Follies Cast Equals Past Productions

By Dale Novotny.

I was the envy of a large majority of the campus male populace—I had legal entrance to the Coed Follies.

"Press," I said, and pressed I was against the wall by a rather muscular coed whose talents in the field of pugilism were unsurpassable. Dragging my beaten and broken body down the aisle I had the dubious pleasure of occupying a seat in the DG section.

The lights dimmed and the show was on the road! "Where Do We Go From Here?" by Delta Gamma headed the program and I wondered. Any place was right with me after Dotty Manion's Deep in the Heart of Texas entrance. By then I fully realized the importance of geography and 20-20 vision when Pat Winters, Nancy Watkins and Ginny Coleman, representing California, in those now-you-see-it, now-you-don't bathing suits, paraded by. The judges' decision was truly a wise one—in awarding the D.T.'s—er—D.G.'s the winner's cup.

Hink Aasen as the Chi O's Fireman's Bride, displayed latent talents unknown to campus critics. A hose brigade and barber shop quartet ably supported her pantomiming antics. Kappa Kappa See FOLLIES, Page 7.

Chancellor C. S. Boucher's request for retirement will be accepted by the university Board of Regents at its March 23 meeting, according to an announcement made late yesterday by R. W. Devoe, president of the organization.

Dr. Boucher, who has been chancellor since July, 1938, said Thursday that his original request for retirement was made Jan. 18, 1945.

"Since my request for retirement on Sept. 1, 1946, was submitted approximately a year ago," the chancellor added,

Respect for Regents.

"My respect for the intellectual honesty and capacity for clear thinking of the Board of Regents is profound. For many of our faculty members and administrative staff members, I have great admiration professionally. I deeply regret that physical infirmities have forced me to give up my associations with them."

The city campaign, which is scheduled to open Monday, also was a preliminary start Wednesday night when workers in all divisions met at the Cornhusker to hear Harold Read, former field director in the Mediterranean theater of war, tell of the work of the Red Cross overseas.

Mr. Read stated that the work of the field director was mainly that of liaison between the soldier and his home, but the Red Cross co-operated with the Special Services officer and the Chaplain in planning entertainment for the men.

Club service was also an important part of the Red Cross work, he declared. In the Naples club, 10,000 men a day went through the snack bar, according to Read. In discussing some of the criticisms levelled against the Red Cross, Read stated that the men were asked to pay for snacks
