, Jean Kinnie, Dewey Ganzel, Blanche Duckworth, Dick Freeman, Avrum Bondarin, Gerry McKinsey, Dean Neal, Bob Samardick, Arlis Swanson, Junior Kisner and Art Beindorff.

Refreshments and a kangaroo court concluded the evening's program.

$2 Introductory Lessons
YOU TOO CAN LEARN TO FLY
Free Ground School
Free Transportation from bus
Tel. 6-2378
ARROW AIRPORT
5481 No. 49th St.

INTRAMURALS

Favored by good weather, the intramural softball schedule continued last week when the Phi Gams came from behind to whip the Pioneer Co-op, 7-5; the Zips beat the Theta Xi team by the score of 12-3. On Thursday the Betas and the ATOs played a 2-2 tie, the time rule keeping them tied. The Cornhusker Co-op took the measure of the Sig Ep ten by the score of 3-0.

The intramural athletic director announced the following games for this week:

- Monday, April 23:
1. Sig Chi vs. Ag College.
2. Zips vs. Phi Gams.

- Wednesday, April 25:
1. Sigma Nu s. Pioneer Co-op.
2. ATO vs. Cornhusker Co-op.

All games must start by five o'clock and all teams should be ready to play at that time. All games will last five innings, or in the event that the games are not finished by 5:30, the score will revert to the last complete inning. The director requests that all teams be prompt so that the games can be run off as scheduled.

Allen . . .

(Continued from Page 1)

scene. "We've burned out ten play fuses and about five cartridge fuses so far," Freeman admitted. "Moor Born may play on a blackened stage for want of lights if this keeps up." Otis Evans, mechanical engineering student, serves as electrical expert for the crew. Betty Jean Holcomb manages the sun's risings and goings-down, and Barbara Jenkins it is who spotlights actors faces and

SPRINGTIME PRINTS

THIRD FLOOR

9.95 - 10.95

Styled with those easy-to-wear cap sleeves which makes them the kind of dresses you'll love for now and all summer. Tailored of rayons and spuns. Sizes 12 to 20.

Harland Swanson

FREE FLICKER SHOW

Laurel & Hardy • Charlie Chase
Tom Mix • Charlie Chaplin
Old-Time Movies

Peg Shelley at Piano

UNION BALLROOM

3:00 P. M. SUNDAY, APRIL 22