

Student Federalists Will Hold Study Group Thursday Night

Student Federalists will hold a study group Thursday evening at 7:00 p. m. in the Faculty Lounge of the Union to discuss the general topic of "Sovereignty." The discussion meeting is open to all people interested in the subject and who are interested in the relationship of this intangible national freedom in regard to modern international activities and the possible creation of a Federal World Government.

Charles Bergoffen, Political Science major, will lead the discussion, giving a brief talk on the subject before opening discussion from the floor.

Questions

There are many questions that arise in regard to sovereignty that are difficult to answer because of the various concepts that exist in the definition of the term. It can be asked, is "sovereignty" (a) non-existent, (b) only applicable to domestic and not foreign affairs, (c) something which applies in foreign affairs but limited as the liberty of the individual is in domestic affairs or, (d) unlimited power which cannot be destroyed without destroying the state.

In commenting on the discussion of sovereignty, Bergoffen stated, "An understanding of sovereignty and its implications is basic to any intelligent discussion of world problems and world peace." He pointed out that the various conceptions that will be presented will undoubtedly prove interesting.

In announcing this study group, Dorothy Lasher, Secretary of the university's Student Federalist chapter, stated that such a discussion will give interested people an excellent opportunity to discover exactly what the Student Federalists stand for and exactly what Federal World Government means, particularly in regard to its relationship to national sovereignty. The discussion will also give those people who oppose the creation of a universal federal government an opportunity to present and argue their case.

Henry V Records Features Program

Musical recordings taken from the background music of "Henry V" will be played in room 24 of the Temple at 5:20 this afternoon. The program will last approximately twenty minutes, and will feature the highspots of the movie's background music.

The music, composed by William Walton, is played by the London Symphony orchestra under the direction of Muir Mathieson. Recordings of the music used in the battle scenes and in the love scenes are the outstanding numbers that will be played.

Grades

Grade cards for the first semester will be distributed from the office of admissions in the administration building between 9 a. m. and 4 p. m. as follows:

A to G inclusive—Wednesday, March 19; H to N inclusive—Thursday, March 20; O to Z inclusive—Friday, March 21.

Students must present their identification cards when calling for grades.

Calling All Cobs!

An eleventh-hour chance for Corn Cob workers to assure their initiation, being planned for the near future, will be explained at a worker's meeting tonight at 5 p. m. in the Corn Cob office, third floor of the Union.

The new project will demand work hours this week, and workers are required to attend. Required also is that each worker wear his Cob sweater to remind workers of tonight's meeting. Workers are also asked to bring "N" book sales money, according to Sam Warren, notifications chairman.

Welfare Council Discussion Groups Will Meet Tonight

Religious Welfare council sponsored discussion groups will meet tonight at 7:30, according to YMCA Secretary Gordon Lipitt.

Christian Faith and Action will talk about "Social Action in the Community." Their meeting will be held as usual in the west lecture room of the library with Mrs. Roscoe Hill supervising.

"Psychology of Family Life" will be the topic taken up by the Preparation for Marriage commission when it meets in the YMCA lounge of the Temple. Mrs. Angeline Anderson, instructor on Ag campus, will lead the discussion.

Rev. Robert Drew will continue heading the Bible Study group in their study of "The Life of Jesus."

Notice on army bulletin board: "Court martial docket jammed. Any soldier desirous of violating articles of war will please postpone action for ten days."

Dial Twistings . . .

By LEE HARRIS

For a quick moment of relaxation after a fast and exciting morning of activity, let me suggest that you catch the 15 minute Fred Waring show offered at 11 this morning over NBC.

At 12:15 your local radio station, KFOR, brings you the opportunity to "Stroll Between the Book Ends" with Ted Malone, who relates to his vast audience of listeners those old favorites that bring back pleasant memories.

Passing thru the day, we find one of the best news summaries may be brought into your place of listening merely by changing your dial to 590 at 6:15. You will then be tuned to NBC again, and at your service will be the News of The World program bringing the latest news from around the world as told by newscasters stationed thruout the universe.

By sticking to the same network, NBC, you may sit back and enjoy the Great Gildersleeve at 7:30 tonight. "Gildie" is a sure thing when it comes to bringing laughs from his audience as he chases nephew "Leroy" or becomes involved in a complicated scheme. Following thru on the top shows for tonight: Frank Sinatra takes to the air over KFAB at 8:00 this evening for his weekly half-hour song and variety show. Following the Sinatra show is Mr. District Attorney.

Continuing the follow-up of programs classified as the better choices for radio listening tonight, we skip back to KFAB at 9:30 for the recently returned Information Please program. Information Please is another nationally broadcast CBS production which lasts for one half-hour.

Campus Tunes and Chatter are your best bet in the way of popular recordings for tonight. The time for this show is set for 11:00 over station KFOR. By now the major part of the day's radio listening will have been completed; only dance music will then remain on the schedule which ends at midnight.
