

New Yorker To Address Honor Convo

Alvin Saunders Johnson, former director of the New School for Social Research in New York City, will speak on April 16 at the annual Honors convocation held in recognition of scholastic excellence achieved by students.

Johnson received his AB degree from the university of 1897 and was a professor of economics on the faculty from 1906 to 1908. Later he taught at Columbia, Chicago, Stanford and Texas universities. Since 1923, he directed the New School for Social Research until his retirement a short time ago. An honorary degree was conferred on him at the Nebraska commencement in 1940.

Seniors Honored.

Names of students recognized at the convocation for superior scholarship include only seniors who have been in the upper three percent of their classes during the two preceding semesters, and have maintained upper 10 percent standing during four years.

Also honored will be students recognized for high scholarship and those who have been in the upper 10 percent of their class in each college. In addition, the student organization with at least one-third of their members in the upper 10 percent of the class are recognized.

Campus Students Petition to Administration for Recreational Center; Location of Proposed Ag Union Will Be on Lower Flor of Activities Building

Petitioning for the establishment of a recreational center in the Activities building, ag students opened a campaign for the new rooms.

A spontaneous movement brought on by the increased enrollment in ag college the petition will be presented to the board of regents, the administration and the Student Union Board of Managers when about 80 percent of the students have signed.

Started Four Years Ago.

According to a member of the Ag Men's Social club, the campaign for a recreation center on ag campus was started four years ago but dropped because of the war. The Union Board of Managers had made plans for building an ag Union in the basement of the Foods and Nutrition building, but the petition states that the proposed location has been "shown to be inadequate."

Pat Lahr, director of the city campus Union, and member of the Union board of managers, stated that "The Student Union Board of Managers is interested in obtaining the opinion of ag students with respect to location of the recreation rooms on the ag campus."

The complete text of the petition is as follows:

Text of Petition.

"To the Board of Regents and the administration of the University of Nebraska; to the Student Union Board of Managers of the University of Nebraska; and to the faculty and administration of the college of agriculture.

"Whereas, there are at present no recreational facilities for students on the campus of the college of agriculture in spite of the recognized urgent need for such facilities;

"And whereas, the proposed location in the basement of the Foods and Nutrition building has been shown to be inadequate in view of the increased enrollment;

"And whereas, the lower floor of the Activities building is ideally suited for such recreational facilities, for the following reasons:

"1. It is so situated as to insure little or no interference with college classes and with college service organizations;

"2. With the public facilities already present in the building there is adequate room for extensive recreational and social activities;

Supplements Functions.

"3. The center would be ideally located to supplement the large social functions regularly carried on in the building;

"4. The location could be converted into a well ventilated, comfortable recreational center with a minimum expenditure of student funds;

"And whereas, there is at present no other suitable location that could be adapted to this purpose without prohibitive expense and considerable delay;

Proposals.

"We, the undersigned students of the College of Agriculture respectfully submit the following proposals;

"1. That the lower floor of the Activities building, exclusive of the locker and shower rooms, be converted into a recreational center for the students of the College of Agriculture.

"2. That said recreational center be installed and operated as part of the recreational program of the Student Union of the University of Nebraska."
