

UN Gridders Open Spring Pigskin Drills

Ninety-two hopefuls greeted Football Coach Bernie Masterson as the opening session of spring football practice got underway yesterday afternoon for University of Nebraska athletes.

This number, reminiscent of prewar days, will be augmented by several of last fall's players who were absent, and by more new candidates.

Right to Business.

Masterson and his staff, Gomer Jones, line coach; Glen Presnell, backfield coach; and Pop Klein, assistant coach, wasted no time in getting down to business. After a brief talk explaining some of the rudiments of the T formation, the red-clad gridgers moved to the practice field south of the regular gridiron for calisthenics and limbering up exercises.

The Husker pigskin aspirants showed plenty of size, with several men scaling well over the 200 mark. Jerry Kathol assisted the regular staff in putting the gridgers through their paces, and will aid Masterson during the spring season.

Fred Metheny, Husker quarterback of 1941, was in suit, although it was at first believed that he would not report until next fall. Another welcome newcomer was big Carl Samuelson of Grand Island, a 6 foot 4 inch lineman who weighs in at 234 pounds.

Roster Addition.

Additions to the roster are:
 Alton Klenker, Johnson, end, 19, 6' 1", 170.
 Wayne Alder, Lincoln, center, 27, 6', 235.
 John Goodsell, Los Angeles, tackle, 25, 6', 220.
 Ted Mable, Bassett, back, 20, 5' 10 1/2", 190.
 Fred Metheny, Lincoln, back, 24, 5' 11", 183.
 Rex Mercer, Lincoln, back, 22, 5' 10", 170.
 Keith Powell, Scottsbluff, back, 24, 5' 11", 175.
 Bob Scoville, Hartington, back, 18, 5' 11", 180.
 Eugene Sim, Nebraska City, tackle, 22, 6' 3", 235.
 Jim Thomson, Lincoln, back, 21, 6' 1", 218.
 Bill Sykes, Crystal Springs, Miss., back, 22, 6' 168.
 Carl Samuelson, Grand Island, end, 23, 6' 4", 234.

Phys Ed Group Will Present Coed Athletic Clinic

A clinic on high school girls' athletic activities will be presented by the university's department of physical education for women, for members of the Nebraska State Physical Education association which convenes in Lincoln next weekend.

The clinic will include a discussion and demonstration of stunts and tumbling, conditioning exercises, volley ball and basketball, according to Dr. Mabel Lee, department chairman. In addition there will be two group conferences on physical education program planning and the need for qualified instructors in high schools.

All-University Boxing Meet To Close Tonite

Champions in eight weight divisions will be determined tonight as the all-university boxing championships go into the final round at the coliseum at 7:45 p. m.

In addition to the championship bouts, three matches to determine third place spots will be held. A semifinal battle in the 175 pound class will open the evening's show, as Harlan Cranston and Chick Thorne mix to determine which of them will meet Jack Adams in the final match.

Several attractive bouts are on tap. In the 135 pound class Del Roth and Norris Sibert will mix. Roth has flashed plenty of boxing savvy while Sibert uses a rushing pushing style to subdue his opponents.

Gridders Clash.

An all-football final in the heavyweight class should produce plenty of fireworks. John Sedlacek, Husker tackle, who scored a knockout over Stan Daffer in his semifinal bout, and Mack Robinson, Norfolk backfield ace, are matched in the closing bout of the evening.

Flyweight contenders will get their first taste of action. Sid Salzman and Marv Runyan were the only entrants in this class and they will meet tonight for the championship.

Tournament director Lou Means stated that with a break in the weather, tonight's crowd should surpass last week's attendance.

The team champion will be announced following the Sedlacek-Robinson slugfest, and team trophies will be awarded to the first and second place teams.

Glenn Presnell will handle the refereeing chores, with Frank Smagacz and Charlie Miller serving as judges.

Coliseum to Be Scene of State Prep Tourney

State high school basketball teams will take over the coliseum Thursday, Friday and Saturday for the state tournament. Thirty-two quintets will see action, eight in each of the four classes.

Lincoln, Creighton Prep and Benson are considered as the leading contenders for the Class A crown, with Northeast, McCook, Fremont, Norfolk and Scottsbluff also in the title fight.

These teams won their tourney berths by getting to the finals in the four regional tournaments which were held in different sections of the state last week.

In Class B Holy Name of Omaha, Mitchell and Lexington are the teams to beat. Crete, Central City, Schuyler, Seward and Ord make up the rest of the eight team field.

Class C and D titles are also wideopen races, and eight teams in each of these classes will battle for top honors. St. Francis of Humphrey is considered a strong threat in Class C following its

Mixed Swim Party Planned On Wednesday

The university's mixed swimming party for March has been scheduled for Wednesday, March 13, in the Coliseum pool. The pool will be open to students from 7:00 to 8:30 p. m., and everything from hair-ruining water fights to painlessly-acquired sun tans under the 500-watt overhead lights will be in order.

The party is one of a series planned and put on throughout the year through the joint auspices of the men's and women's physical education departments.

All married students are especially invited to "come and bring the missus," and an invitation is likewise extended to faculty members and their wives to join the fun.
