A former university student, Miss Winter was a member of Delta Delta Delta. Mr. Mercer, who served three years in the navy, is a student at Wesleyan university.

Felix Fauntleroy Nominated Write-in Bachelor Candidate

The fillies are going to the post today at Hialeah Park, and the women of the campus are going to the polls to elect eligible bachelors. I think it would be safer to bet on which nag could pound around the clay oval fastest than to attempt to prognosticate the idea of an eligible male held by the average coed.

Eligible Rules.

What makes Joe College eligible? Someone might ask in return, "What qualities are necessary for a girl to become a queen, a princess, a sweetheart or a beauty?" Several Mortar Boards have told me that the men solve that problem very easily. As the outboard girls (motor boats, that is) explained it to me, the men choose the winning girl for all such offices at a nasty faction meeting. From every organized men's house an unshaven thug slips off to a meeting place, any dark cellar. There, with the air thick from three-for-a-nickel stogies a roulette wheel with names instead of numbers is spun three times to get finalist candidates. My female informants didn't know the exact rule used for choosing one winner from the three names obtained, but they were certain that a constant in the algebraic formula was the age of the faction president's grandma.

Now for the Men.

Getting back to voting for men. Noah Webster says that a bachelor is an unmarried man and that eligible means qualified for office or capable of being. Evidently the girls are going to decide which are the most unmarried men on the campus.

If that be true, I would like to present a new candidate, who should win by write-in votes. His name is Felix Fauntleroy. He's well-known in the basement of Bessey hall where he is studying the history, life and loves of the butterfly. He lives all alone and he hates girls.

Modern Dance Groups Feature Juggler Legend

Orchesis, and Pre-Orchesis modern dance groups, will present their annual Christmas dance festival, Wednesday, Dec. 11, 7:30 p. m. in Grant Memorial hall.

Featured on the program is the legendary story of "The Juggler of Notre Dame." Other members to be presented include "O Holy Night," "We Three Kings," "Hark! The Herald Angels Sing," "Jingle Bells," "Adeste Fidelis," and three selections from "The Nutcracker Suite," a Christmas ballet. The three winners of the recent dance intramural competition will present their selections.

Dr. Aileene Lockhart is faculty sponsor of the dance groups and Irma Lou Fisher, student director.

Ragged Edges

BY ELLIE SWANSON

As the Christmas trees begin to blossom forth here and there over the campus, the yuletide spirit seems to be invading the student body. Nearly every fraternity and sorority will give a house party sometime before vacation, and with the two approaching balls, we all ought to be able to forget our studies with no trouble at all.

Holiday Pinnings

There are a few must-be-mentioned events that took place over the last vacation that should be covered before venturing on. Laurie Amend and Byrne Swigert became pinnates officially, and there are two other questionable pinnings.

Bob Baum, visiting in Omaha over Thanksgiving, dated for the first time Wendy Corkin and hung his pin in the course of the evening. He went out with Diane Hayes Saturday night and returned to Lincoln Sunday with Wendy wearing her pledge pin. Along the same line is the disappearance of Bob Farner's pledge pin. Brother Phi Gams noticed it was gone when he returned from a date with a Kappa pledge, but he only smiles.

Passing the candy Monday night were Margy George and Dick Loomis and the Phi Psis had another cigar passing the same evening furnished by Bill Ernst. Jo Moyer passed candy to sister Thetas announcing her engagement to Tom Cleveland. They will be married December 26.

One of the big events of the weekend will be the Sigma Nu Pig Dinner Saturday night. Bill Campbell will be with Sheila Curran, Jo Patton with Jerry Thomas and Marilyn Coffey with Bill Stult. Also dancing to an imported band from Chicago will be Gene Mayborn and his probable pinmate-to-be Arline Peterson.

Looking forward to a big Saturday night in Omaha are Shirley Eskilsen and Bill Moomey accompanied by Marcia Johnson and Bill Wenk.

One recent steady deal which is no longer is the Mimi Loomis and Bob Metheny duo. It seems that they are still very good friends and will keep their dates to both Mortar Board and Military Balls.

Another party to be given Saturday night will be the Gamma Phi Moon Mist party. A few to be seen in the mist will be Marilyn Diestel and Tom Milliken, Ardie Smith and Knox Kuppinger and Barb Johnson and Al Mavis.

It seems that the Tri Deltas received a note from some Phi Gam which was strangely and unaccountably posted on the second floor bulletin board. The note was addressed to one of the girls and concerned her dating habits in the Fiji house humn.

And now for a few dates to the Military Ball. Laurie Morse will be with Cletus Fischer, Jim Moore with Nancy Mines (they are not pinned and never were) and Jeanne Samson and John Dierks. Betty Hubka will make a big weekend of it by going with Jack Meehan to the Ball and Felman Jones to the Sigma Nu Pig Dinner.—Jeanne Hickey will be with Hank Anderson, Merle Shay with Joy Lyman and the common duo of Barb Turk and Davie Miller.

The Sig Ep pledges are also throwing their Christmas party this Saturday. Bob Graves will be there with Beverly Stenberg and Martin Almquist with Alice Mason.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Lebsock have announced the approaching marriage of their daughter, Elaine, to Edward Anderson Ceyes of Brooklyn, N. Y. They are to be married, Dec. 7. Miss Lebsock, a graduate of the university, was a member of Delta Omicron, national music sorority. Last spring she was named the winner of student auditions of the Lincoln Symphony Association. A former army air corps captain, Mr. Ceyes is now associated with Trans-Western airlines in New York.
