Last Chance

All ballots in the New York Herald-Tribune all star game election must be mailed today if they are to count in the returns. One player from Nebraska may be named on the ballot, which is for members of the West basketball team which will play a similar East team on March 29 at Madison Square Garden.

Sigma Phi Epsilon Leads Entry List in Intramural Boxing Meet

The 1947 University of Nebraska boxing championships will get under way in the coliseum Tuesday night, March 18, and will continue through March 19 and 21.

The all-university championships promise some real action with about 60 men entered and practicing daily. Team honors should be hotly contested with Sigma Phi Epsilon entering the largest group, and therefore a favorite to cop the first place trophy. Other houses in the running, however, will be Phi Delta Theta, Beta Theta Pi, Pioneer Co-op, Delta Upsilon, and the newly reorganized Tau Kappa Epsilon group.

Outstanding Boxers

Among the outstanding boxers of a year ago who should be favorites in their respective weight divisions will be John Sedlacek, on two seconds in the backstroke events.

Bart Greenber, breast stroker, scored five points on five thirds, while Bill Case, diver, chalked up six points on one second and three thirds. Frank Kinzie, backstroke, and Bob Stone, distance man, tied up the swimming scoring with a point apiece, each on individual third places.

heavyweight champion of last year and a football tackle; Chick Thorne and Jack Adams, who both went to last year's finals in the 175 pound class with Thorne winning the title; Harlan Cranton, another outstanding 175 pounder of the 1946 tournament; Russ Chaney and Al Heickes in the 165 pound class; Ernie Moehner and Ken Fischer in the 155 pound class; Gordon Hall, football tackle, in the heavyweight class; Mickey Kelley, 130 pounder and wrestling letter man, and many others who undoubtedly will surprise the favorites when the gong sounds for action.

Tuesday night, March 18, some 15 matches will be staged in the coliseum. Ringside reserved seats are now available at 207 Coliseum for all three nights. The final championship bouts will be held Friday night at 8:00. Some of the first round matches, and several semifinal matches will be staged Wednesday night, March 19. The champions in each weight division will be awarded miniature golden gloves. Winners of second place in each weight division will receive the new University intramural medal. The first and second place teams will receive team trophies.
