Football activity has been completed by Big Six teams, except for a possible bowl game for Oklahoma, and the final outcome of the air-tight pennant chase was decided by the trusty toe of KU's Don Fambrough.

Two successful place kicks gave the Jayhawks a pair of valuable points after touchdown to enable George Sauer's crew to bump the Missouri Tigers 20-19 in the Thanksgiving day clash between the two schools.

Ray Evans turned in a great individual performance to lead the Kansans to victory, but the powerful Oklahoma Sooners would have had the championship banner all to themselves if Fambrough had missed one of the two placements he produced. The Bengal-Jayhawk mix would have ended in a tie, thus eliminating both crews from title consideration.

Huskers Do It.

Nebraska was the only conference team to defeat the KU eleven. Sam Vacanti connected on a field goal to provide the Scarlet with a 16-14 verdict.

Oklahoma bowed only to Kansas, and again the deciding margin was a field goal, this time produced by Paul Turner who toed a muddy pigskin thru the uprights in the last minute of play during the Nov. 16 game between the two elevens.

The Huskers finished their conference campaign with wins over Kansas, Kansas State and Iowa State, but a one point loss to Missouri, 21-20, was the killing blow to NU title aspirations. Oklahoma's 27-6 win was the other Husker loss.

Tigers Fade.

Coach Don Faurot's Tigers bowed to Kansas and Oklahoma to end their loop play deadlocked with the Huskers in second place. Overwhelming favorites to cop the bunting in pre-season forecasts, the Bengals faded in the late stages of the race, losing their last two conference starts.

Iowa State managed to grind out a one touchdown win over Kansas State to elude the cellar position which went to the hapless Wildcats, who were unable to chalk up a conference victory and scored only two touchdowns during loop play.

The mighty Sooners closed their regular season last Saturday by handing the crippled Oklahoma A. & M. Cowboys a terrific 73-12 lacing to gain revenge for a pair of trouncings which the Aggies administered in previous seasons. Dave Wallace wound up his 1946 performance with a red hot exhibition of place kicking as he came through on nine extra points and a field goal.

Talk of a post-season charity contest between the Sooners and once-beaten Tulsa is prevalent in Oklahoma, and a possible berth in the 'Gator Bowl in Jacksonville, Fla., against North Carolina State is also being mentioned for the Sooners.

Nebraska absorbed its only shutout of the season when Bernie Masterson's boys collided with the unbeaten Bruins of UCLA at Los Angeles. Although unable to generate any kind of an offensive threat, the Huskers won the admiration of west coast fans with tip top defensive play until superior Uclan manpower overwhelmed the Scarlet defenders by an 18-0 count.

NU Standouts.

Tackle Carl Samuelson and Backs Cletus Fischer and Tom Novak were accorded high praise for their doings against the Pacific coast kings who were denied scores several times by the stubborn NU defense.

The Nebraska traveling party will return to Lincoln on Tuesday night at 1:30 after stopping in Denver Tuesday noon for a luncheon with Nebraska alums in that region.

Arizona handed Kansas State a 28-7 spanking in the final tilt of the year for the K-Staters who were unable to win a game throughout the season.

Iowa State had already wound up its gridiron activities, the Nebraska game on Nov. 16 being the last football fireworks for the Cyclones.

Louis E. Means Asked To Head PE Committee

The executive committee of the Central District Association for health, physical education and recreation has asked Louis E. Means, director of student physical welfare at the university, to head the resolutions committee at the association's next convention to be held in Minneapolis, April 16-19.

The committee is composed of Dr. Arthur Wendler, University of Iowa; Miss Edna McCullough of the State Teachers College, Emporia, Kansas; Miss Marion Wagner, University of Kansas City; and Leonard Marti, University of North Dakota.

Navy Man Aids Grappling Coach

Wrestling Coach Jerry Adam is getting first rate assistance in drilling the Scarlet grapplers for the coming mat season.

Lt. Commander John "Sandy" Landreth, on duty with the naval NROTC unit at the university, is aiding Adam, working especially with candidates in the lighter weight divisions.

Landreth was South Pacific A. A. U. champion in the 115 pound class, and was captain of the wrestling team at the naval academy at Annapolis where he was undefeated in eastern collegiate competition during two seasons, competing in the 121 pound class. He also coached the undefeated wrestling team of the U.S.S. Nevada.

South Dakota To Be First NU Cage Foe

Initial action for the Nebraska basketball team will come Wednesday night when Rube Hoy brings his South Dakota cagers to town for the opening game of the season.

Coach Harry Good, in his first year as director of the Husker cage aggregation, has announced that Joe Brown, Claude Retherford, Rod Cox, Joe Loisel and either Ken Anderson or Don McArthur will be the tentative starting lineup for the Scarlet.

Brown, a letterman on last year's NU quintet and sixth high scorer in the Big Six, and Retherford, a French Lick, Indiana, product who played under Good at the University of Indiana in 1943, will probably open at the forwards.

Cox to Start.

Cox amassed over 400 points while playing for the St. Mary's pre-flight team last season and was an outstanding high school player for Lincoln. He will get the nod at center.

Joe Loisel, who received All American honorable mention during his time at Creighton, is set to go at one guard post, while Anderson, a Creston, Iowa, product and McArthur, 6 foot 5 inch athlete who starred at Lincoln high, battle for the other spot on the starting combination.

IM Basketball Play Begins On Thursday

The intramural department has announced that inter-organization basketball play will begin Thursday, Dec. 5. The schedule for this season's play will be released today.

The department has listed the following playing regulations:

No Shifting.

A player who has represented his group in Class "A" games cannot then play on the "B" team, except that he may play during the first scheduled "A" game and then be transferred to the "B" team. A player is permitted to go from a Class "B" team to Class "A" team at any time, but cannot then return to the "B" team.

Referees Wanted

All men interested in officiating intramural basket ball games for the coming season are asked to meet in the N-Club room in the Coliseum at 5 p. m. Tuesday, December 3. Officials will be paid for their services and it is imperative that they attend this meeting if they wish to officiate.

It is the spirit of the rule that an entire Class "A" team may not be shifted to Class "B."

Good sportsmanship also demands that every organization enter its best team in the "A" division. The administrative council reserves the right to determine whether or not a group has complied with this interpretation. Violation will entail loss of points in that sport in which the violation occurred.
