

Full Program Looms For Husker Athletes

There is another big weekend ahead for University of Nebraska athletic squads, with the baseball, track and golf and tennis teams going into action Friday and Saturday.

Local fans will witness a greater part of the activity, for all Scarlet performers except the track and field artists will parade their wares in Lincoln.

Coach Ed Wier will take a 23 man team to Des Moines for the Drake relays, one of the outstanding track and field carnivals in the nation. Preliminaries in the meet will begin Friday with finals slated for Saturday.

Prospects Encouraging

After their showing at the KU relays last Saturday, the Huskers can be counted upon to break into the scoring column at the Drake track and field show. Herb Crote unleashed a javelin throw of 197 feet 6 1/2 inches to edge Leonard Nabb of Michigan State by one and one-quarter inches for Nebraska's only first in individual events.

The distance medley team, anchored by Bobby Ginn, raced to a win over the Drake University team for the top showing in the relay events. Harvey Stroud, Blaine Young and Dean Kratz were the other Scarlet members of the victorious quartet.

The four mile relay team and the two mile relay team took second places in team events, Dick Miller shared in a four-way tie for second in the pole vault and Norvel Barker placed fourth in the 120 yard high hurdles to complete the Nebraska scoring.

Baseball

The UN baseball team, now holding a record of two wins and four defeats, entertains another tough customer this weekend. The Iowa State Cyclones will be on hand for a two-game series Friday and Saturday.

Among their accomplishments this season the Cyclones hold wins over Minnesota and Oklahoma. Both of these nines soundly spanked Coach Frank Smagacz's club in games this spring.

Last week the Husker baseball team fell before a powerful Oklahoma team 11-2 and 15-5. Too many extra base blows by the Sooners led to the Nebraska losses—the visitors amassed five home runs and three triples during the two games.

Sooner golf and tennis teams made the Oklahoma invasion entirely successful. Each squad scored two wins over Nebraska aggregations to give the southerners a clean sweep of the weekend competition.

Golf and Tennis

Husker golfers were closer to victory last week, losing by a single point on Saturday 9 1/2 to 8 1/2, but Friday the Sooners posted a comfortable 12 1/2-5 1/2 win. On the tennis front Bob Huxton was the only Nebraska netster to score a triumph. His singles match decision Saturday enabled the Huskers to escape a whitewashing for the second consecutive day. Capt. Matthews Announces Naval Aviation Program

The Naval Reserve aviation training program for naval aviators is to be activated according to information received by Captain M. D. Matthews, commanding officer of the NROTC unit at the university.

Location and size of the unit to be established in this area cannot be determined until a canvas has been made of the prospective members of the unit.

Those Naval Reserve aviators who might be interested in the peacetime reserve training program should contact Capt. Matthews in Navy hall.

ATOs Take Water Polo Victories

Alpha Tau Omega downed Phi Delta Theta, 13-7, Thursday night to cop first place in the all-university water polo finals. Each team had topped its individual league, and the game Thursday was probably the best splash session of the season. It was a hot contest all the way, but the Taus, sparked by the Baughan and Dedrick scoring combination, had too much for the losers.

Baughan led the Taus with six points, while Bauer, with three counters, looked best for the Phi Delta Theta team. To the victor goes a team trophy and 200 points toward the Jack Best award.

Earlier in the evening the Sigma Nu water boys had edged the Phi Kappa Psi six by the score of 11-8 to take third place in the university standings. Farner slammed in seven points for the Sig Nus in a one-man scoring spree that overcame the team scoring of the Phi Psis, Van Decar and Howard. Each racked up two points to lead the losers.

Fifth Place Playoff.

The playoff for fifth place, between Phi Gamma Delta and Delta Upsilon, originally had been scheduled for Friday night, but was postponed and will be played tonight at 5:10.
