

Ragged Edges

BY JEANNE HICKEY.

The middle-of-the-week news always seems nil in comparison to the great events that take place on the week-ends, but anticipation of the gala plans for this weekend have promised great things.

Tonight, Toddie Fiddock will take in King's with Ralph Stewart, as will Jim Kraachovil and Sherry Boise. Walt Dorothy and Doris Carey, Floyd Blanchard and Melissa Koehler, Bodin Portwood and Bertie Collins. The Duke will be at the Pike tonight, and many are making dates early, (in the evening, that is,) in order that they can get in the door. Dick Folda and pinmate Janie Conrad have arranged to go early as have Betty Lisinger and Lou Rhinehardt.

Iowa Visitors.

The Beta Sigs have been busy getting dates for the Iowa State brothers, who are staying for the "Barbary Coast" party Saturday night. Nebraskans there will be Prexy Glenn Blinde with Shirley Coatman, Herb Temme with Marcia Tyner, Harold Johnson and Mary Guendel and LeRoy Thom and Arlene Kostal. And still more parties take the spotlight on Saturday. Phi Psis will have another party (almost a weekly event) and new and interesting couples will be Jean Leinberger and Dub Woods. The Betas who formerly attended Iowa State, are planning a migration to Omaha for a party given by Nels Latenser. Two interesting couples are Barbara Turk with Jack Buffington and June Korb with her sister's former pinmate, Bob Bridges.

Lil Abner Party.

Phi Gams' annual 'Lil Abner party will undoubtedly be quite a success as the girls attending have been busy all week planning their costumes. Eleanor Knoll will be there with steady Bob Orr, while brothers, Bill Holbrook and Jack Holbrook, will attend with Shirley Lierk and Nancy Garey.

It seems that Fred Schroeder is having trouble about plans to attend the Phi Delt pledge party this weekend as a certain Pi Phi has to stay in. Speaking of Phi Delt, Pat Thompson completely shocked sisters when the news of her pinning to Finn Halber was announced on the local chatter program. They were pinned last October fourth and planned to have a surprise candy passing. Anyway, they make a perfect couple, and everyone is pleased to know it has ended or begun in a pinning.

A pin was hung on Rosemary Gass last Saturday night, and she and new pinmate, Tom Green,

("MY SUGAR IS SO REFINED")

passed the candy the following Monday.

Sunday night marked the beginning of another steady deal when Enid Kelso and Warren Connelley decided to be exclusive.

Pix Schedule

Block and Bridle group picture will be taken at 12:15 p. m. Friday in the west stadium.

Thanksgiving Turkey Served In New Guise

If your turkey looks different this Thanksgiving, you can thank the home economics department.

Nebraska economics experts have served up the traditional turkey in new guise this year. It's called "turkey steaks," and here's how to fix one. After the tom turkey is dressed and cooled, the wings, legs, thighs and neck are cut from the carcass. Next, they are frozen. Finally, run the carcass through a slicer crosswise. The steaks come out about the size of two hands. Legs and thighs make smaller ones.

Full Flavor.

To bring out the full flavor of the steaks, they should be fried southern style. It takes only about 20 minutes.

H. D. Douthit, superintendent of the school of agriculture, predicted that turkey tom steaks would solve the problem of utilizing the big 20 to 25 pound turkey tom. "The average housewife simply doesn't have the facilities for cooking such a big bird. And turkey growers have a difficult time marketing them," he said.

"The turkey steak creates a market for turkey toms; it saves the housewife from ten to twelve cents a pound; and a good many suffering husbands will be spared the ordeal of trying to carve an
