

Jayhawks To Test UN Quintet

WATCH THIS FOE—Heading the invading Kansas basketball club is Charles Black, superlative forward, who is one of the nation's top basketball performers. Black is especially adept at rebounding and catching passes with one hand.

Huskers Must Halt Kansas Scoring Aces

Another chapter in the topsy-turvy epic that is the Big Six basketball race will be unfolded Tuesday night at the coliseum at 8 p. m. when the lively Nebraska Cornhuskers, fresh from an upset win over Oklahoma, attempt to repeat the stunt against the Kansas Jayhawks.

The once-proud Kansans from down on the Kaw have taken their lumps this season and are now resting on the bottom rung of the conference ladder. Missouri's Tigers and the rebounding Oklahoma Sooners each hung a loop defeat on the Jayhawks.

Things like that just don't happen to teams coached by wily Phog Allen, the Kansas basketball mentor. In 36 years of coaching Allen has been on the losing side only 119 times while his teams have won 623 contests.

Early season results have indicated that the Big Six champion will not be undefeated, but another loss for the Kansans would be fatal to their title hopes.

Coach Harry Good will have his Huskers primed to deliver just that blow. Last week's 44-41 win over Oklahoma gave the Scarlett hoopsters a needed boost and the Nebraska hoopsters will be ready to shoot the works against the Jayhawks.

Surprise Team.

Overlooked in preseason forecasts, the Huskers are now in the thick of the championship thick of the championship scramble. Nebraska is tied for second place with Kansas State, Iowa State and Oklahoma, each boasting a win and a loss, so Tuesday's warfare will find the Goodmen shooting for more than just an upset triumph.

If the Huskers are to be successful against the Jayhawks they will have to figure out a way to handcuff a trio of KU standouts. Forwards Charlie Black and Otto Schnellbacher and Guard, Ray Evans constitute a gilded scoring triangle which has been hard to stop.

Charlie "The Hawk" Black, 6-foot 4 1/2 inch forward, is a two-time All-American who paced Big Six scorers last season with 173 points in 10 games. Black is a tiptop defensive man and is usually given the job of guarding the opposing team's scoring ace. The willowy Jayhawk has been called the greatest player in Kansas history.

Schnellbacher, the other forward, was an all-Big Six selection last year and won all-conference honors in football as an end. He is an expert rebounder and specializes in one hand shots.

Defensive Ace.

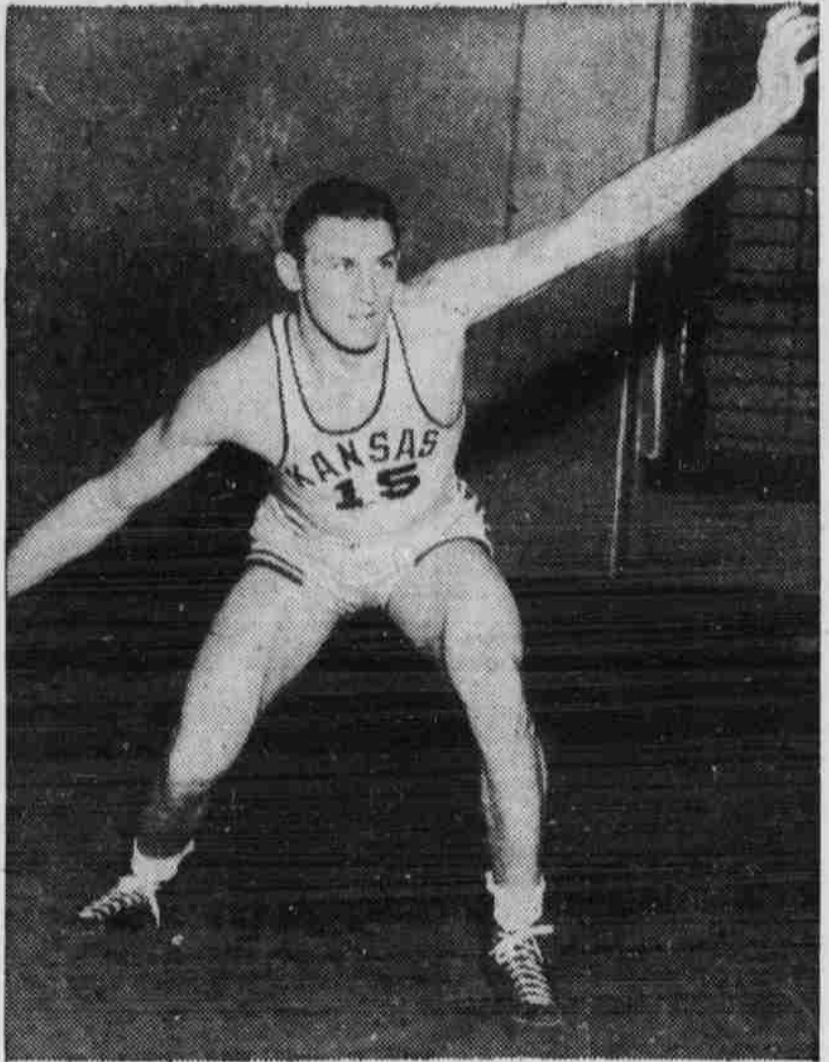

Evans is the balance wheel of the Kansas aggregation, an all-Big Six choice in 1942 and 1943. Riflin' Ray achieved his greatest fame as football player and is a durable defensive player on the hardwoods.

Against this trio of stars the Huskers will have Claude Retherford, dead-eye forward who specializes in shots from well out on the court. The French Lick, Indiana, ace is leading the Nebraska pointmakers with 133 points.

Lanky Don MacArthur may get the nod at center if his injured knee has healed sufficiently. McArthur is the tallest man on the squad at 6 feet 5 inches and has racked up 108 points this season. If McArthur is not ready to go, Dick Schleiger, who turned in a fine performance against Oklahoma, will open at the pivot post.

The remainder of the Nebraska starting lineup will include Joe Loisel, rugged backcourt star and Joe Brown, Nashville, Tennessee, hotshot at guards, and Rodney Cox, former Lincoln high ace, at the other forward.

Probable starting lineups:
6ck eCox
Kansas Nebraska
Otto Schnellbacher f. Claude Retherford
Charlie Black f. Rodney Cox
Orbon Tice c. Dick Schleiger
Ray Evans g. Joe Loisel
Wendell Clark g. Joe Brown
Officials: Cliff Ogden, Kansas City, Mo.; Ronald Gibbs, Springfield, Ill.
Coach Jerry Adam at the coliseum.

RAY EVANS—Kansas guard will be in action for Coach Phog Allen's outfit when the Huskers meet the Jayhawks tonight in a Big Six game. Evans is a heady floor man and a dangerous clutch shotmaker.

Track Next On IM Slate

Entries for the intramural indoor track meet are due not later than 5:00 January 20, Room 207, in the coliseum. Any male student in the university may enter the meet as an independent or as part of a team. - 9:15—4-lap relay (four men each lap).

All lanes, positions and section will be drawn in advance by lot. Contestants must be on time at proper place, as events will not be held up to accommodate late arrivals. Track letter men from any college or university are ineligible.

Student Delegates Describe Toronto Missionary Meet

Reporting on the International Student Convention for Missionary Advance at Toronto, Canada, five students addressed the meetings of Inter-varsity Christian fellowship recently.

The representatives, John Gee, Marvin Miller, Jeanne Swedberg, Carol Johnson and Bob Nilson, met with 647 other delegates from the United States, Canada, Mexico, Costa Rica, Porto Rica, Trinidad, India, Iceland and France at the convention. 151 colleges and universities were represented.

Speakers at the conference included Bakht Singh, evangelist and teacher from India and Rev. S. M. Zwemer, D. D., editor of "The Moslem World," and missionary to Islam. The topic discussed at the conference was "Completing Christ's Commission."

Nubbins Hope For Cage Win From Midland

The Nubbins-Midland college game will open Tuesday night's basketball action at 6:30 p.m., as the Husker B team bids for its fourth win.

Midland coach, John Pfitsch, was assistant coach to "Phog" Allen of Kansas last year. His team finished in a tie for second place in the recent York invitational basketball tournament, winning two games while losing one. The bulk of the Midland point making has been done by forwards Rich Rankin and Bob Hahn.

Nubbins coach W. D. "Tony" Sharpe has announced the players who will suit up for the game. They are Fred Simpson, Anton Lawry, Dick Srb, Bill Denker, the much improved Mel Williams, Thurman Wright, Matt Keating, Bob Schl eiger, Don Bauer, Bernie Bieterman, Bob Robinson, Jim Van Burgh, Sam Vacanti, Bill Sauer, Al Berquist, Don Dufphey, Doyle Busskohl, Jim Swanson, Bill Wenke, and Don Rice.

A breakdown of statistics on the three "B" games to date reveal that Mel Williams is the leading scorer, having 24 points to his credit. Next in line is Anton Lawry with 17, followed by Sam Vacanti with 15 points, and Bob Robinson and Fred Simpson with 14.

NUBBINS.	MIDLAND.
Fred Simpson.	Rich Rankin.
Anton Lawry.	Bob Hahn.
Dick Srb.	Myron Draemel.
Mel Williams.	Aiton Wilhelms.
Bill Decker.	Gene Vusseier.

Outside Activities For Uni Athletes

Lou Means, director of physical education, has announced two off-campus sports activities which may be of interest to university students.

First is the annual Midwest Table Tennis championship tournament at Omaha on Jan. 25-26. Entries, obtainable at 207 Coliseum, must be filed before Jan. 22.

The other event is the Lincoln Golden Gloves championship tournament sponsored by the American Legion. This tourney will be held at the state fair grounds on Thursday night of this week. All entrants are to be carefully weighed and checked prior to the matches. Entry blanks may be secured from

Student Swim Party Slated

Swimming Coach Hollie Lepley has announced a student co-recreational swimming party at the coliseum pool from 7:00 to 8:30, Jan. 15.

All students are invited, and may bring their husbands, wives, or dates. Participants in the party are asked to bring their own suits.
