

Ragged Edges

BY JERRY JACUPKE.

Now that the first weekend of 1947 is gradually drifting into our memories, we can lift our faces expectantly to the weekend to come. For many it has been an indication of a grand future, but others have merely heaved a sigh and are hoping for better things to come.

Jack "Cowboy" Clow, after seeing "The Westerner" went right down to buy one of the loudest cowpoke shirts we have ever seen. He doesn't have a mule, but we saw him leading Pat Toof around the other day.

Petie Hughes can be quoted as saying, "I can speak from experience when I say that an ATO pin, besides being the hardest to get is hardest to deep . . . What is it about those pins that the fellows love so?" After the last couple of weeks we wonder just where all of the pins have disappeared.

Sales Going Down.

Downtown recreation parlor proprietors are a little worried about post-holiday business since Joe Partington, Howie Mengshol, Tut McKee, Fred Metheny, Bud Johnson and Doc Farmer have all taken the pledge. Sales are definitely down, but we feel they won't stay that way long.

Ralph "Bog" Wagner received an ident bracelet from Lincoln high coed inscribed "Happiness will be ours someday" (Cradle Robber,—isn't young love grand?)

The DG's are waiting for Dot Manion and Bill Orr to pass the candy. Don't keep them in suspense, kids. Get it over with.

Mimi Hahn and Karl Miller were pinned again at Christmas time. They were pinned last Christmas, too, but broke up.

Sigma Kappa house president Jean Lock was overheard to say that she doesn't wear glasses, even though she needs them because they remind her of being behind bars. My, my, Jean, when and where did you do a stretch? It's the women with a past who interest us.

Contrary to what some of the coeds have said about Mimi Johnson being hard hearted, we have found that she's really a soft hearted, lovable little beauty. Otherwise, why was she holding hands and gazing deep into the eyes of Howard Pavelsek right in the Union. But to top it off, that very afternoon, she was seen at the movies with George Peters and to say holding hands would be putting it mild.

Shopping Around.

Claudia Retherford, when asked to name the latest woman in his life, looked away wistfully, and said, "I just can't seem to find one to interest me." We noticed, however, that he was nearly knocking himself out to make time with Mimi Loomis last week.

Lou Rowley is at it again. She certainly tired of her last affair very rapidly. Lou heard that Jerry Anderson wanted a date with her. So she fulfilled the dear boy's dream this weekend. We predict it to be his first and last.

Estes Auction Raises Funds For YM-YW

By Phil Raynard.

The Estes Auction held jointly Friday night by the Ag YM and YWCA, although new event replacing the annual Estes Carnival, was definitely a success, both socially and financially.

The Novel variety show and auction attracted student interest immediately and many goods and services sold for prices that would certainly have been frowned upon by the recently abandoned OPA.

The event of the evening was the supreme sacrifice of $12.55 by Beryl Damkroger for the maid service of Maurine Steyer and Viola Vosika for one meal. Keith Fredrickson gave $8.25 to get the Farm House silver polished by Kay Kingery and Harriett Moline.

Bob Sim and Norm Reynolds will wash dishes in Unit B of Love Hall for $6 and Bob Bob Chilvers bid $6.50 for a carton of Student Union gum. Numerous other offerings, including a live, laying hen, brought worthwhile prices.

Auctioneers Bob Miller and Gordon Lippitt kept the show rolling by alternating the positions of handling the gavel, circulating through the crowd, and selling hot dogs a 25 cents apiece.

The proceeds of the show, which netted well over a hundred dollars, will be used to help finance future delegations to the summer regional YM-YW conference in Estes Park, Colorado.

for Lou is probably using him as a fill-in between bigger and better rushes.

Take Heed.

NOTICE! Chuck Mulvaney has issued a warning to all hands on campus. Stay away from Gloria Stevens. He had her weekend completely filled. He plans to tie up that package for himself tonight. All the luck in the world, Chuck.

Faculty Swim

A recreational swimming period for faculty members and their families will be held Monday evening, Jan. 13, at the coliseum pool from 7:30 to 9:30 p. m., according to the intramural department.

Classified

LOST—Ladies Colmay watch. Ph. 5-6921.

JANUARY CLEARANCE

1/2 block So. 13th & "O"

Many Items Reduced 50% or More

Have Your Campus Clerks

- Ginny Pester
- Donnie Wagner

Show You These and Other Outstanding Values

"Come in and browse with Fellow Huskers"

Listen to KFOR

Sunday 1:25 P. M. For "That Reminds Me"

and the Details of An Exciting Contest

Del Lienemann, '41, Pres. Charlotte Peck Lienemann, '45, Mgr.

OWNED BY HUSKER GRADS

Kappa Phi Group Hears Addresses By Four Alums

Kappa Phi, Methodist girls' group, held its first meeting of the year at the Wesley Foundation Wednesday evening, with the program presented by the alumni.

"We Must Be the World We Want in Our Work," was the topic for the program. Speakers were Ida Anderson, x-ray and physical therapy technician; Gladys Lux, an artist; Louis Snapp, owner of a book store, and Mrs. Dale Weeks. Following the program, members of the alumni served refreshments.

At the meeting plans were made for initiation to be held January 19 at Emmanuel church.

Bulletin

ASCE Meeting.
The regular meeting of the American Society of Chemical Engineers will feature a talk on "Physiological Tests in Chemical Engineering," by Prof. C. M. Harsh on Jan. 15, at 7:15 p. m. in room 102 of Avery laboratory. Vaughn Gaddis, publicity chairman of the group also announced a short business meeting following Prof. Harsh' talk.

Presbyterian Forum.
Chancellor and Mrs. Gustavson will be guests at the fellowship hour at the Presbyterian Student House this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Chancellor Gustavson will speak at the fireside forum on the topic, "Atomic Energy and Its Peace-Time Uses."

Graduate Student Group Schedules Constitution Meet

Bill Gaines, temporary chairman of the university graduate club, will present the club constitution prepared by the provisional executive committee when the organization holds its second meeting Thursday evening in the faculty lounge of the Union.

The business meeting will be followed by a discussion period. According to Gaines, any graduate student may attend the meeting.

French Language Group Organizes

Taking final steps to complete organization of the club, Le Cercle Francais, French language group, heard and discussed a constitution drawn up by Cercle member Duane Adams.

Sending of relief packages to France this winter and the possibility of a campus drive for clothing for Shipment to France, sponsored by Le Cercle Francais, were proposed.

Judging Team Places Fourth In Stock Show

Results have been received from the livestock and wool judging contests held Friday at the Western Stock Show in Denver, and the Nebraska junior team placed fourth as a team in all classes of livestock and also fourth as a team in wool judging.

The team, composed of Dillard Huffaker, Don Jensen, Ned Raun, Rick Wahlstrom and John Branch, was coached by Oscar Tegtmeyer, assistant professor of Animal Husbandry at ag college.

In addition to the team placings, Dillard Huffaker placed eighth in all classes of livestock, Ned Raun was second in fat classes, and Don Jensen was fifth individual in breeding classes. Raun was third high in the wool contest and Huffaker was eighth individual.

Including all competition this year, the Animal Husbandry department's record is: The senior team, second in both the American Royal and International Livestock Exposition, and the junior team, fourth place at Denver.

BROOKS & SIMONS

Our Forty-First Year!

Terrifically Tailored

Tailored and superbly cut by Tailorbrooke . . . Who shows a master hand with BOTANY'S "Helo Twill," pays superb attention to detail, as in the hand picked edges and slashed pockets, 10 to 18.

$35

EXCLUSIVELY AT SIMONS!

Suits, Fourth Floor

JANUARY CLEARANCE

Men's Wool Shirts

20% off

Plains, Plaids, Sport or Dress

Wells & Frost Co.

128-132 North 10th Street