

Colorado Expects Rough Time Against Conference Opponents

BOULDER, Colo.—Members of the Big Six conference have extended the hand of welcome to the University of Colorado but coaches of the Buffalo athletic teams know that the other hand holds a club.

But the mentors, to a man, welcome the rugged competition to be offered by Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa State, Oklahoma, Kansas State and Missouri in the new Mid-West circuit and have no regrets that the habit of dominating the Big Seven conference is near its end.

Tough League.

"It's a tough league," says Head Football Coach Jim Yeager—and he should know. As head coach of Iowa State's Cyclones from 1917 to 1940, "Gentleman Jim" battled the odds when Tom Stidham's rugged Oklahoma Sooners and the mighty Nebraska Cornhuskers under "Biff" Jones ranked among the top teams in the nation. Only Don Faurot of Missouri remains of the coaches who matched punts and passes with Yeager but the caliber of the teams has remained at the high level.

The Buffs have been competing with members of the old Big Six circuit since before the turn of the century and victories for the Rocky Mountain lads have been scarce. C. U. football teams have batted only .250 in winning eight, losing 21 and tying three.

On the basketball court, Colorado has won six against 13 losses for a .315 figure.

Yeager's record against Big Six teams since he became head man here in 1941 consists of a victory over Iowa State and three losses to Missouri. "Frosty" Cox, the basketball mentor, has won four and lost five against Big Six squads since he came to Boulder in 1935.

Scarlet Matmen To Entertain Spartans Monday

Coach Jerry Adams' Husker wrestling squad will make its last start of the season Monday night against the strong Michigan State matmen at the coliseum at 8 p. m.

The match will be the last home appearance for the Scarlet team which will compete in the Big Six championships on Friday and Saturday at Kansas State.

Burl Boring, 175 pounder, and Gayle Mickle, classy 165 pound scrapper, pace the Michigan State outfit.

Prom Band . . .

In the following two years, he conducted seven CBS shows, doing experimental research in composing and arranging.

One of the highlights of the 1946 Broadway season was the score of the Mary Martin musical comedy hit, "Lute Song," composed by Scott. Soon after he had completed the score, he went on tour again.

Composer of 200 Pieces.

Composer of more than 200 pieces of music, Scott's more famous compositions are "The Toy Trumpet," "Twilight in Turkey," "In an Eighteenth Century Drawing Room," "Enchanted Forest," "Siberian Sleigh Ride" and Birdseed Special.

Candidates for Prom Girl are to be announced as soon as independent filings have been completed Tuesday afternoon, Jo Ackerman, committee chairman, announced. Other members of the committee are Dake Novotny, Bill Swanson, Jean Compton, Fred Teller, Bill Thornburg, Dina Buckingham, Darrell Devoe, Mary Dye and Pat Raun.

Council Corner

by Sam Warren

Suggested revisions of the Student Council constitution, including articles governing spring elections, were reported in full by Ned Raun's committee at this week's Council meeting. If approved by the Council at next week's meeting, the revisions will go before the student body April 1 for final vote. Changes affecting membership of the vital Judiciary Committee, qualifications for Council officers, and other revisions in addition to election rules, were included.

Adelphi, social organization for unaffiliated women, received official sanction upon Council approval of its constitution.

Remembering that the Union basement has proved unsatisfactory as the scene of election polls, the Council discussed other possible locations, and decided upon the Union Ballroom where sufficient space will be available for the four voting classifications.

The Council moved to use funds from its miscellaneous budget expenses to defray registration fees of Nebraska's delegates to the regional conference of the National Students Organization, a project sponsored by student councils all over the nation. Three men, and a woman yet to be chosen will represent the university.
