

HUSKER HIGHLIGHTS

Tossing the pigskin into a corner for the moment, let's take a look into the future of Big Six swimming, especially in regard to our Husker mermen.

Iowa State and Nebraska, perennial champs of the aquatic sport before the war caused a temporary halt, are in favor of resuming Big Six competition when the winter season rolls around. Word from Norman indicates that the Sooners may be ready with an outfit, while plans for a team at Missouri are still tentative. Kansas and Kansas State have stated definitely that they will not compete.

Question Raises.

So the question that Big Six athletic directors must answer at their meeting in December is whether they should revive the festival with only three or four schools likely to enter contestants. All schools competed in the last meet held in 1942. Though Iowa State emerged victorious that day, Husker fans remember the sterling performances of Les Oldfield, Don Hilgert, Edwards and Worden, to mention a few. Nebraska has had some great swimming teams in the past, and interest is high in this year's prospects.

Stress Conditioning.

Conditioning is being stressed by Husker Coach Ed Higginbotham in practice sessions held thus far. Preston Tucker and W. Gard, two naval trainees from Michigan, and Lowell Ankron from Falls City have turned in excellent performances in the 50-yard and 100-yard free styles. Other material is promising and it is certain that several veterans will be on hand when the second semester opens in January. Additional material may be uncovered during the intramural meet in December.

Fem Fun

BY ELEANOR KNOLL.

With the first victory of the coeds intramurals belonging to the Alpha Xi's, the second tournament for the women of the campus has begun. Teams have been practicing this week for the big Nebraska ball games which will begin next week.

One practice is required of every participant in the tournament. Tonight at 5 p. m. the following teams are scheduled to try their hands with the big ball:

- Howard Hall.
- Rosa Bouton.
- Chi Omega.
- Alpha Chi's (1 and 2).
- Pi Phi's (1, 2 and 3).

All those who couldn't practice when scheduled may come on Thursday at 5 p. m. A special practice will be given for freshmen on Monday and Tuesday at 5 p. m.

With everyone in shape this tournament should attract the crowds and the cheering sections that the soccer ball games did.

"Tutt" Baylor has announced the first meeting of the Outing club for 5 p. m. today in the WAA lounge. Everyone interested in seeing the beauties of Lancaster county should plan to attend this meeting, said Miss Baylor.

Badminton club will meet tonight at 7 p. m. in the east gym of Grant Memorial hall.

With the horse show coming up at the state fair grounds on Sunday, the Riding club is planning to attend enmasse with a whole block reserved for them. The club will meet at 5 p. m. on Thursday in room 101.

Cornhusker Cinder Men Face Tigers

Victorious over highly regarded Iowa State, Coach Ed Wier's two-milers are this week turning their attention toward Missouri. They meet the Tiger cinder squad in the two-mile test as a halftime highlight of the Nebraska-Missouri grid game Saturday.

Practice Run.

Bested at the tape in a photo finish at Ames, Dean Kratz is again expected to lead the Huskers. The personnel of the five-man squad will be determined in a practice run held this afternoon on the stadium track.

Return of Jerry Koble, who has been sidelined with a foot blister, may bolster the Husker squad considerably. He is expected to make a strong bid for a berth on the team in today's run.
