Enrollment Soars Beyond Estimates

Love Library Doors Swing Open At Last

After 34 years of planning, the Don L. Love Memorial Library has been completed and is this year open to all university students, according to Frank A. Lundy, director of university libraries.

The building contains six reading rooms, four of which are to be devoted to related groups of subjects and will house selected books, periodicals and pamphlets. The Humanities Reading room, located on the north side of the second floor, will serve students in art and music, English, French, German and other languages and literatures including the classics, philosophy and religion, journalism and the dramatic arts.

The time for post-war action has arrived. What a glorious time it is! Our responsibilities are commensurate with our exhilaration. We must capitalize fully on our opportunities.

First Day's Registration Doubles '44

Statistics on the first day's registration reveal that last year's estimate of a ten percent increase in enrollment was much too conservative when 1,061 students registered on Monday, according to Dr. G. W. Rosenlof, registrar.

Comparing the first day's figures with those of the first day of registration last year, Dr. Rosenlof stated that only 495 students enrolled a year ago as compared with more than 1,000 at the beginning of this year's three-day registration period.

Over 100 veterans registered Monday, Dr. Rosenlof estimated, and he voiced his expectation of

Gordon Lippitt Accepts Helm Of UN YMCA

Gordon L. Lippitt, former associate secretary of the New Haven, Conn., YMCA, has accepted the position of executive secretary of the university YMCA, and has begun his new duties, it was announced by Dr. L. T. Laase, chairman of the university YM board.

For the past three years Mr. Lippitt has directed the New Haven Industrial federation, and was, during that period, also in charge of interviewing and guidance at the local association in New Haven. He holds a B.S. degree from Springfield college and a B.D. degree from the Divinity school of Yale university.

Broad Experience.

Mr. Lippitt has had a wide variety of special experiences fitting him for his work in the university YMCA. He has done research work with the Boy Scout national office and the National Psychological corporation. For four years he served as director of young people's work at the Wesley Methodist church in Springfield, Mass., where he was directly responsible for student work at Springfield college and the American International college. He has spent eight years in YMCA summer camps and has acted as a supply minister for the past four years.

Thursday Convo, Rally Initiate Frosh Activities

Freshmen and transfer students, accompanied by the university band, cheerleaders, Tassels and Mortar Boards, will experience the first rally of the season when they march from Temple to the Coliseum for the Mortar Board-Tassel convocation tomorrow afternoon at 3:30.

Those attending the convocation are asked to meet at the Temple building at 3:30 p. m. From there they will march to the coliseum, led by the band and cheerleaders. Anyone going directly to the coliseum will be sent back to Temple building. The march from Temple will proceed east to 14th street, north on 14th to Teachers College, west to 13th and north to the coliseum.

Master of Ceremonies

Bill Miller, YMCA president and member of the Awgwan staff, will act as master of ceremonies for the program at the coliseum. Following the singing of "The Star Spangled Banner," Barbara Griswold, president of Mortar Board, will address the students. Dean T. J. Thompson, dean of Student Affairs, will also speak to the assembly.

The freshman band, under the direction of Don A. Lentz, will play "The Cornhusker," followed by Chancellor C. S. Boucher's address. Bernie Ulrich, yell king, aided by cheerleaders Jackie Scott and Doris Easterbrook, will lead school yells. A. J. Lewandowski, Director of Athletics, will also speak to the students.

Col. J. P. Murphy, Army Commandant, will administer the freshman oath, followed by the song, "Dear Old Nebraska U.," and a closing number by the band.

Chairman of the convocation is Monica Ann Alberty. Other committee members are Betty Lou Huston and Lois Oppen.

Dean Boyles Honors Coeds At Annual Tea

Mrs. Verna Boyles, Dean of Women, and staff will honor all University women, especially freshmen, at an annual tea held at Ellen Smith Hall Friday from 3:30 to 5:30.

The reception line includes Dean Boyles, Miss Elsie Ford Piper, and Miss Marjorie Johnston. Greeting guests at the door will be Barbara Griswold, president of Mortar Board and Madeline Holtzschler, president of Associated Women Students.

Beanies Attach Freshman Stigma To New Students

Look for the red and white beanie with the number "49." It spells freshman.

Red and white beanies with the numerals "49" displayed prominently on the cap now identify freshmen on the campus. As the exhausted student staggers out the exit door of the Coliseum after standing in line after line, he is greeted by the sight of this beanie, a symbol of the freshman's traditional servitude. An upperclassman holds a sticky palm for the fifty cents, price of the beanie, and the bewildered (See BEANIES, Page 7.)

Frosh Women Meet Mentors At Mass Mixer

All freshmen coeds will meet their Big Sisters tomorrow evening at the annual Coed Counselor freshman party, to be held in the Union ballroom from 7 to 9 p. m.

With informality as the keynote, coeds and Big Sisters will be given an opportunity to become acquainted with each other through mixer games and group singing. Skirts, sweaters and flats are a "must" for having fun, according to Suzanne Pope, president of Coed Counselors.

many more than that. Since not all freshmen have registered, the exact number is not available, but the registrar anticipated more than twice as many as last year.

A major problem of the university officials is housing facilities for both men and women. To accommodate men students who have not found living quarters, Dr. T. J. Thompson, Dean of Student Affairs, in co-operation with the athletic department, has arranged for temporary beds to be set up in the field house. The field house has a number of double bunks set up and they can be obtained for 50c a night. This arrangement will be maintained until there is no further need for it.

Because of the increase in enrollment, many coeds were not able to live in dormitories or houses on the campus. According to Miss Elsie Piper, assistant dean of women, the great majority of women have now found rooms and very few have had to leave the university because rooms were not available. Miss Piper stated that there are enough rooms for all coeds who have not found a place to live. The Lincoln Women's Chamber of Commerce has aided the Dean of Women's office in securing houses with available room thru advertising and radio appeals. Such houses are registered at the Dean of Women's office in Ellen Smith Hall.

Classes begin Thursday.
