

Navy Selects UN Campus As Place for ROTC Unit

Official confirmation of the selection of UN as a site for a new unit of the Navy ROTC was announced today by Chancellor C. S. Boucher.

Vice Admiral Randall Jacobs of the Navy notified Boucher of the selection. It is planned to commission the unit on or about November 1, 1945, depending upon the availability of a new armory just authorized by the Nebraska legislature.

The unit, it is understood here, will be a part of the permanent post-war officers' training program of the Navy. It will not be a temporary wartime measure.

Complete details of the operation of the unit are to be given to university officials soon since representatives of the Navy will pay a visit to the campus in the near future. Meantime, plans for constructing an armory on the campus to house both the new Navy and the long-established

Army ROTC units are now going forward. The post-war plans of both the Navy and the Army specifically require an armory.

Football Status.

At the same time, athletic officials at the university said the new Navy unit will not immediately be of any benefit to Cornhusker football. The Navy ROTC unit will operate much the same as the Army unit, it is understood, and will be open to regularly enrolled college students and will not bring in any influx of navy trainees as under the ASTP program.

Male students in the university will have a choice of enrolling in either Army or Navy ROTC. It is understood the ROTC students, as in the prewar period, will have the opportunity to compete in intercollegiate athletics. No change from the prewar policy in regard to participation of ROTC students in intercollegiate athletics is expected in the post-war period.

Churches Hold Final Student Meet Sunday

Many of the Lincoln churches are having their last student meeting Sunday.

Lutheran chapel services will be held at 10:45 a. m., Sunday, in room 315 of the Student Union. This will be the last service of the semester and will be devoted to thoughts of V-E day. Rev. H. Erek, university Lutheran pastor, will speak on the topic, "Be Still, and Know That I Am God." Miss Charlotte Filter will accompany the hymns.

Baptist Service.

Virginia Young will conduct the Baptist devotional service. The topic to be discussed, led by Myrlee Holler, is "What Do You Know About Your Bible?" The worship service of the evening will be presided over by Winifred Douglas. Sunday is the last meeting of the school year and it will be held at the First Baptist church. Devotionals will begin at 6, preceded by a lunch at 6:30.

Writing Groups.

The Methodist and Christian university groups are uniting with the Lincoln Christian Youth Council in their outdoor vesper service, which begins at 7:15 Sunday evening. This is to be held in Pioneers park. Rev. Robert Drew's topic will be "He Took It Upon Himself." Rev. B. C. Bottitt, Christian pastor, will speak Sunday on "For Home and Country." Maxine Wood will sing an "American Prayer."

K. Arndt States Need for World Bank System

Karl Arndt, associate professor of economics at the University of Nebraska, in his lecture, "Money and Other Obstacles to World Trade," the last lecture in the university night class series, "International Problems Just Ahead," which he gave Wednesday night in the social science building, stated that in the future the basis for world trade will probably be an international bank, such as is proposed in the Bretton Woods plan.

He pointed out that the gold standard was permanently out of use because very few countries have any gold, altho this standard of settling the differences incurred by various countries in trade, had worked fine for many years.

Straight Jacket.

The next means to promote trade, Arndt said, used by some countries, was the national economic straight jacket, by which some countries were able to build weapons for this war.

After the war, he stated, a new system of trade will be necessary, and the international bank seems most practical.

Arndt also pointed out how the differences in national currency has slowed up free travel and trade between different countries.

She is now clothing officer at Camp Pendleton, Oceanside, Calif.

This member of a Senior Class of that year is fashion-perfect for the occasion. Top-hats were sine-qua-non, and voluminous neckcloths muffled the spotless linen. Co-education was becoming fashionable, too.

That year, 1860, civil war was looming on the country's horizon. College campuses blazed with patriotism. Railway Express was ready, at the first summons, to put its services at the nation's command. Today, America is fighting a world-wide war. So, to help all concerned, please do three simple things with your 1945 home packages and baggage: Pack them securely—address clearly and adequately—avoid abbreviating state names.
