

NU Gridders To Try Spring Grid Opening

Coach Bernie Masterson will try again in his efforts to get spring football drills underway for Husker gridgers. Poor weather and the flu epidemic conspired to delay the original opening date one week.

New additions to the Nebraska coaching staff, Line Coach Tony Blazine and Backfield Coach Douglas Russell, will be anxious to get a look at the Scarlet prospects in action.

One of the problems that will face Bernie Masterson and his staff will be to find a replacement for Quarterback Sam Vacanti.

Sam has decided to play professional football altho he has not yet signed a contract. He needs but eight hours to graduate and will enroll for these in summer school.

Another problem that confronts the staff is to outfit and direct the efforts of all the players who want to report.

There are 150 lockers available. These have been assigned and gear placed in them by Equipment Manager Floyd Bottorff. An overflow list of half a hundred more are hoping for a chance to obtain equipment.

Equipment Problem.

"Just how we can take care of all the young men who want to play has us stopped," Coach Masterson said. "We want to issue a suit to every boy who has the desire to play football. But there is a saturation point in both lockers and equipment.

"As a result our staff is haunted by the fear that we may overlook some potential star. It would have to be some fellow who had never played before because we have screened the list closely. But there are some of these lads on every campus," Coach Masterson said.

The list of players by position shows but one change in the veterans returning. Francis Mandula has been switched from an end position to guard. Those who have been assigned lockers:

Water Polo League Set For Action

Teams participating in water polo leagues are set to start action Monday, March 17. Lou Means, director of student physical welfare, has mapped out a schedule that will terminate April 21. The teams are divided into three leagues, with each team playing a minimum of five games.

At the conclusion of the regular schedule, the winners of the first two positions of each league will enter the playoff that will determine the six top positions.

Monday's Schedule:

5:10 Alpha Tau Omega vs. Delta Upsilon.
5:18 Phi Kappa Psi vs. Theta.
5:25 Phi Kappa Psi vs. Theta X. Sigma.

Water Polo is counted as a major sport in the Jack Best standings this year. It has long been regarded as one of the rougher sports on the intramural calendar, and for that reason should prove interesting throughout the season. Games will be played to five minute halves. Due to the ruggedness of the game, the halves will be staggered thus allowing the teams to have a rest period between periods.

All games will be played between 5 and 6 p. m.

Phi Gamma Delta Basketeers To Play Hufnagle Field Crew

By Lee Harris.

Monday afternoon at 5:00 in the coliseum, the Hufnagle Field five will meet Phi Gamma Delta in a contest to decide the overall champion of the intramural basketball teams.

Hufnagle wound up its season by polishing off the V-5 quintet in the finals of the independent playoff. Before this, Hufnagle had hung up an impressive record of eight wins in regular season play.

Fischers Lead.

With the exception of the first three minutes in their final contest with the V-5's, the Hufnagle boys were never on the short end of the score. Led by the Fischer brothers, Kenny and Cletus, this independent team played the kind of ball all year that tabbed them as true champions. They play a slow style game, usually making the opposition play the way they want them to play.

Turning to the fraternity champions, the Phi Gams looked equally good during the season play. The only blemish on their record is a regular season loss to a strong Delta Upsilon five. Phi Gamma Delta finished second in regular league play, but managed to hang on when it counted most to come through with the fraternity championship for the second straight year.

Led by Capt. Jim Myers, the Phi Gams looked good in both their playoff games as they turned in a one-point win over a powerful Beta Theta Pi team, and a three-point victory over the pre-tourney favorites, Sigma Chi. In both these games, the Fijis got the breaks when they needed them, and in both games they took full advantage of them.

The game will finish off the intramural season in basketball, and should prove to be the best game of the year. The teams look well balanced in all departments with the Hufnagle boys having a slight edge in records.
