

Nubbins Tilt Moved Out Of Stadium

Nebraska university's "B" team will be in quest of its third victory of the season when it tangles with the Kansas State Wildcats at 3 p. m. this afternoon on the field west of the coliseum instead of at Memorial Stadium. Coaches Ray Prochaska and Bob Kahler were hoping for some sunshine after two days of rain, for their T formation will be greatly slowed down by a wet and slippery gridiron.

Coach Bernie Masterson did much to solve Prochaska's injury problem yesterday when he further reduced his varsity squad. Reporting for the Nubbins team now are John Sedlacek, an all-Big Six tackle of last season; Harold Becker, tackle; Keith Manning, guard; Dale Adams, hard running Randolph halfback; and Chick Story, a starting varsity halfback last year. Also expected to report to Prochaska are Al Kirlin, former Lincoln Northeast end, and Jack Evans, center. Red Nausler, who has seen considerable action at end in the first two games this year, has turned in his equipment.

Last night's tapering off exercises consisted of a chalk talk a drill on defensive formations, which have been stressed all week, and movies of the Nebraska-Kansas State varsity game.

Gerlach Lost.

The Huskers will be without the services of Bud Gerlach, whose broken ankle had to be reset, Fullback Walt Wilkins, who underwent an operation for a blood clot on his leg, Carl Dilldine, suffering from a twisted ankle, and Gail Gade, on the shelf with a bad knee.

Gerlach received a wrist watch from the Alliance chamber of commerce for being the most valuable Nebraska player in the game last Thursday against Colorado. The award originally went to Paul Allen, but both he and the rest of the Husker team felt that Gerlach, who went out of the game in the first quarter with a broken ankle, should receive the honor.

Kansas State will field a team which has split even in its first two starts, beating Wichita university by two touchdowns and dropping its second tilt to the University of Kansas by the same margin. The Wildcats will probably be minus several of their regulars who are out with injuries, among them two hundred pound freshman tackle, Roland Parr.

Scarlet Prepared For Hawkeye Tilt

Seeking their second win of the current campaign, 35 Cornhusker football players leave this afternoon for Iowa City where the Iowa Hawkeyes will be waiting for a Saturday pigskin engagement.

The Huskers won last year's game, taking a 13-6 decision in the last game of the season, so the Hawks will be anxious to reverse the outcome.

Sam's Homecoming.

Tomorrow's game will be the first Nebraska appearance in the Iowa stadium since 1938, and will be something of a homecoming for Quarterback Sam Vacanti who performed for the Black and Gold eleven during the '42 season.

Coach Eddie Anderson, back at the helm of Iowa football, has a tough and experienced outfit ready to greet the Huskers. With Emlen Tunnell, top flight Negro star who handles a football like a baseball, and Fullback Dick Hoerner, one of the Big Nine's top line smashers, the Hawks will give the Nebraska front wall a busy afternoon.

Nebraska will again rely on the winged feet of Halfbacks Dick Hutton, Bill Moomey and Cletus Fischer, with the assistance of another backfield performer who broke into the limelight against Kansas State. Jim Myers, York halfback, is the athlete in question, for he produced some fine running in addition to getting off several booming punts against the K-State team.

Twins Captain Iowa.

The Huskers will be led by Right End Willard Bunker in tomorrow's game, while the Iowa twins, Herb and Harold Schoener, who are probable starters at the end posts, will captain the Hawkeyes.

Not to be discounted by Hawkeye defenders is the passing arm of Quarterback Vacanti who connected on one pass last week.

Delta Upsilon Loses First Gridiron Battle

Delta Upsilon suffered its first defeat Wednesday in intramural touch football play as they were downed by Beta Sigma Psi, 7-0. Delta Upsilon, however, remains in first place in League II, while the Beta Sigs moved up to a second place tie with Beta Theta Pi.

Phi Delta Theta and Sigma Chi remained undefeated in their respective leagues as both came through with victories. The Phi Delt beat Zeta Beta Tau, 13-0, as Seymour and Chapin scored touchdowns. Sigma Chi defeated Alpha Tau Omega in a close contest, 6-6.

Hilmes scored a lone touchdown as he led Sigma Nu to a 6-0 win over Sigma Phi Epsilon.

PI MU EPSILON.

Pi Mu Epsilon, honorary mathematics society, will hold a business meeting Thursday, October 17 in room 308 of the Mechanic Arts building at 7 p. m. All members are urged to attend, according to Dick Breese, president of the society. Refreshments will be served.
