University Singers Present Eighth Carol Concert Sunday

A choral number written by Harry Harter, graduate student in the University School of Music will be among the features of the Union's eighth annual Christmas Carol concert, to be presented by the University Singers Sunday afternoon.

Mr. Harter is a resident of San Francisco, Calif., and formerly attended the San Jose Conservatory. During the war he was stationed at the Lincoln Air Base.

Harter's number is one of eight pieces to be sung by the entire membership of the Singers, under the direction of Dr. Arthur Westbrook.

Groups Sing.

Men and women of the 150-member chorus will offer separate groups in addition to the numbers by the combined membership. The women will sing four selections under direction of David Foltz, and the men, directed by Dr.

Westbrook, will sing four numbers.

A brass ensemble will play two groups of three selections, under the direction of Robert Stepp. Its members are Eugene Stoll, Marlin Killion and Herman Larsen, trumpet; Jack Snider, horn; Paul Austin and Carroll Brown, trombone; Robert Jordan, baritone, and Hervon Snider, tuba.

Mary Alice Peterson will be organist and Marilyn Nelson pianist for the program.

Two Performances.

There will be two performances of the concert, one at 3 and the other at 4:30 p. m. in the Union ballroom. The concert is open to the public but seating capacity at each presentation is limited to 800.

Admission cards may be obtained free at the Union, Walt's Music Store, Miller and Paine service desk, and the Ag Campus Student Union.

Eastern Group Will Elect New Club Officers

Election of officers for the Easterners' Club will be held at the regular dinner-meeting in the Union Wednesday at 6:15 p. m.

All those who are interested in attending this meeting may do so, stated Art Cohen, acting chairman. It will be possible to attend the business portion of the meeting, which is to be held at 7 p. m., without attending the dinner, he added.

Also to be discussed are final preparations for the specially chartered train, which is to run between Lincoln and Chicago at the beginning and end of Christmas vacations to make possible better connections with all east-bound trains. Cohen stressed the fact that anyone interested in taking this train, either going to or coming from Chicago, should be at Wednesday's meeting so that complete preparations can be made.

Special.

The special car will have "extra" accommodations, leaving and arriving times will be more convenient, especially in regard to connecting trains, and it will provide an opportunity for students to travel together.

Vets Forum Airs Student Opinions On Fraternities

Two members of social fraternities and two independents are slated to discuss the question "Are Fraternities and Sororities Beneficial?" at the Weekly Veterans Organization forum Wednesday afternoon at 4 in the Union lounge.

Phyllis Teagarden and Bob Gillan will defend fraternities and Don Baker and Daniel Bernd uphold the negative in the Forum discussion.

Positions.

Miss Teagarden is editor of the Daily Nebraskan, and Gillan a member of the Awgwan and Cornhusker staffs. Mr. Baker is vice-president of the Veterans Organization while Bernd is a sophomore in the Arts and Science college.

The discussion will be recorded and broadcast on KFOR Saturday morning at 10:30.

Now It's My Turn

BY EDDIE McCULLOUGH

The Big Vice coming up soon (the Mortar Board Ball, that is) leaves all us mere males sweating out dates. My pet amusement is asking people disarming questions, so thought I'd find out how the Big Boys plan to get themselves asked.

First two I met were drinking coffee in the Crib, and had definite plans already laid. One said, "Look, I'll show ya," calmly set fire to a crisp new $5 bill, lit a cigaret with it, and tossed the burning scrap onto the floor. The other pulled out a set of car keys, nonchalantly twirled them slowly around his finger. My apologies to the two blondes I knocked down while getting out of the booth.

The third one was more aloof. He said "Well, I've been dating for seven or eight years now. Dates aren't so wonderful to me any more that I'll go out just to be going out. What's the rush? I'd rather wait until I find a girl that I really appreciate, and then start. I got plenty of time."

The most particular youth encountered was the one who had seven missions over Pike's Peak to his credit. He said he planned to run a classified ad in the Rag, something like "Wanted: Well-dressed, intelligent, witty blonde or brunette with '42 or '46 model convertible. Must be good dancer, bright conversationalist, well-read. Applications will be accepted between the hours of two and two-thirty... red-heads need not apply."

Finally found a fella who had given the situation practically no thought. When he was informed that his date for the Military Ball was not obliged by custom or anything else to ask him to the Mortar Board Ball, he was slightly nonplused. Seems he spends all his spare hours in Omaha, lounging about the rear-most booth of the soft-lighted Frolics, at the hour when the white-collar girls come in after work. The way he described the date situation in Omaha is that the eligible male has his choice of the horde, and he was having difficulty realizing that he would have any trouble in Lincoln.

Thus, kiddies, we have a cross-section of male approach on the campus. There should be enough plans here, with variations on each, to give everyone a solution to the problem.

Me? Well, ah—I think women are allergic to me. But you guys go right ahead and use these schemes—they're for free. I'll see the rest of you that night in the Pines or Diamond Grill. Stag, that is.

And remember,
 Girls that are older
 Are generally bolder—
 But girls that are younger
 Are strictly from hunger!

Signe Hasso, co-starring with Bob Hope in Paramount's "Where There's Life," has received an attractive offer from the Royal Dramatic Theater in Stockholm to return home and star in Schiller's "Joan of Arc," with music by Tchaikowsky. Her acceptance depends on film commitments.

AWS Rules

Fridays, Dec. 6 and 13 will be one o'clock nights, and Saturdays Dec. 7 and 14 will be 12:30 nights. This announcement was made by Mimi Anne Johnson, president of the AWS Board.
