Sigma Chi, Rosa Bouton Hall Win Homecoming Displays

Against the keenest competition in recent years, Sigma Chi and Rosa Bouton Hall captured first place in the men's and women's divisions, respectively, of the Homecoming decoration contest, it was announced at the Homecoming dance last night.

Second place for fraternity decorations went to Sigma Alpha Epsilon while Pi Beta Phi placed second among sororities. Beta Theta Pi and Alpha Chi Omega received honorable mention.

Judges for the traditional Homecoming Cup, awarded by the Innocents society, found their task difficult. Those who had judged previous Homecoming contests emphasized their belief that decorations this year far outshone those of recent years.

Tiger-Burgers.

The final verdict gave first place to Rosa Bouton Hall's deserving and well-conceived display taking the Tigers through a replica of Memorial stadium and onto a conveyor belt which carried the remains to Bernie Masterson's tiger-burger stand.

The winning Sigma Chi decorations followed a popular theme with a recognizable and towering likeness of Coach Masterson butchering a tiger on a meat block.

In the runner-up Sigma Alpha Epsilon display, a coed clubbed a hapless tiger against a background of football stars. The huge Pi Beta Phi Husker ground out Bengal bologna from small tigers.

Feature of the Alpha Chi Omega entry was a smoking, king-size cigarette in a mammoth ash-tray, while Beta Theta Pi rang the bell of victory with an over-size sledge hammer.

The spectators who thronged sorority and fraternity row were equally attracted to the Phi Gamma Delta kettle where a 1946 victory was brewing and the Alpha Tau Omega circus with a Husker cracking the whip.

Obviously enjoying many other excellent displays, the crowd seemed to agree with the judges that sound, action and art-work were far above average generally. And the Missouri Tiger did receive rough treatment at the hands of decorators. It was variously ground up, clubbed, stewed and quartered on the meat block. The accompanying realistic groans and shrieks echoed pitifully through the streets.

Judges for the competition were Miss Kady D. Faulkner and Murray Turnbull, both of the university's art department, and Walt Ducker of Magee's display staff.

Hutton Ignites Breathtaking Second Half Comeback

BY GEORGE MILLER.

One of the most blistering comebacks ever staged on Memorial Stadium sod fell one point short as the Nebraska Cornhuskers dropped a 21-20 Big Six clash to the Missouri Tigers before 34,000 Homecoming fans Saturday afternoon.

For twenty-nine minutes and ten seconds of the first half the Huskers did nothing to merit their position as a contender for the loop championship. But throughout the remainder of the game Bernie Masterson's pupils were on the aggressive, carrying the play to the surprised Tigers during the entire second half, only to fall one point short in the final reckoning.

Dick Hutton, speedy Auburn halfback, woke the Scarlet grid-ers from their lethargy when he skittered and scooted 60 yards to a touchdown after fielding a Missouri punt on his own 40 with 50 seconds left in the first half. The lightweight sprinter charted an uncertain course through the entire Tiger team to enter touchdown territory in the eastern corner of the field after taking the kick near the west sideline.

This gallop set the tempo for the Huskers who kept hammering at the Missouri advantage for the rest of the game. Although scoreless in the third quarter, the Scarlet moved to two scores in the closing stanza.

Metheny Directs.

Freddie Metheny was at the helm of the Nebraska machine as it rolled for 104 yards to mark up the second marker early in the fourth quarter. A 15 yard loss during the touchdown drive failed

University Artists' Work Displayed At Hastings Show

A group of thirty paintings assembled by the university art galleries is now on view at the Hastings museum in the display to celebrate the museum's 20th anniversary.

Included in the group are examples of the work of nine university art faculty members. Several pictures are from the permanent collection of the Lincoln Artist's Guild, and one picture each is from the Nebraska Art association and the university.

Five university graduates who have been awarded the Riordan-Morey scholarships for advance study in the Art Institute in Chicago are also represented in the Hastings show. The fund for these scholarships was a bequest of Mrs. Morey, a former active member of the Hastings club.

Sprague, Miller, and Mesner Named as Rhodes Candidates

Three University of Nebraska men students have been named as candidates for the first Rhodes scholarship to be awarded since 1939. Chancellor R. G. Gustavson announced Friday.

The three candidates are: Dale Marsh Mesner, a sophomore in the College of Engineering, majoring in electrical engineering; Elmer Delos Sprague, Jr., a junior in the college of Arts and Sciences; and William Lee Miller, who, although not currently registered in school, has attended the university for three years and expects to re-enter school for the second semester.

Committee Consideration.

They will compete with candidates from other Nebraska colleges before the state selection committee on December 10 and 12. A maximum of three candidates will be chosen by the state group for consideration by the district committee on December 16. The district of which Nebraska is a part includes Minnesota, South Dakota, Iowa, Missouri, and Kansas. Successful candidates in the district will enter the University of Oxford, England, in October, 1947.

Sprague and Miller are candidates for the regular 32 Rhodes scholarships awarded each year.

Mesner is a candidate for one of the 16 "war service" scholarships to be awarded in 1945 and 1947, that were established to compensate for cancellation of scholarships during the war years.

Merits.

Selection of Rhodes scholarships is made on the basis of (1) literary and scholastic ability and attainment; (2) qualities of manhood, truth, courage, devotion to duty, sympathy, kindness, unselfishness, and fellowship; (3) exhibition of moral force of character and instincts to lead and to take an interest in school-mates; (4) physical vigor as shown by interest in outdoor sports or in other ways.

Candidates for regular scholarships must be unmarried, male citizens of the United States, between 19 and 25 years of age on October 1, 1947, and must have completed at least two years in college of university by the time of application.

War service scholarships are open to men, 19 to 32 years of age, who have completed a year of war service or participated in civilian war work for a year. In addition, the candidate must have completed at least one year of college or university work by the time of application.

Dr. H. C. Filley Addresses Convo

Dr. Horace Clyde Filley, professor of rural economics, will speak at the first general Ag convocation Tuesday in Room 306 of Ag hall.

His topic will be "Balancing Activities and Scholarship," and will include an explanation of the activities on Ag campus. The convocation is sponsored by the Ag Executive board and the Student Faculty council.

Veterans!

Veterans who have not yet received their subsistence checks may consult with representatives of the Veterans Administration in Room 212, Mechanic Arts hall, from 6:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m., on November 6 and 8, and from 8:30 a. m. to 12:00 noon on November 9, according to J. P. Colbert, director. No conferences will be held on November 7. Each veteran should bring his C-number with him.

Sig Eps and Pi Phi's Win Float Honors

BY JACK HILL.

Sharing top honors in the 1946 Homecoming parade, Saturday morning, the Sigma Phi Epsilon entry and the Pi Beta Phi float were judged to be the outstanding displays. The Sig Ep entry was built around the phrase, "No Limit on the Big Six" and depicted a hunter shooting down the Missouri tiger. Presenting a large gold key, the Pi Phis declared that Nebraska has "The Key to the Situation" as a Cornhusker entered a cage with the Mizzou mascot in it.

Parade Judges Patricia Lahr, union director, and Col. C. J. Frankfurter, Corn Cob advisor, named Beta Theta Pi in the men's division and Delta Delta Delta in the women's division as second place winners. With one of the more photogenic presentations in the parade, the Tri Deltas offered a "Toast to the Queen", the queen being seated on a throne on the float with a court of Tri Delt beauties.

Decked out in a bath tub and running water, the Beta brotherhood put a Missouri tiger in a bubble bath and announced to the crowd that Nebraska will "Soak 'Em in Foam and Send 'Em Home."

With 23 floats in the parade and miscellaneous cars, yesterday morning's parade was one of the most colorful in the school's history. Seated in a truck on the corner of 13th and O, Miss Lahr and Col. Frankfurter agreed that the combination of the university's marching band in full uniform and the many entries would be hard to beat at any school in the country.

Originality keynoted the entire performance as there was little duplication by any of the floats presented and unique ideas such as that of the Sig Alpha heap of See FLOATS, Page 3
