

Ragged Edges

By Raggedy Ann's Standin.

Merrell Shutt was on the receiving end of a California phone message Wednesday eve . . . from Bill Welte.

Prompt Payments On GI Bill Aid Student Veterans

Not one GI student has been forced to leave the university because of slowness of educational benefit payments from the Veterans Administration, according to J. P. Colbert, chairman of the student veterans affairs committee.

Colbert added that over 425 veterans enrolled at the university in the semester ending this month, only six had not received their payments promptly, three of which were caused by errors committed by the veterans themselves.

Statement.

His statement was made in response to a report that students in other midwest colleges were being forced to quit because of non-payment or slowness of GI payments.

Most of the students are from this state, facilitating movement of necessary paper work, he said.

During the 20 years before World war II, the United States exported about 4 percent of the foodstuff it produced.
