

Dupre Gives Recital Here Friday Night

Continuing a season of top-flight musical entertainment presented by various Lincoln organizations, French organist Marcel Dupre will appear in a recital of organ music tomorrow night at 8 p.m. at the Plymouth Congregational Church. Sponsored by the Lincoln chapter of the American Guild of Organists, Dupre is considered by critics as a great organist.

Already a talented organist at the age of 12 at St. Vincent's in Rouen, France, Dupre won first prizes in piano, counterpoint and organ at the Paris Conservatory at the ages of 19, 21 and 23. Five years later he was named to the honor post of organist at Notre Dame cathedral. He now holds the organist position at Paris' St. Sulpice cathedral.

Dupre is best known for his improvising genius, as well as for his performing skill. He ends almost every recital with an exhibition of improvising. Handed several themes just a few minutes before he is to use them, Dupre weaves them into a new composition.

Professor Myron Roberts has been collecting suggested themes from a number of Lincoln musicians which he will give to Mr. Dupre for his recital tomorrow evening. Tickets, selling for a single price of $1.20, are available at Walt's and Dietz' music stores and from Professor Roberts.

Will We See The Awgwan This Friday?

It has been at least two weeks since the last announcement revealing the appearance of the erstwhile publication, "The Awgwan" has been printed.

Since the resignation of former editor, George Shestak, who sent the first issue to press, many strange people have been trekking in and out of the humor magazine's office door. Strangest face is that of Walter Simon, managing editor, who passionately declares that the first issue of "The Awgwan" will be out Friday or he'll eat his left shoe between halves at the game Saturday.

bility rules for Honorary Colonel of the Military Ball were discussed. A question was raised as to the statement in The Daily Nebraskan, that to be eligible women must have an 80 average. Since this statement was not qualified with the word "weighted," it was decided that the only scholastic requirement would be an 80 average for the last semester.

Upon conclusion of the regular business, the council adjourned, since the status of the remaining officers needed clarification.
