

Ragged Edges

Romance is definitely the style as of late. Proof might be the pleasant expression on Blackie Blanchard's face — accounted for only by the return of her pinmate, Gene Rainey. Gene will be here this weekend, and no one blames Blackie for her sudden happy gesture. Diamonds are in the air also, and the town of Ashland did well by Mr. Cupid and U.N. with Merna Newsham's return from spring vacation with diamond and news of her engagement to ex-army man Don Lehr ... not to forget the recent engagement of Mary Lou Laune to Joe Moss of same city. We offer congrats to this foursome cuz we think it's swell.

Another proof of this thing called romance is the spring vacation marriage of Jane Elwell to Jack Christopher who goes to school in California. Isn't it a shame that some people have all of the luck?

Reviewing Formal.

Thetas will don formals on Friday night for their formal dance which will be held at the Cornhusker. Elaine Parmenter with pinmate Wayne Messinger; Ann Miles with Warren Eisenhardt; ... will turn out for a big time.

The Phi Deltis are wishing for a quick change in weather as big plans are in preparation for a party on Saturday night. Helen Prince with Sam Huston; Jody Harrison with Bill Sturges; Mimi Lommi with Roy Dinsdale; and Joanie Vingers with Bob Lee are a few of the couples who will attend this outdoor affair.

The girls at the dorm will dress in their best bib and tucker on Friday night when they will honor all campus fellas at an hour dance. Truly a fine way to meet the new fella whom you have secretly admired for such a long time.

Migration for Saturday.

Saturday night dates include Nancy Watkins who will migrate into Omaha to be with Jay Sheridan; Jeanne Hickey who also plans to take off toward Omaha way; and Bob Lipps who will take his weekly jaunt to Omaha to be with that secret flame of his no one knows just what the special attraction is, but one day the tale will be revealed, and Bea Bennett will be with Arnie Butt ... it seems that Bea will not only settle for Saturday night, but Arnie will be her escort on Friday and Sunday also more power to you if you can do it.

The annual Cabaret Party at the Tri Delt house on Saturday night promises to be quite the occasion. Winnie Wolf with Rus Kugler; Norma Rakow with Merrill Blatchford; Mary Lou Peyton with hometown flame Bob Smith; and Shirley Mekenna with pinmate Bob Heinke. Fun seems to be in store for all.

Things seem to be turned around a bit, and rumors have it that a vice date between Shorty Maclaren with Dale Novotny and Paulie Martz with Dick Buck will take in a show on Saturday night, and the gals will foot the bills. It is unknown as to whether this deal came about by losing bets or being broke, but anyway this time the girls will take the governing hand.

Miss Elizabeth Victoria Cherny, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James E. Cherny of North Bend, was married Sunday afternoon to Lt. Clifford Sandefur Godwin, USMCR, son of Mrs. C. Godwin of Jackson, Miss., and the late Mr. Godwin, in the United Presbyterian church in North Bend.

The bride attended the University of Nebraska where she was a member of Mortar Board and Alpha Xi Delta. The groom attended Millsaps college, where he was a member of Lambda Chi Alpha. After a wedding trip, the couple will reside at Key West, Fla.

Student Council

Members of the Student Council, governing body of the school, are chosen at the spring elections. Representatives from all classes work chiefly through committees which take charge of elections, formulate plans for Honors Day convocation, approve constitutions, and in general serve as liaison between students and other groups. President of the 1945-46 Student Council is Edith Pumphy.

Spring Styles Attract Males As Coeds Don New Attire

By Mary Ann Korb & Gracie Smith.

With the sudden arrival of spring and all, one's thoughts turn to the more beautiful side of life. On blondes, brunettes, or red-heads, the new spring fashions certainly deserve the "eye," and it is all very evident that the graceful females of the university are testing the eyesight of many-a-drooling male.

Shirlee Hammond has just the thing set aside for that hot, sultry day soon to come. A cool, brown, cotton dress with slight cap sleeves is her choice. The dress is plainly made and is trimmed with a light blue braid around the neckline and down the front. We dare say that pinmate Jimmy Tagader will be proud indeed of his little Shirlee when she steps out in this stunning frock.

Suits.

Radine Veta thrills army man, Irv Lefkowitz by wearing a navy blue light-weight woolen suit. The jacket features the new dolphin sleeves plus a fly front with two buttons at the waistline. With this striking suit she wears stylish red leather shoes and carries a matching red leather purse. A white, straw, pill-box hat with a navy blue band and veil tops this exquisite outfit.

Taking her place in the spring parade is Barbara Turk when she assumes her fascinating figured, silk, crepe dress. The white background of the dress is sharply set off by brightly colored women's faces. Cap sleeves and a flowing, drape skirt complete this charming attire.

Grey Suit.

Marge Bock is seen wearing a grey, pin-striped, collarless suit which has a plain skirt with one deep kick pleat in the front. With this ensemble she wears black, suede sling pumps and carries a small corde purse. With Marge's long blonde hair this outfit is doubly attractive.

Shirley Staats may be the cause of pinmate Bob Holman's fascination as she dons a powder blue two piece woolen dress. Black patent sandals set off this well chosen garb.

"Ohs."

Causing "Ohs" and "Ahs" from both the girls and the boys is Mary Kay Mae in her large checked royal blue jacket with the pleated skirt of a corresponding blue. This petti suit is just the thing to bring out the gleam in her already starry blue eyes.

The questions for the test will be interpretive in nature, and will be given senior students early in May, according to Dean Charles H. Oldfather.

Exams.

The examinations will be conducted by H. M. Cox, director of the university's bureau of instructional research.

"These new type exams will give Nebraska a check upon the effectiveness of its instruction as compared with that of other institutions," Mr. Cox said.

Extension Division Sponsors Series Of Book Reviews

Two books will be reviewed at the last in a series of book reviews sponsored by the extension division at Love Memorial library, Friday at 9:30 a. m.

Dr. Karl M. Arndt will discuss "America's Role in the World Economy" by Alvin H. Hansen; and Dr. Charles H. Patterson will discuss "One World in the Making," by Ralph Barton.

mighty pert the other day in her chartreuse, print crepe dress. With folding cap sleeves and glass buttons down the front, this garment is ideal for any occasion.

Formals.

Formal dances have once again taken a sweep over the campus, and the Prom revealed many new styles. Seen twirling around in a glamorous fashion was Pat Tallon in her white net formal. The gown has a full net skirt and a jersey blouse. With short, puffed sleeves and a gathered design at the waist line, this costume is truly appealing.

Clothes and fashions have been proven the important thing in this stylish world of ours, and with the fine examples that we have set here, it is no wonder that announcements of pinnings and engagements appear in the Nebraskan each day.
