Parties Inaugurate UN Church Night

Friday night Lincoln churches will be playing host to university students at parties which will be followed by All-University Church services next Sunday. Each church has a program planned for its members, the purpose of which is to get acquainted, and invites them to begin this friendship on All-University Church Night.

Rev. Robert E. Drew of the Wesley Foundation announced plans for a hill-billy party that will include square dancing, mixers, a sing, a watermelon feed and hill-billy entertainment, to be climaxed with a dramatic worship service. All Methodist students are invited to be at St.

Y Rendezvous Tea Acquaints Coeds with YW

"Y Rendezvous?" will be the theme of the annual YWCA rendezvous tea to be held Thursday afternoon from 3:30 to 5:30 at Ellen Smith hall, to which all sophomore, junior and senior women are invited, according to Mary Ann Mattoon, YW president.

Purpose of the tea is to acquaint the guests with the club's activities and give them an opportunity to register for the committee in which they are most interested, stated Miss Mattoon.

Offering a variety of committees, the list of possible choices includes discussion groups on such subjects as the New Testament, political effectiveness, upperclass leadership, adolescent leadership, religious books, comparative religions and tiny "Y."

Service Work.

The groups devoted to service work are beginning, advanced, and world service committees. Both personal and international relationships will be discussed along with study of the Estes co-op. Other interest groups include social committee, vesper choir, vesper planning committee, knitting and office staff.

Cabinet members will act as hostesses and will explain the functions of the discussion groups to each coed and aid her in making a committee preference.

Unitarian Party.

The Unitarian church invites its members and any others who are interested to meet Friday evening at 8 o'clock in room 103 of the Temple building for an evening of fellowship that will include games and refreshments. Tom Sorensen will preside and the Rev. Carl Storm of the Lincoln Unitarian church will be on hand to meet everyone.

The First and Second Baptist churches are planning a combined program for the night. A banquet will be held at the First Baptist at 6:30, to be followed at the Second Baptist with fun and games to be led by the director of recreation from the Lincoln Recreation Bureau. The program will include entertainment by two university students—Ray Kelsey as a magician and marimba player Phillis Fisher. Singing will be led by Julius Humann.

Joint Party.

Lutheran churches are also planning a joint party of both Missouri Synod and National Lutheran church members in the Temple building Y.M.C.A. at 8:30 Friday. Pastors of all local Lutheran churches will be present to meet the students and join with (See CHURCH NIGHT, page 2.)

BY SHIRLEY JENKINS.

One of the most crucial periods in human history will be the coming fall and winter. The six months ahead will settle for millions of the liberated the grim question of sheer survival and also will shape the kind of peace and the kind of world with which we shall have to live.

The All University Fund drive, beginning Monday, will hold out to university students the chance to build the world of tomorrow, the world in which they will live and will govern.

'Blithe Spirit' Opens Season

Awgwan Contains New Wit

"Who threw the benzedrine in Mrs. Murphy's Ovaltine?" screamed the energetic publicity agent for the Awgwan, "is only one of the numerous lines of supreme wit and humor contained in the first issue of the Awgwan to be circulated Oct. 10."

Pounding the Nebraskan reporter's skull on the cement to emphasize the fact that George TIERNEY Shestak has completed his Magnus Opus and unleashed the talent that has lain inate for so long, he also declares that Trip-hammer Peepash has plunged forth with another dissertation on campus life and his profound observations are well worth an examination. (So's the boy Trip!)

This eager, well paid agent shrieks that for $1.75 a year as the subscription price, it is a sin and a crime for anyone to waste time in classes without a priceless issue of the Awgwan to keep them in fits of mirth. He also adds that collectors will be stationed in booths in the Union to trip all subscribers.

Tryouts at 3 P. M. Today Mark Theatre's Thirty-Seventh Year

Tryouts beginning today in the Temple building for the University Theatre's first play "Blithe Spirit," announces the official opening of the theatre's 37th season. The hours for tryouts are from four to six today and seven to nine Thursday afternoon.

Tassels Launch Annual Yearbook Sales Contest

Tassels have again begun Cornhusker sales with exclusive salesmanship rights, according to Joyce Crosbie, editor of the 1945 Cornhusker. The campaign started Monday, Sept. 24, and will continue through Friday, Oct. 5.

The Tassel organization will get a commission of from ten to twenty cents on every book sold. Each Tassel who sells 35 or more books will receive a free Cornhusker, and the Tassel who sells the most books will get $10. The coed with the second highest number sold shall receive $5.

Beauty Candidates.

The number of beauty queen candidates each organized house may have will be determined by the number of Cornhuskers sold (See TASSELS, page 4.)

Library Society Names Officers

Officers were elected and plans for a variety show were made at the Monday night meeting of the Palladian Literary society in the Temple building.

Dorothy Christian was elected vice president; Alice Pierce, recording secretary, and Ruth Johnston, corresponding secretary. Other officers were elected last spring, but those who held these three positions did not return to school this fall.

Louise Putney and Marge Marlette are in charge of the variety show, which is to be given Saturday, Sept. 29, at 8:30 p. m. Refreshments will be served.

Officers of the organization are Janet Hutchinson, president; Ruth Marvin, critic; Joan Thomas, program chairman; Doris Weldon, historian, and Mildred Engstrom, treasurer.

"Blithe Spirit" by Noel Coward, which is to be presented November 1st, 2nd, and 3rd, is a sophisticated comedy dealing with the spiritual phase of life. The play is called an improbable farce and is the zaniest and most hilarious of Mr. Coward's plays.

The next play is scheduled for December 13th, 14th, and 15th. "Juno and the Paycock" by Sean O'Casey is drastically different in that it is a masterpiece of modern urban realism. This play embraces a mingling of humor and tragedy, deftly handled by a master dramatist.

William Shakespeare's play, "Twelfth Night," which takes place on March 14th, 15th, and 16th, is a good example of his great works of art. It is Shakespeare's most delightful and charming romantic comedy.

The last play "Ah Wilderness" contains both serious drama and hilarious comedy. Eugene O'Neil used his best talents in putting forth the troubles of teen-age dating. This show contains many a good characterization and serious thought but comes to an enlightened ending.

Students Stage First Football Rally Friday

"Sooner Or Later We'll Beat The Sooners." Rallying to this cry, Nebraska students will stage the first big Husker football rally of 1945 Friday night.

Gathering in front of the coliseum, Tassels, cheerleaders and the band will start the big Victory Bell rolling down sorority and fraternity row at 7, calling coeds and men to join in the celebration. The procession will make its way to the Union where cheers and yells will be led by Bernie Ulrich, yell king, and the new cheering squad. Following this mass demonstration members of the coaching staff and varsity squad will give short talks.
