

Jayhawks Wallop UN 18-3 to Split Series

BY BOB McCONAUGHEY.

Cornhusker baseballers took it on the chin in the worst defeat of the season Tuesday afternoon when the Kansas Jayhawkers slapped an 18-3 mauling on them in the second tilt of a two-game series.

Numerous Misplays.

Turn about seemed fair play, for the Huskers took Monday's game 7-5, as the K.U. boys committed nine errors. Tuesday's game was also a comedy of errors as both teams booted the ball away on numerous occasions. All in all, Nebraska erred five times, while Kansas was charged with three misplays.

Coach Frank Smagacz paraded four fingers to the mound in an effort to stop the Kansas hitters, but weak support canceled any chance the Huskers had of winning the game.

Dick Lebbs started on the mound for Huskers but after one and two-thirds innings was yanked in favor of Harold Jacob. Bill Hogan doubled, going to third on Maser's error. Irv Hayden singled, bringing in Hogan. Dale Marrow walked, White singled, and pitcher Ray Ocamb walked to fill the bases. Then right fielder Verl Anderson singled to drive in two runs and send Lebbs to the showers.

Huskers Score.

Nebraska batters had trouble with Ocamb all afternoon although they got to him for six hits. In the third inning, Fritz Hedgwood walked, went to third on Bob Rubino, single and scored on First Baseman Hayden's wild throw.

Again in the fifth inning with one away, John Olson walked, Hedgwood got a bingle, and Toby Jewitt batting for Rubino got on via an error, sending Olson home with the second tally. With two still on, Baack hit into a double play to retire the side.

The Husker's final tally came in the eighth frame when Baack got a single but was out going into third on Maser's double. Jackson was safe on an infield hit but was called out because he had batted out of order. With Maser on third, O'Donnell was walked and Bob Bolen then slapped a hard hit ball to the K. U. second-baser who let it slip through, letting Maser come home with the last Nebraska run. After giving up three runs in the second inning, Jacob seemed to settle down, but the Jayhawks got their batting eyes again in the fifth and smacked him for five runs before he called it quits. John Olson came in and retired the side and lasted till the ninth when Jim Weiss took over.

This loss moves the Huskers back into the .500 bracket, with six wins and six losses.

Julian Hatton Wins Squash Singles Crown

Another championship event was decided this week at the University of Nebraska when Julian Hatton, Navy ROTC student from Grand Haven, Mich., won the Squash Racket championship in the All-University Intramural tournament by defeating Bob Poe of Lincoln in the finals in a well played match. Hatton is also a member of the varsity tennis team.

Hatton had previously defeated Bill Hickey, another Navy ROTC student from Grosse Point, Mich., in the semi-finals, and earlier had eliminated Chick Thorne of Lincoln, both very fine players. Bob Poe had earlier disposed of Bill Barrett of Lincoln and Warren Dorland of Wahoo.

First Year Since '32.

This was the first year for squash since 1932 when only one tourney was held in the history of the university. The champion that year was H. Sherman. It will become an annual event from now on. The team squash championships were earlier captured in a long and spirited elimination team tournament by the Phi Gamma Delta, with Beta Theta Pi finishing second.
