GAMES THIS WEEK.
Nebraska at Oklahoma.
Kansas State at New Mexico.

RESULTS LAST WEEK.
Kansas 34, Kansas State 0.
Nebraska 33, Iowa State 0.
Oklahoma 27, Missouri 6.

Big Six schedule makers probably had no inkling of what would happen, but four of the conference gridiron machines are bearing down on the finish line deadlocked in a tie for first place.

Only two league games remain to be played, and both will be vital in determining the final leaders. All of last week's contests ended as expected to produce a four-way tie involving Oklahoma, Missouri, Kansas and Nebraska, each team having a record of three wins and one loss.

The Huskers and Oklahoma will meet on Saturday to settle part of the middle, with Kansas and Missouri slated to collide on Thanksgiving tilt at Columbia in a game which will unravel the rest of the tangle.

Unless ties crop up, and these have been none in conference games thus far, two schools will finish in a deadlock for the championship.

Cyclones Done.

Kansas State and Iowa State, both out of the conflict, have concluded their conference activity, and the Cyclones have checked in their gridiron togs.

This week the Wildcats will travel to Albuquerque for a non-loop engagement with the New Mexico Lobos, while Kansas and Missouri rest in preparation for their crucial meeting on Turkey day.

Altho every conference game went according to pre-kickoff dope, the Sooners' margin of victory over the heretofore undefeated Tigers caused plenty of surprise around the conference. Coach Jim Tatum's aggregation piled up 20 points in the first quarter to completely master the Bengal threat.

In view of this display of power, Nebraska will rank as a definite underdog when the two clubs clash at Owen field. The game will be the first of a two-game trip which will carry Bernie Masterson and his Husker gridders to the Pacific coast for a meeting with the powerful UCLA outfit on Nov. 30.

Fullback Pihos Tops Hoosier Point Makers

BLOOMINGTON, Ind.—Big Pete Pihos, Indiana's fullback who has been described as "an All-American at any position," will go down as the biggest scorer in Hoosier football history regardless of what he does against Purdue in his last collegiate game next Saturday.

Pihos, who has played fullback, quarterback and left halfback for the Hoosiers this fall after winning all-America honors at end in 1943, has tallied 120 points. The advantage he has on some other prolific point-producers at Indiana is that he got in four years of football, thanks to the war.

The gorgeous Greek started the 1946 season with 90 points, heading Billy Hillenbrand, who tallied 82 points in two seasons, and Dick Deranek, the Indiana right halfback, who got 78 in 1944 and 1945. Deranek has tallied 18 points this season and thus has overhauled Hillenbrand. With another season of competition left, Deranek may yet overtake Pihos before hanging up his cleats.

Most Touchdowns.

Hugh (Knocky) McKinnis, Indiana's left halfback, is the all-time leader in the number of touchdowns scored in one season. McKinnis, operating as a reserve fullback, tallied nine for the Hoosiers in 1942.

Charley (Automatic) Armstrong has the most point-after-touchdown conversions with 25 in the 1945 campaign, and Gene White, captain of Indiana's 1941 eleven, leads in field goals for one season. He booted three in 1940, his third and last one providing the 3-0 victory over the Boiler-makers.

leave Lincoln on Thursday night and will return to the wintery scene on Dec. 3 after almost two weeks of touring in the southwest.

Saturday's 33-0 win over the punchless Iowa State Cyclones served as a tuneup for the Nebraska team which should be at full strength for the Sooner battle.

Ray Evans broke loose in the second half to lead the Jayhawks to a 34-0 win over the scrappy Kansas State Wildcats. The Manhattan squad had limited the KU combination to a 6-0 halftime lead, but wilted under steady pounding by the Jayhawk backfield.

The defeat put the 'Cats in the cellar to stay, for Iowa State had scored an earlier win over the Purple to evade the basement by one game.

UN Two Mile Team Pleases Coach Weir

BY WALT LOOMIS.

Although the Cornhuskers wound up in fourth place in the Big Six two mile conference meet at Norman, Oklahoma, last Saturday, Nebraska prestige did not suffer.

The showing made by Bobby Ginn and Don Morrison in placing first and sixth respectively proved that the only thing the other three members of the team lacked was experience. Both Ginn and Morrison, the only experienced runners on the squad and also the only two men who had run the gruelling two mile distance before coming to the university, broke the tape at Norman in less than ten minutes, which is quite an accomplishment in view of the fact that a strong wind and cold weather hampered the runners.

All of the coaches of the conference teams were greatly surprised to find that the times of the first twenty-five men taken as a group were faster than in the pre-war years of 1941 and 1942.

Vets Run Well.

This fact, coupled with the performance turned in by returned war veterans, who ran exceptionally well for their first season back, gave an indication that the performances of the coming track season are going to be well above those of the past two or three years.

The University of Kansas appears to have a strong "first-place" team this year and Oklahoma, with a host of veterans and a wealth of navy material, has the depth to warrant consideration in the title contest.

In the Big Six indoor track meet the first five places are to count for points, instead of the first four as has been the case previously. Also in the outdoor meet the points will be scored on the basis of the first six places instead of the first five.

With this fact in mind, Coach Ed Weir of Nebraska is concentrating his efforts on developing second, third, and fourth place winners, as many a track meet has been won on the basis of these lesser places.

The complete list of how the runners from all schools finished in the two mile race Saturday is below.

- (1) Ginn, Nebraska; (2) Jones, Kansas; (3) Weaver, Oklahoma; (4) Killough, Missouri; (5) Borthwick, Kansas State; (7) Bosworth, Missouri; (8) Chapman, Oklahoma; (9) Leasure, Kansas State; (10) Vicklund, Oklahoma; (11) Burns, Oklahoma; (12) Canaris, Oklahoma; (13) Adee, Kansas State; (14) Slagle, Missouri; (15) Chronister, Missouri.
- (16) Cunningham, Kansas State; (17) Moore, Kansas; (18) Baty, Iowa State; (19) Immann, Iowa State; (20) Van Haverbeke, Kansas State; (21) Maney, Iowa State; (22) Myers, Nebraska; (23) Kopf, Nebraska; (24) Martin, Nebraska; (25) Priel, Missouri; (26) Stephens, Iowa State; (27) Godfrey, Kansas; (28) Brown, Kansas; (29) Anderson, Iowa State; (30) Morrison, Kansas.

Joe Golding, Oklahoma back, is threatening the all-time ground gaining mark at the Sooner school. Bob Brumley set the record in 1943 when he gained 562 net yards.

The Big Six two mile championships to be held in Norman on November 16 will be the first such occasion for the Oklahomans in 20 years.

Husker Cagers Will Practice At Ag College

With the opening game with South Dakota only two weeks away, basketball coach Harry Good has accelerated his practices in order to give his team both a well rounded offense and defense.

Offense Stressed.

He is still working on the fast break and set offenses, and has been fixing defenses against the various offenses he expects to encounter.

Practice will be held at Ag College until Thursday because the floor in the coliseum is being sealed. Monday, Good showed his players films on basketball fundamentals.

Good mentioned the following players as being particularly outstanding in practice thus far:

Forwards: Joe Brown, Claude Rutherford, Ken Anderson, Matt Keating.

Centers: Waldo Winter, Don MacArthur, Rod Cox.

Guards: Neal Mosser, Joe Loisel, Bob Means, Al Kirilin, Jim Sandstedt.

Nubbins Meet Midland At Fremont Saturday

With a season's record of three wins and a tie behind them, the University of Nebraska B team is preparing for its finale Saturday afternoon against Midland at Fremont.

The loss of several outstanding players to the varsity and the recent Midland improvement is causing Coach Ray Prochaska a good deal of concern as he weighs the chances of his team finishing the campaign without a defeat.

Midland has the leading scorer in the Nebraska College Conference in the person of Revue Hill, who was also a standout player at the Fremont school prior to the war. This versatile halfback is expected to cause the Huskers a lot of trouble come Saturday afternoon.

Nubbins Advanced.

In an effort to strengthen his weakest positions, Bernie Masterson elevated three Nubbins stalwarts to the varsity last week. The three boys who saw duty against the Iowa State Cyclones last week-end were Jim McWilliams, Scottsbluff end, Oscar Mussman, mainstay of the B team line all year, and Ralph Damkroeger, who has come all the way from an end position on the freshman squad to a berth on the varsity this season.
